Acknowledgments

Many persons participated in the diverse activities of the 1980 census. These acknowledgments generally reflect staff during the post-census data publication process. The Bureau was guided by Director, Bruce Chapman, and Deputy Director, C. L. Kincannon. Primary direction of the data publication program was performed by William P. Butz, Associate Director for Demographic Fields, assisted by Peter A. Boupanne, Assistant Director for Demographic Censuses, in conjunction with Barbara A. Bailar, Associate Director for Statistical Standards and Methodology, Howard N. Hamilton, Acting Associate Director for Information Technology, James D. Lincoln, then Associate Director for Administration, and Stanley D. Moore, Associate Director for Field Operations. The Director's staff was assisted by Sherry L. Courtland. Direction of the census enumeration and early processing activities was provided by Vincent P. Barabba, former Director; Daniel B. Levine, former Deputy Director; and George E. Hall, former Associate Director.

Responsibility for the overall planning, coordinating, processing and publication of the 1980 census was in the Decennial Census Division under the direction of Stanley D. Matchett, Chief, assisted by Rachel F. Brown and Roger O. Lepage, Assistant Division Chiefs. The following Branch Chiefs were responsible for support services; Donald R. Dalzell, Judith A. McKay, Stephen E. Goldman, Dennis W. Stoudt, and Richard R. Warren. The Outlying Areas Branch was under the direction of Irma F. Harahush, Acting Branch Chief.

Responsibility for developing the population portion of the 1980 census questionnaire content and designing the tabulations in this report was in the Population Division, under the supervision of Roger A. Herriot, Chief, Paula J. Schneider, Staff Assistant for Census Programs, and Gordon W. Green, Jr., Nampeo D. McKenney, and Arthur J. Norton, Assistant Division Chiefs. Important contributions were made by the following Branch and Staff Chiefs: Patricia A. Berman, Edward W. Fernandez, Philip N. Fulton, Martin O'Connell, George F. Patterson, Thomas S. Scopp, Paul M. Siegel, Robert C. Speaker, James A. Weed, and Arno I. Winard. Also contributing were Amara Bachu, Rosalind Bruno, Arthur R. Cresce, Diana DeAre, Carol Fendler, Thomas Gelinne, Robert O. Grymes, Kristin A. Hansen, Jane Ingold, Mark S. Littman, Edith McArthur, Thomas J. Palumbo, Peggy Payne, Gloria J. Porter, John A. Priebe, Rosemarie Simpson, and Nancy Sweet.

The systems design and computer programs necessary for this report were prepared by William L. Peil and Dan Burkhead, Decennial Census Division.

Administration support was provided by the Administrative Services Division, Robert L. Kirkland, Chief, and William C. Fanning, Assistant Chief.

Computer processing was performed in the Computer Operations Division, C. Thomas DiNenna, Chief, James E. Steed, George M. Bowden, and Joseph J. Sferretta, Assistant Chiefs.

Questionnaire processing procedures were developed in the Decennial Processing Staff, James S. Werking, then Chief, under the direction of Harry O'Haver, then Assistant Chief. The clerical coding and microfilming of the sample questionnaires were performed at the Laguna Niguel Processing Office, Robert N. Scheller, Chief.

User services were provided by the Data User Services Division under the supervision of Michael G. Garland, Chief, Marshall L. Turner, Jr., and Paul T. Zeisset, Assistant Chiefs.

Data collection activities were supervised in the Field Division by Lawrence T. Love, Chief, under the direction of Richard Blass, Charles Hancock, and George T. Reiner, Assistant Chiefs, with the assistance of the directors and assistant directors of the Bureau's regional offices.

Geographic programs and plans were developed in the Geography Division under the direction of Joseph J. Knott, Robert W. Marx, and Silla G. Tomasi, Assistant Chiefs, and Donald I. Hirschfeld, Special Assistant.

Publications editing, design, composition, and printing procurement were performed by the staff of the Publications Services Division, Raymond J. Koski, Chief; Milton S. Andersen, Arlene C. Duckett, and Gerald A. Mann, Branch Chiefs.

The Statistical Methods Division was largely responsible for weighting sample data and producing variance estimates. This work was supervised by Charles D. Jones, Chief; Susan M. Miskura and Robert T. O'Reagan, Assistant Chiefs. Important contributions were made by David H. Diskin, Milton C. Fan, Thomas W. Harahush, Robert S. Jewett, J. Kim, Teresa A. Passalacqua, Charles E. Talbert, John H. Thompson, and Henry F. Wolman.

The system design, technical specifications, assembly, and installation of the FOSDIC and Automated Camera Technology System were the responsibility of the Technical Services Division, C. Thomas DiNenna, Acting Chief, and Robert J. Varson, Branch Chief.

Many other persons participated in the various activities of the 1980 census. For a list of key personnel, refer to the History of the 1980 Census of Population and Housing, (PHC80-R2).

GENERAL

This report is part of the Detailed Population Characteristics series and presents cross-classifications of sample data from the 1980 Census of Population on social and economic characteristics of the residents of Puerto Rico. In addition to data for Puerto Rico as a whole, most tables present data for standard metropolitan statistical areas (SMSA's) of 250,000 or more inhabitants, and a few tables show data for central cities of these SMSA's. Selected tables show data for the rural population of Puerto Rico.

The abbreviated identification for this report is PC80-1-D (i.e., Population Census, 1980, Volume 1, Chapter D) followed by number 53 representing Puerto Rico. A large portion of the information compiled from the 1980 Census of Population appears in Volume 1, Characteristics of the Population, of which this report is part. Legal provision for this census, which was conducted as of April 1, 1980, was made in the Act of Congress of August 31, 1954 (amended August 1957, December 1975, and October 1976) which codified Title 13, United States Code.

The population figures for the various geographic entities shown here may differ from those shown in the Advance Report, PHC80-V. The differences reflect correction of errors found after the PHC80-V report was prepared. The changes may affect any geographic area shown in this report. Differences may also result from the weighting technique used to inflate the sample figures shown in this report to 100-percent population control totals. For further discussion of the estimation procedure, see appendix D.

The content and procedures of the 1980 census were determined after evaluation of the results of the 1970 census, consultation with a wide variety of users of census data, and extensive field testing. A number of changes were introduced in 1980 to improve the usefulness of the census results. The changes do not, however, affect to any appreciable extent the comparability between the 1980 census data and the 1970 census data for most characteristics. Further information on comparability for specific subjects appears in Appendix B, "Definitions and Explanations of Subject Characteristics."

More detailed information on the technical and procedural matters covered in the text of this report can be obtained by writing to the Director, Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20233. Such information will also appear in other publications of the 1980 census.

CONTENTS OF THE REPORT

This report contains a text (this introduction and five appendixes), a table of contents, detailed tables, and two maps. A map of Puerto Rico appears after the table of contents and shows municipio names and boundaries, the names and boundaries of the standard consolidated statistical area and standard metropolitan statistical areas, the names and locations of all places with a population of 25,000 or more, and SMSA central cities with fewer than 25,000 inhabitants.

Each detailed table is identified by a table number and title. The "stubhead" at the left under the title defines the types of geographic areas for which data are shown in the particular table and is considered part of the table title. The first table in this report is table 93; tables 1 through 13 appear in the Number of Inhabitants, PC80-1-A, report for Puerto Rico, tables 14 through 39 appear in the PC80-1-B report for Puerto Rico, General Population Characteristics, and tables 40 through 92 appear in the PC80-1-C report, General Social and Economic Characteristics, for Puerto Rico. The tables include detailed categories and cross-classifications of the social and economic characteristics collected in the 1980 Census of Population, including age, marital status, household relationship, education, labor force, occupation, industry, income, and poverty.

Appendix A describes the various area classifications (e.g., SMSA's). Appendix B provides definitions and explanations for the subjects covered in this report. Appendix C explains the residence rules used in counting the population and describes the data collection and processing procedures. Appendix D presents information on the sources of error in the data, editing procedures, and a description of allocation and substitution. Appendix E contains facsimiles of the 1980 census questionnaire pages showing population questions.

SYMBOLS AND GEOGRAPHIC ABBREVIATIONS

The following symbols and geographic abbreviations are used in the tables:

- A dash "—" represents zero or a percent which rounds to less than 0.1.
- Three dots "..." mean not applicable, or that the data are being withheld to avoid disclosure of information for individuals. (For further information on disclosure, see the section below on "Suppression of Data for Confidentiality.")
- (NA) means not available.
- SMSA is standard metropolitan statistical area.

SUPPRESSION OF DATA FOR CONFIDENTIALITY

To maintain the confidentiality promised respondents and required by law, the Bureau of the Census takes precautions that its published data do not disclose information about specific individuals and housing units. To accomplish this the Census Bureau suppresses data for characteristics which are based on a small number of persons and/or housing units in the geographic area. Under certain conditions, both primary and complementary suppression, as defined below, may take place.

The general rules of primary suppression of sample data are as follows: estimates of total population are never suppressed; other characteristics for persons are shown only if there are 30 or more persons in the geographic area; estimates of total housing units, vacant housing units, year-round units, and occupied housing units are never suppressed; characteristics of year-round housing units which are not classified by occupancy status are shown only when there are 10 or more year-round housing units in the geographic area; characteristics of families, households, or occupied housing units are shown only if there are at least 10 occupied housing units within the geographic area; and distributions of data for owners or renters are shown only where the number of owners is at least 10 and the number of renters is also at least 10. These primary suppression criteria are applied independently of one another. The comparable figures for complete-count (100 percent) data are 15 or more persons and 5 or more housing units of the specified type.

Finally, complementary suppression is applied to prevent the derivation of primary suppressed data by subtraction.

CORRECTION NOTE

Corrections to the 1980 census counts of the total population have been made to at least one area shown in this report. This correction can be found in the correction note in PC80-1-B53, General Population Characteristics, Puerto Rico. Any additional corrections made after this report is printed are available by writing to Data User Services Division, Customer Services (Corrections), Bureau of the Census, Washington D.C. 20233.

Shown below are corrections to the population characteristics in the table(s) of this report.

In table 95, a small number of persons 5 to 9 years old tabulated in the category "IMMIGRATED BEFORE 1970" should have been tabulated in the category "IMMIGRATED BETWEEN 1970 AND 1980."

Reconocimiento

Muchas personas participaron en las distintas actividades del censo de 1980. Estos reconocimientos reflejan, en términos generales, los funcionarios durante los procedimientos para la publicación de los datos después del censo. El Negociado del Censo estuvo dirigido por Bruce Chapman, Director, y C.L. Kincannon, Director Diputado. La dirección principal del programa de publicación de los datos fue llevada a cabo por William P. Butz, Director Asociado para Áreas Demográficas, asistido por Peter A. Boupana, Director Auxiliar para Censos Demográficos, en conjunto con Barbara A. Bailar, Directora Asociada para Normas y Metodología Estadística, Howard N. Hamilton, Director Asociado Interino para Tecnología Informativa, James D. Lincoln, entonces Director Asociado para Administración, y Stanley D. Moore, Director Asociado para Operaciones de Campo. El personal bajo el director fue asistido por Sherry L. Courtland. La dirección de la enumeración censal y de las actividades iniciales de elaboración fue provista por Vincent P. Barabba, ex Director, Daniel B. Levine, ex Director Diputado, y George E. Hall, ex Director Asociado.

La responsabilidad de la planificación, coordinación y elaboración del censo de 1980 descansó en la División de Censos Decenales bajo la dirección de Stanley D. Matchett, Jefe, asistido por Rachel F. Brown y Roger O. Lepage, Asistentes al Jefe de la División. Los siguientes Jefes de Secciones fueron responsables por servicios de apoyo; Donald R. Dalzell, Stephen E. Goldman, Judith A. McKay, Dennis W. Stoudt y Richard R. Warren. La Sección de Áreas del Exterior de los Estados Unidos estuvo bajo la dirección de Irma F. Harahush, Jefe Interino.

La responsabilidad de desarrollar la porción de población contenida en el cuestionario del censo de 1980, y el diseño de las tabulaciones de los datos descansó en la División de Población, bajo la supervisión de Roger A. Herriot, Jefe, Paula J. Schneider, Asistente para Programas Censales, Gordon W. Green, Jr., Nampeo D. McKenney y Arthur J. Norton, Asistentes al Jefe de la División. Los siguientes Jefes de Secciones y de Unidades hicieron contribuciones importantes: Patricia A. Berman, Edward W. Fernández, Philip N. Fulton, Martin O'Connell, George F. Patterson, Thomas S. Scopp, Paul M. Siegel, Robert

C. Speaker, James A. Weed y Arno I. Winard. También contribuyeron Amaria Bachu, Rosalind Bruno, Arthur R. Cresce, Diana DeAre, Carol Fendler, Thomas Gelinne, Robert O. Grymes, Kristin A. Hansen, Jane Ingold, Mark. S. Littman, Edith McArthur, Thomas J. Palumbo, Peggy Payne, Gloria J. Porter, John A. Priebe, Rosemarie Simpson y Nancy Sweet.

La elaboración de datos por computadora se llevó a cabo en la División de Operaciones de Computadora, C. Thomas DiNenna, Jefe, James E. Stead, George M. Bowden y Joseph J. Sferella, Asistentes al Jefe.

Los procedimientos para la elaboración de los cuestionarios fueron desarrollados por la Unidad para la Elaboración Decenal, James S. Werning, entonces Jefe, bajo la dirección de Harry C. O'Haver, entonces Asistente al Jefe. La elaboración manual y microfilmación de los cuestionarios se llevó a cabo en la oficina de Procesamiento en Laguna Niguel, Robert N. Scheller, Jefe.

Las actividades de recopilación de datos fueron supervisadas en la División de Campo por Lawrence T. Love, Jefe, bajo la dirección de Richard Bless, Charles Hancock y George T. Reiner, Asistentes al Jefe, con el apoyo de los directores y asistentes de los directores en las oficinas regionales del Negociado del Censo.

Los programas y la planificación geográfica se desarrollaron en la División de Geografía bajo la dirección de Josaph J. Knott, Robert W. Marx y Silla G. Tomasi, Asistentes al Jefe y Donald I. Hirschfeld, Asistente Especial.

La revisión, diseño, composición y adquisición de los materiales impresos de las publicaciones se efectuaron por el personal de la División de Servicios de Publicaciones, Raymond J. Koski, Jefe, Milton S. Andersen,

Arlene C. Duckett y Gerald A. Mann, Jefes de Sección.

La División de Métodos Estadísticos fue mayormente responsable de la ponderación de los datos de la muestra y de producir estimaciones de la varianza. Esta labor fue supervisada por Charles D. Jones, Jefe, Susan M. Miskura y Robert T. O'Reagan, Asistentes al Jefe. Contribuciones importantes fueron hechas por David H. Diskin, Milton C. Fan, Thomas W. Harahush, Robert S. Jewett, J. Kim, Teresa A. Passalacqua, John H. Thompson y Henry F. Wolman.

El diseño del sistema, las especificaciones técnicas, la construcción e instalación de FOSDIC y el Sistema Tecnológico de Cámaras Automatizadas fueron la responsabilidad de la División de Servicios Técnicos, C. Thomas DiNenna, Jefe Interino y Robert J. Varson, Jefe de Sección.

Muchas otras personas participaron en las diversas actividades del censo de 1980. Para una lista del personal clave, refiérase a la publicación History of the 1980 Census of Population and Housing, (PHC80-R2).

GENERAL

Este informe es parte de la serie Características Detalladas de la Población y presenta referencias recíprocas de los datos de la muestra del Censo de Población de 1980 sobre características sociales y económicas de los residentes de Puerto Rico. Además de los datos para Puerto Rico en su totalidad, la mayoría de las tablas presentan datos para las áreas estadísticas metropolitanas estándares (AEME) de 250,000 habitantes o más, y algunas tablas presentan datos para las ciudades centrales de estas AEME. Tablas seleccionadas presentan datos para la población rural de Puerto Rico.

La identificación abreviada para este informe es PC80-1-D (i.e., Censo de Población, 1980-Volumen 1-Capítulo D), seguida por el número 53 representando a Puerto Rico. Gran parte de la información recopilada en el Censo de Población de 1980 aparecerá en el Volumen 1, Características de la Población, del cual este informe es parte. La disposición legal para este censo, el cual fue levantado al primero de abril de 1980, está contenida en la Ley del Congreso del 31 de agosto de 1954 (enmendada en agosto de 1957, diciembre de 1975 y octubre de 1976), la cual codifica el Título 13 del Código de los Estados Unidos.

Las cifras de población para las varias entidades geográficas presentadas aquí pueden ser diferentes de las que aparecen en el Advance Report, PHC80-V. Las diferencias reflejan la corrección de errores encontrados después que se preparó el informe PHC80-V. Los cambios podrían afectar cualquier área geográfica incluida en este informe. Las diferencias también pueden resultar de la técnica de ponderación utilizada para inflar las cifras de la muestra presentadas en este informe a los totales de control de 100 por ciento de la población. Para una discusión más detallada del procedimiento de estimación, véase el apéndice D.

El contenido y los procedimientos del censo de 1980 se determinaron después de la evaluación de los resultados del censo de 1970, de consultas con una gran variedad de usuarios de datos censales y de extensas pruebas en el campo. En 1980 se introdujeron un número de cambios para mejorar la utilidad de los resultados del censo. Sin embargo, tales cambios no afectan a un grado apreciable la comparabilidad entre los datos censales de 1980 y los datos censales de 1970 para la mayoría de las características. Información adicional sobre comparabilidad para temas especificados aparece en el Apéndice B, "Definiciones y Explicaciones de las Características de los Temas."

Mediante solicitud escrita al Director del Negociado del Censo en Washington, D.C. se puede obtener información más detallada sobre los asuntos técnicos y procesales que se tratan en el texto de este informe. Tal información también se incluirá en otras publicaciones del censo de 1980.

CONTENIDO DEL INFORME

Este informe consiste de un texto (esta introducción y cinco apéndices), una tabla de contenido, tablas detalladas y dos mapas. El mapa de Puerto Rico aparece después de la tabla de contenido y presenta los nombres y límites de los municipios, el nombre y los límites del área estadística consolidada estándar y de cada área estadística metropolitana estándar, los nombres y la localización de todos los lugares con una población de 25,000 o más, y ciudades centrales de AEME con menos de 25,000 habitantes.

Cada tabla detallada se identifica por un número y título. El encabezamiento a la izquierda debajo del título define los tipos de áreas geográficas para las cuales se presentan datos en la tabla particular y se considera parte del título de la tabla. La primera tabla en este informe es la tabla 93; las tablas 1 a la 13 aparecen en el informe Número de Habitantes, PC80-1-A para Puerto Rico, las tablas 14 a la 39 aparecen en el informe Características Generales de la Población, PC80-1-B para Puerto Rico y las tablas 40 a la 92 aparecen en el informe Características Sociales y Económicas Generales, PC80-1-C para Puerto Rico. Las tablas incluyen categorías detalladas y referencias recíprocas de las características sociales y económicas recopiladas en el Censo de Población de 1980, incluyendo edad, estado civil, parentesco en el hogar, educación, grupo trabajador, ocupación, industria, ingresos y pobreza.

El apéndice A describe las varias clasificaciones del área (e.g., AEME). El apéndice B presenta las definiciones y explicaciones de los temas cubiertos en este informe. El apéndice C explica las reglas de residencia utilizadas al enumerar la población y describe los procedimientos de recopilación y elaboración de datos. El apéndice D presenta información sobre las fuentes de error en los datos, los procedimientos de revisión y una descripción de las tablas de asignación y sustitución. El apéndice E contiene facsímiles de las páginas del cuestionario que contienen las preguntas sobre población.

SÍMBOLOS Y ABREVIATURAS GEOGRÁFICAS

Los siguientes símbolos y abreviaturas geográficas se utilizan en las tablas:

- Una raya "—" representa cero, o un por ciento que redondea a menos de 0.1.

- Tres puntos “...” significa que no es aplicable o que los datos no se publicarán para evitar revelar información para individuos. (Para más información sobre la divulgación de datos, véase la sección que aparece a continuación sobre “Supresión de Datos para Mantener la Confidencialidad.”)
- (NA) significa que no está disponible.
- AEME significa área estadística metropolitana estándar.

SUPRESIÓN DE DATOS PARA MANTENER LA CONFIDENCIALIDAD

Para mantener la confidencialidad prometida a los respondedores y requerida por ley, el Negociado del Censo toma precauciones para asegurarse de que los datos que se publican no divultan información sobre individuos y unidades de vivienda particulares. Para lograr esto, el Negociado del Censo suprime datos para algunas características que se basan en un número pequeño de personas y/o unidades de vivienda en el área geográfica. Bajo ciertas condiciones, se puede llevar a cabo tanto la supresión primaria como la complementaria, según se define a continuación.

Las reglas generales para la supresión primaria de datos de la muestra son las siguientes: estimaciones sobre el total de la población nunca se suprimen; características para personas se presentan sólo si hay 30 personas o más en el área geográfica; estimaciones sobre el total de unidades de vivienda, unidades de vivienda desocupadas, unidades de vivienda para uso todo el año y unidades de vivienda ocupadas nunca se suprimen; características de unidades de vivienda para uso todo el año que no se clasifican por la condición de ocupación se presentan sólo cuando hay 10 o más unidades de vivienda para uso todo el año en el área geográfica; características de familias, hogares o unidades de vivienda ocupadas se presentan sólo si hay por lo menos 10 unidades de vivienda ocupadas en el área geográfica; y distribuciones de datos para propietarios e inquilinos se presentan sólo donde el número de propietarios es por lo menos 10 y el número de inquilinos es también por lo menos 10. Estos criterios para la supresión primaria se aplican independientes unos de otros. Las cifras comparables para datos del recuento total (100 por ciento) son 15 personas o más y 5 unidades de vivienda o más del tipo especificado.

NOTA SOBRE CORRECCIONES

Correcciones a las cifras del censo de 1980 sobre los totales de población se han hecho para al menos un área que aparece en este informe. Esta corrección aparece en la nota sobre correcciones en el informe PC80-1-B53, Características Generales de la Población, Puerto Rico. Cualesquiera correcciones adicionales hechas después de la publicación de este informe están disponibles mediante solicitud escrita a Data User Services Division, Customer Services (Corrections), Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20233.

Appendix A.—Area Classifications

PUERTO RICO

The 78 municipios are the constituent units of Puerto Rico.

URBAN AND RURAL RESIDENCE

The population not classified as urban constitutes the rural population. Although not shown separately in this report, the urban population comprises all persons living in urbanized areas and in places of 2,500 or more inhabitants outside urbanized areas. More specifically, the urban population consists of all persons living in (1) zonas urbanas and aldeas of 2,500 or more inhabitants and (2) other territory included in urbanized areas. An urbanized area consists of a place and surrounding closely settled contiguous territory ("urban fringe") that together have a minimum population of 50,000.

STANDARD METROPOLITAN STATISTICAL AREAS

Definition

The general concept of a metropolitan area is one of a large population nucleus, together with adjacent communities which have a high degree of economic and social integration with that nucleus. The standard metropolitan statistical area (SMSA) classification is a statistical standard developed for use by Federal agencies in the production, analysis, and publication of data on metropolitan areas. The SMSA's are defined and designated by the Office of Management and Budget, following a set of official published standards developed by the interagency Federal Committee on Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas.

Each SMSA in Puerto Rico has one or more central municipios containing the area's main population concentration: an urbanized area with at least 50,000 inhabitants. An SMSA may also include outlying municipios which have close economic and social relationships with the central municipios. An outlying municipio must have a specified level of commuting to the central municipios and must also meet certain standards regarding metropolitan character, such as population density, urban population, and population growth.

The population living in SMSA's may be referred to as the metropolitan population. The population is subdivided into "inside central city (or cities)" and "outside central city (or cities)." The population living outside SMSA's constitutes the nonmetropolitan population.

SMSA Central Cities

Each SMSA has at least one central city. The titles of SMSA's include up to three place names. For the 1980 census, central cities of SMSA's are those named in the titles of the SMSA's. In Puerto Rico, zonas urbanas and aldeas may be recognized as central cities.

New SMSA Standards

New standards of defining and designating metropolitan statistical areas were published in the Federal Register on January 3, 1980. The SMSA's recognized for the 1980 census comprise (1) all areas, including four in Puerto Rico, as defined on January 1, 1980, except for one area in the United States which was defined provisionally during the 1970's on the basis of population estimates but whose qualifications were not confirmed by 1980 census counts; and (2) a group of 36 new areas, including one in Puerto Rico (Arecibo), defined on the basis of 1980 census counts and the new standards that were published on January 3, 1980.

When the data on commuting flows become available from 1980 census tabulations, the new standards will be applied to the areas existing on January 1, 1980, and the boundaries, definitions, and titles for all SMSA's will be reviewed.

To aid users who want to become familiar with the SMSA standards and how they are applied, documents are available from the Office of Management and Budget, Washington, D. C. 20503.

GENERAL

The 1980 census of Puerto Rico was conducted through a combination of self-enumeration and personal interview. The principal determinants for the responses were the questionnaire, the respondent instructions, and the instructions given the enumerator. The census takers were instructed, in their personal visit interviews, to read the questions directly from the questionnaire.

The definitions and explanations given below for each subject are drawn largely from various technical and procedural materials used in the collection of the data. These materials helped the census enumerators to understand more fully the intent of each question, and thus to resolve problems or unusual cases in a manner consistent with this intent. Also included is certain explanatory information to assist the user in the proper utilization of the statistics.

Facsimiles of the questionnaire pages containing the population questions used to produce the data shown in this report are presented in appendix E.

HOUSEHOLD, RELATIONSHIP TO HOUSEHOLDER, FAMILY, AND GROUP QUARTERS

Household

A household includes all the persons who occupy a housing unit. A housing unit is a house, an apartment, a group of rooms, or a single room that is occupied (or if vacant, is intended for occupancy) as separate living quarters. Separate living quarters are those in which the occupants live and eat separately from other persons in the building and have direct access from the outside of the building or through a common hall.

The occupants may be a single family, one person living alone, two or more families living together, or any other group of related or unrelated persons who share living arrangements (except as described in the section on Group Quarters). The actual classification of a housing unit as a household depends on the entries in question 2 and item B on the census questionnaire. Item B on type of unit or quarters was filled by an enumerator or a census office clerk for each housing unit or group quarters.

The measure "persons per household" is obtained by dividing the number of persons in households by the number of households (or householders).

Relationship to Householder

The data on relationship to householder were derived from answers to question 2, which was asked of all persons in housing units. When relationship was not reported for an individual, it was allocated according to the responses for age and marital status for that person while maintaining consistency with responses for other individuals in the household. The allocation procedure is described in Appendix D, "Accuracy of the Data."

Householder—One person in each household is designated as the "householder." In most cases, this is the person, or one of the persons, in whose name the home is owned or rented and who is listed in column 1 of the census questionnaire. If there is no such person in the household, any adult household member could be designated as the "householder." Two types of householders are distinguished—a family householder and a nonfamily householder. A family householder is a householder living with one or more persons related to him or her by birth, marriage, or adoption. The householder and all persons in the household related to him or her are family members. A nonfamily householder is a householder living alone or with nonrelatives only.

Spouse—A person married to and living with a householder. This category includes persons in formal marriages as well as consensually married persons.

Child—A son, daughter, stepchild, or adopted child of the householder, regardless of the child's age or marital status. The category excludes sons-in-law and daughters-in-law. "Own children" are sons and daughters, including stepchildren and adopted children, of the householder who are single (never married) and under 18 years of age.

The number of children "living with two parents" includes stepchildren and adopted children as well as sons and daughters born to the couple.

"Related children" in a family include own children and all other persons under 18 years of age in the household, regardless of marital status, who are related to the householder by birth, marriage, or adoption, except the spouse of the householder.

In a subfamily an "own child" is a never-married child under 18 years of age who is a son, daughter, stepchild, or adopted child of a mother in a mother-child subfamily, of a father in a father-child subfamily, or of either spouse in a married-couple subfamily.

Other Relative—Any person related to the householder by birth, marriage, or adoption who is not shown separately in the particular table (e.g., "uncle," "niece," or "cousin").

Nonrelative—Any person in the household not related to the householder by birth, marriage, or adoption. Roomers, boarders, roommates, paid employees, wards, and foster children are included in this category.

Unrelated Individual

An unrelated individual is (1) a householder living alone or with nonrelatives only, (2) a household member who is not related to the householder, or (3) a person living in group quarters who is not an inmate of an institution.

Family and Subfamily

A family consists of a householder and one or more other persons living in the same household who are related to the householder by birth, marriage, or adoption. All persons in a household who are related to the householder are regarded as members of his or her family. A "married-couple family" is a family in which the householder and spouse are enumerated as members of the same household. Not all households contain families, because a household may be composed of a group of unrelated persons or one person living alone. The measure "persons per family" is obtained by dividing the number of persons in families by the total number of families (or family householders).

A subfamily is a married couple (husband and wife enumerated as members of the same household) with or without children, or one parent with one or more never-married children under 18 years of age, living in a household and related to either the householder or the householder's spouse. Members of a subfamily are also included among the members of a family. The number of subfamilies, therefore, is not included in the number of families.

In table 105, families are classified by the sex and marital status of the householder. Subfamilies are classified by the sex and marital status of the husband in a married-couple subfamily, and by the parent in a parent-child subfamily.

Unmarried Couple

An unmarried couple is composed of two unrelated adults of opposite sex (one of whom is the householder) who share a housing unit with no other persons present or with children under 15 years old.

In table 105, unmarried couples are classified by the sex and marital status of the householder.

Group Quarters

All persons not living in households are classified by the Bureau of the Census as living in group quarters. Two general categories of persons in group quarters are recognized:

Inmates of Institutions—Persons under care or custody in institutions at the time of enumeration are classified as "patients or inmates" of an institution regardless of their length of stay in that place and regardless of the number of people in that place. Institutions include homes, schools, hospitals, or wards for the physically or mentally handicapped; hospitals or wards for mental, tubercular, or chronic disease patients; homes for unmarried mothers; nursing, convalescent, and rest homes for the aged and dependent; orphanages; and correctional institutions.

Other—This category includes all persons living in group quarters who are not inmates of institutions. Rooming and boarding houses, communes, convents or monasteries, and other living quarters are classified as "other" group quarters if there are 9 or more persons unrelated to the person listed in column 1 of the census questionnaire; or if 10 or more unrelated persons share the unit. Persons residing in certain other types of living arrangements are classified as living in "other" group quarters regardless of the number or relationship of the people in the unit. These include persons residing in military barracks, on ships, in college dormitories, or in sorority and fraternity houses; patients in general or maternity wards of hospitals who have no usual residence elsewhere; staff members in institutional quarters; and persons enumerated in missions, Salvation Army shelters, etc.

Military quarters include barracks or dormitories on base, transient quarters on base for temporary residents (both civilian and military), and military ships.

Comparability With 1970 Census Data—The 1980 definition of a household differs from that used in 1970 only in the change in the definition of housing unit to eliminate the requirement for cooking facilities for the exclusive use of the household. The household reference person in 1970 was the "head of the household" (the husband in married-couple families); for 1980 it was changed to "the household member (or one of the members) in whose name the home is owned or rented." In 1970, a unit in which 6 or more unrelated persons were living together was classified as group quarters; for 1980 that requirement was raised to 10 or more unrelated persons.

SEX

The data on sex were derived from answers to question 3, which was asked of all persons. At the time of field review, most cases in which sex was not reported were resolved by determining the appropriate entry from the person's given name and household relationship. When question 3 remained blank, sex was allocated according to the relationship to the householder and the age and marital status of the person. The general allocation procedure is described in appendix D.

AGE

The data on age were derived from answers to question 4, which was asked of all persons. Only the information in items 4b and 4c (on month and year of birth) was read into the computer. Answers to item 4a (on age at last birthday) were used during field review to fill in any blanks in question 4c. The age classification is based on the age of the person in completed years as of April 1, 1980. The data on age represent the difference between date of birth and April 1, 1980.

The median ages shown in this report were computed on the basis of more detailed intervals than shown in the tables. If the median fell in the terminal category of an age distribution, the method of presentation was to show the initial age of the terminal category followed by a plus sign; thus, if the median fell in the category "85 years and over," it is shown as "85+."

In each census since 1950, the Bureau of the Census has assigned the age of a person when it was not reported. In censuses before 1950, persons of unknown age were shown as a separate category. In 1960, 1970, and 1980, the assignment of unknown ages was performed by the general allocation procedure described in appendix D.

MARITAL STATUS

The data on marital status were derived from answers to question 5 which was asked of all persons. The marital status classification refers to the status at the time of enumeration. Persons classified as "now married" include those who have been married only once and have never been widowed or divorced as well as those currently married persons who remarried after having been widowed or divorced. Consensually married persons are those living in a marital union without a civil or religious matrimonial contract and are classified as now married; they are reported separately as "Consensually married." Persons reported as separated are those living apart because of marital discord, with or without a legal separation. Persons whose only marriage had been annulled are classified as never married, and all persons under 15 years old are classified as never married. All persons classified as never married are shown as "single."

Married persons with "spouse present" are men or women whose wife or husband was enumerated as a member of the same household, including those whose spouse may have been temporarily absent for such reasons as travel or hospitalization. Married persons with "spouse absent" are men or women whose wife or husband was not enumerated as a member of the same household, and all married persons living in group quarters. Married persons with "spouse absent, other" are those whose husband or wife was not enumerated as a member of the same household, excluding persons who were separated. Included are those whose husband or wife was employed and living away from home, absent in the Armed Forces, or an inmate of an institution.

By definition, the number of married men, spouse present, shown in this report should be identical with the number of married women, spouse present. However, the two figures may not be exactly the same because, in the weighting of the sample figures to represent total counts, husbands and their wives were sometimes given different weights.

When marital status was not reported, it was allocated according to the relationship to householder and sex and age of the person. The general allocation process is described in appendix D.

SCHOOL ENROLLMENT

The data on school enrollment were derived from answers to questions 7 and 8. Persons are classified as enrolled in school if they reported attending a "regular" school or college at any time between February 1, 1980, and the time of enumeration. Regular schooling is defined as pre-kindergarten, kindergarten, elementary school, and schooling which leads to a high school diploma or college degree. Schooling in trade or business schools, company training, or schooling obtained through a tutor was to be reported only if the course credits obtained were regarded as transferable to a regular elementary school, high school, or college. Children were included as enrolled in pre-kindergarten only if the school included instruction as an important and integral phase of its program. Children enrolled in "Head Start" programs, or similar programs sponsored by local agencies to provide preprimary education to young children, were included as enrolled in school. Persons who had been enrolled in a regular school since February 1, 1980, but who had not actually attended, for example, because of illness, were counted as enrolled in school. Schooling which is generally regarded as not "regular" includes that given in schools which simply provide custodial day care; in specialized vocational, trade, or business schools; in on-the-job training; and through correspondence courses.

Public, Church-Related, or Other Private School—Persons who were enrolled in school were also classified as attending a public, church-related, or other private school. In general, a "public" school is defined as any school which is controlled and supported primarily by the Commonwealth government. A "church-related" school is defined here as a private school which is controlled or supported primarily by a religious organization. An "other private" school is defined as a school controlled or supported primarily by private groups other than religious organizations.

In using the public/private school distinction for college enrollment, some caution should be exercised, since there is evidence that the classification of individual schools may not be entirely clear, and census data may differ considerably from administrative figures.

Level and Year of School in Which Enrolled—Persons who were enrolled in school were classified according to the level and year of school in which they were enrolled, reported in question 8. The levels which are separately identified in this report are pre-kindergarten, kindergarten, elementary school, high school, and college. Children in "Head Start" or similar programs were counted under "pre-kindergarten" or "kindergarten" as appropriate. Elementary school, as defined here, includes grades 1 to 8, and high school includes grades 9 to 12. Persons attending junior high school are reported in elementary school or high school according to their grade. The term "college" includes junior or community colleges, 4-year colleges, universities, and graduate or professional schools.

Comparability With Earlier Census Data—School enrollment questions in some form have been included in the census since 1899, grade attended was added in 1950. The wording of the type of school question was changed from parochial in 1970 to church-related in 1980 in an attempt to make the affiliation with a religious group clearer to respondents. The intention was to include all schools controlled by religious groups rather than only particular denominations or religions.

The corresponding question on schooling in the 1930 census applied to a somewhat longer period, the period since the preceding September 1; in addition, the question was not restricted as to the type of school the person was attending. In 1940 the question referred to the period since the preceding March 1. In 1950 the reference period was changed to that between February 1 and the time of enumeration. The same reference period was used in 1970 and 1980. However, in 1960, the reference period used was that between January 1 and the time of the enumeration.

The age range for which enrollment data have been obtained has varied for the several censuses. Information on enrollment was recorded for persons of all ages in 1930 and 1940, for persons 5 to 29 years old in 1950, for those 5 to 34 years old in 1960, and for those 3 years old and over in 1970 and 1980. Most of the published enrollment figures relate, however, to ages 5 to 20 in 1930, 5 to 24 in 1940, 5 to 29 in 1950, 5 to 34 in 1960, 3 to 34 in 1970, and 3 years old and over in 1980. The extended age coverage for published enrollment data in the recent censuses reflects increased interest in the number of persons who are attending regular colleges and universities at older ages.

In the 1950 census, grade of enrollment was available for the first time; grade or year could be identified for kindergarten through college, but the number of children enrolled in kindergarten was not included with the 1950 statistics on enrollment in regular schools. In 1960 kindergarten enrollment was included with the regular enrollment figures. In 1970 nursery school enrollment was added to the levels of school separately identified. In 1980, nursery school was replaced by "pre-kindergarten."

Comparability With Data From Other Sources—Data on school enrollment are also collected and published by other Federal and Commonwealth governmental agencies. This information is generally obtained from reports of school systems and institutions of higher learning and from other surveys and censuses. These data are only roughly comparable with data collected by the Bureau of the Census, however, because of differences in definitions, subject matter covered, time references, and enumeration methods.

YEARS OF SCHOOL COMPLETED

The data on years of school completed were derived from answers to questions 8 and 9. These questions on educational attainment applied only to progress in "regular" schools as defined in the section for school enrollment. The first question asked for the highest grade attended, regardless of "skipped" or "repeated" grades. Persons whose education was received in foreign school systems or in an ungraded school were expected to report the approximate equivalent grade in the regular school system. An instruction printed on the form, "If high school was finished by equivalency test (GED), mark '12'" (meaning grade 12), was to ensure that persons who dropped out of school before high school graduation but later earned a diploma with an equivalency test would be counted as high school graduates. Those diploma recipients who also attended college would be credited with college attendance as reported.

The second question on educational attainment asked whether or not the highest grade attended had been completed. It was to be answered "Finished" if the person had successfully completed the entire grade or year indicated in question 8. If the person had completed only part of the year, had dropped out, or failed to pass the last grade attended, the question was to be answered "Did not finish." If the person was still attending school in that grade, he or she answered "Now attending."

The number in each category of highest grade of school completed represents the combination of (a) persons who reported the indicated grade as the highest grade attended and that they had finished it, (b) those who had attended the next higher grade but had not finished it, and (c) those still attending the next higher grade. Persons who had not completed the first year of elementary school are classified as having no years of school completed.

"Percent high school graduates" includes persons who completed four years of high school by graduation or an equivalency test and persons who reported that they had attended some level of college.

Comparability With Earlier Census Data—Educational attainment questions in terms of years of school completed have been included in the Puerto Rico census since 1950. In censuses prior to 1950, only a question on basic literacy was included.

The 1980 instruction for persons who received a high school diploma by virtue of passing an equivalency test was not included on past census questionnaires. Persons who took equivalency tests may or may not have been reported as high school graduates in earlier censuses; however, completing high school by such means was not as common in earlier decades as it was in the decade prior to the 1980 census.

Median School Years Completed—The median number of school years completed was computed on the basis of data tabulated in multiple-year intervals for under 8 years completed and single-year intervals for 8 years of school completed and above (e.g., completion of the 1st year of high school was treated as completion of the 9th year, completion of the 1st year of college, as completion of the 13th year, etc.). Persons completing a given school year were assumed to be distributed evenly within the interval from .0 to .9 of the year. In fact, at the time of census enumeration, most of the enrolled persons had completed at least three-fourths of a school year beyond the highest grade completed, whereas a large majority of persons who were not enrolled had not attended any part of a grade beyond the highest one completed. The effect of the assumption is to place the median for younger persons slightly below, and for older persons slightly above, the true median.

The same procedure for computing this median was used in the 1950, 1960, and 1970 censuses. Because of the inexact assumption as to the distribution within an interval, this median is more appropriately used for comparing different groups and the same group at different dates than as an absolute measure of educational attainment.

PLACE OF BIRTH

The data on place of birth were derived from the answers to question 6. Respondents and enumerators were instructed to report place of birth in terms of the mother's usual place of residence at the time of the birth rather than in terms of the location of the hospital if the birth occurred in a hospital. In this report the population is classified into the following groups: persons born in Puerto Rico, in the municipio in which they were residing at the time of the census; persons born in a different municipio; persons born in the United States, in another area under U.S. jurisdiction or persons born abroad who had at least one parent who was a U.S. citizen, and persons born elsewhere, classified as citizens or not citizens of the United States.

Persons born outside Puerto Rico or the United States were asked to report their country of birth according to international boundaries as recognized by the United States government on April 1, 1980. Since numerous changes in boundaries of foreign countries have occurred in the last century, some of these persons may have reported their country of birth in terms of the boundaries that existed at the time of their birth or emigration, or in accordance with their own national preference. When selected countries of birth are shown, persons born abroad who had at least one parent who was a U.S. citizen are included in the category "All other countries."

Place of birth was not allocated for Puerto Rico. Persons not reporting place of birth are shown in this report as, "Place of birth not reported." Data on place of birth have been collected in each census beginning with that of 1910. For more recent censuses, place of birth has been published for the population of the urban, rural-nonfarm, and rural-farm parts of Puerto Rico, and for the individual places above a specified size, SMSA's, and municipios.

CITIZENSHIP AND YEAR OF IMMIGRATION

Data on citizenship and year of immigration were derived from answers to questions 11a and 11b, which were asked of persons who reported being born in a foreign country. Persons who were born abroad or at sea and who had at least one parent who was a U.S. citizen, were to report themselves as, "Born abroad of American parents."

Citizenship—Information on citizenship was used to classify the population into two major categories: citizens and non-citizens.

If citizenship was not reported, a response was assigned by computer using the responses of other persons based on year of immigration and country of birth.

Year of Immigration—Foreign-born persons were to indicate in question 11b the period which covered the year they came to stay permanently in Puerto Rico. However, persons born abroad whose parents were U. S. citizens were excluded from tabulations showing year of immigration. If the year of immigration was not reported, a response was assigned using the responses of other persons, based on age and country of birth.

PARENTS' PLACE OF BIRTH

The data on father's place of birth and mother's place of birth were derived from answers to questions 10a and 10b. Persons whose parents were born outside Puerto Rico were asked to report each parent's State of birth, if born in the United States, or each parent's country of birth according to the international boundaries as recognized by the United States government on April 1, 1980. Parents' place of birth was not allocated for nonresponse.

ABILITY TO READ AND WRITE

The data on ability to read and write were derived from answers to question 14. This question was asked of persons 5 years old and over; however, data on literacy were tabulated for the population 10 years old and over. Ability to read and write was not limited to any particular language. Consequently the category, able to read and write, includes persons who are able to read and write in English, French, German, etc., as well as those who are able to read and write in Spanish. Persons who could only read and those who could write only their own names were classified as unable to read and write.

ABILITY TO SPEAK SPANISH AND ABILITY TO SPEAK ENGLISH

The data on ability to speak Spanish were derived from answers, "Yes" or "No" to question 15a. Ability to speak English was reported in question 15b as one of three categories: "Yes, easily," "Yes, with difficulty," or "No, not at all."

The questions on language usage were intended to determine the extent to which Spanish and English are spoken in Puerto Rico. From these responses it is possible to determine how many persons cannot speak Spanish and to determine how many persons have difficulty speaking English or cannot speak English at all. The questions were not intended to determine which language was the person's main language.

While the question on ability to speak English has been included in census questionnaires for Puerto Rico since 1910, the question on ability to speak Spanish was added to the questionnaire for the first time for the 1980 census.

RESIDENCE IN 1975

The data on residence in 1975 were derived from answers to questions 12a and 12b. Persons living in Puerto Rico in 1975 were asked to report the name of the municipio, barrio, and ciudad, pueblo, or aldea in which they were living. Persons living in the United States were also asked to report the State and county. All others were asked to report the country in which they were living. Residence in 1975 is used in conjunction with current residence to determine the extent of residential mobility of the population. When no information on residence in 1975 was collected for a person, information for other family members was used, if available. All cases of nonresponse, or incomplete response not assigned based on information from other family members, are shown separately as "residence in 1975 not reported."

The number of persons who were living in a different house in 1975 is somewhat less than the total number of moves during the 5-year period. Some persons in the same house at the two dates had moved during the 5-year period but by the time of enumeration had returned to their 1975 residence. Other persons who were living in a different house had made one or more intermediate moves. For similar reasons, the number of persons living in a different municipio may be understated.

Similar questions on mobility were asked in the 1940, 1960, and 1970 censuses. Although the questions in the 1940 census covered a 5-year period, comparability with that census is reduced somewhat because of different definitions and categories of tabulation.

Data on residence in 1975 are based on approximately one-half of the full census sample (see appendix D). Therefore, figures in tabulations involving residence in 1975 may differ from tabulations based on the full sample. For example, the number of persons 5 years old and over derived from residence in 1975 tabulations may not agree with other tabulations by age.

RESIDENCE IN THE UNITED STATES BETWEEN 1970 AND 1980

The data on residence in the United States were derived from answers to questions 13a, 13b, 13c, and 13d. These questions were asked of persons 5 years old and over; however, data on activity were tabulated only for persons 16 years old and over. Those who reported having lived in the United States for 6 or more consecutive months during the last 10 years were asked to report the year they came or returned to Puerto Rico the last time, how long they stayed, and their activity while in the United States (working at a job or business, in the U.S. Armed Forces, attending school or college). These data were first collected in Puerto Rico in the 1970 census. The reference period for the residence in the United States for the 1970 census was limited to the last 5 years; this was increased to the last 10 years in the 1980 census. The length of stay was indicated as "6 or more months" on the 1970 census questionnaire and "6 or more consecutive months" on the 1980 questionnaire. As a result, the 1970 data may include persons who reported as a stay of 6 or more months repeated visits during the last five years, each consisting of less than 6 months. Data on activity were tabulated for persons 14 years old and over in 1970 and for persons 16 years old and over in 1980. Data on residence in the United States were not allocated for Puerto Rico.

ACTIVITY IN 1975

The data on activity in 1975 were derived from answers to question 17 which asked persons 15 years old and over whether they were "in the Armed Forces," "attending college," or "working full or part-time at a job or business" in 1975. Nonresponse was allocated based on answers to other questions and related characteristics. The data are only shown for persons 21 years and over (i.e., persons who were 16 years and over in 1975).

VETERAN STATUS

The data on veteran status were derived from responses to questions 18a and 18b. A "veteran," as defined in census publications, is a person 16 years old or over who has served, but is not now serving, on active duty in the Armed Forces of the United States. Persons are classified as veterans if they were ever on active duty in the U.S. Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard, even if the time served was short. Persons in the National Guard or in military reserve units are classified as veterans only if they were ever called to active duty. All other civilians 16 years old and over are classified as nonveterans.

Period of Service—Persons who indicated in question 18a that they were veterans were asked to indicate the period or periods in which they served (question 18b). Persons serving in more than one period were classified in the most recent wartime period of service. For example, persons who served both during the Korean conflict and the post-Korean peacetime era between February 1955 and July 1964 were classified in the "Korean conflict" category. If the same person had also served during the Vietnam era, he or she would instead be included in the "Vietnam era and Korean conflict" category. The data were edited to eliminate reported period(s) of service which were inconsistent with the age of the person.

Comparability with Earlier Census Data—Veteran status was asked of both men and women in the 1980 census, the first time such data were collected for women. The wording of the question was changed from the 1970 version in order to make more clear the appropriate response for persons who served in National Guard or reserve units only.

Two categories of period of service were added since 1970: The post-Korean peacetime era between February 1955 and July 1964, and the post-Vietnam peacetime era beginning in May 1975. As in 1970, persons reporting more than one period of service are shown in the most recent wartime period of service category.

FERTILITY (CHILDREN EVER BORN)

The data on children ever born were derived from answers to question 20, which was asked of women 15 years old and over, regardless of marital status. Excluded were stillbirths, stepchildren, and adopted children. Ever-married women were instructed to include all children born to them before and during their most recent marriage, children no longer living, and children away from home, as well as children who were still living in the home. Never-married women were instructed to include all children born to them. Data on children ever born reported by never-married women should be viewed with caution because of the very high rates of nonresponse to the question and the anticipated under-reporting of live births to these women.

In the 1980 census, a terminal category of "12 or more" was used for recording the number of children ever born. For purposes of computing the total number of children ever born, the terminal category was given a mean value of 13.

Comparability With Earlier Census Data— The wording of the question on children ever born was very similar in 1980 and in 1970. In virtually all of the tables in 1970 census volumes, data presented on children ever born assumed that single women were childless even though it was known that some of the women had had children. Therefore, rates and numbers of children ever born to all women are not comparable between the 1980 reports and previous census reports, since the 1980 census reports include data on children ever born to single women. Data presented for children ever born to women ever married are comparable between the 1980 census and previous censuses containing this question.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING

The data on vocational training were derived from answers to question 21. These questions were asked of persons 15 years old and over. Persons were included in the tabulations only if they had completed the requirements for a vocational program at a trade school, business school, hospital, or some other kind of school for occupational training. Vocational training was defined as a school program designed to prepare a person for work in an occupational field. Thus, training which leads to certification to practice carpentry, electronics, nursing, or accounting is vocational, provided a baccalaureate degree is not granted for that training. Included as "vocational training" were formal vocational training programs received in high school, through an apprenticeship program, in a school of business, in a nursing school or trade school, in a technical institute, in the Armed Forces, in the Job Corps, and in a correspondence school. Excluded from "vocational training programs" were single courses which were not part of an organized program of study, on-the-job training, and basic training in the Armed Forces. Persons who had completed a vocational training program were asked to designate the kind of school at which the training was received (e.g., business school, trade school, junior college, high school occupational program, training program at place of work, etc.).

Comparability With Earlier Census Data— The question on vocational training was asked for the first time in the 1970 decennial census. Training by correspondence, which was excluded from vocational training in 1970 was included as such in the 1980 census. In the 1970 census a second question was asked of all persons who completed a vocational training program to designate their main field of vocational training. In the 1980 census a different question was asked respondents who reported they had completed the requirements for a vocational training program, they were asked to designate the kind of school where the training was received.

PLACE OF WORK

The data on place of work were derived from answers to question 23, which was asked of persons who indicated in question 22 that they had worked at any time during the reference week (see below for definition of reference week).

Data are tabulated for workers 16 years and over; that is, members of the Armed Forces and civilians who were at work during the reference week. Place of work refers to the geographic location at which workers carried out their occupational activities during the reference week. The exact address (number and street) of the place of work was asked, as well as the place (city, town, village, etc.); the barrio and the municipio; and ZIP code. If the person's employer operated in more than one location, the exact address of the location or branch where the respondent worked was requested. When the number and street name could not be given, the building name or other physical location description was to be entered. Persons who worked at more than one location were asked to report the one at which they worked the greatest number of hours during the reference week. Persons who regularly worked in several locations during the reference week were requested to give the address at which they began work each day. For cases in which daily work was not begun at a central place each day, the person was asked to provide as much information as possible which described the area in which he or she worked most during the reference week.

For the purposes of this report, place-of-work locations are summarized to present the main destinations of workers living in each SMSA of 250,000 or more. Place-of-work locations for residents of SMSA's are defined with respect to the boundaries of the SMSA as inside the SMSA and "outside SMSA of residence." Locations within each SMSA are further divided into the central city and outside the central city.

Data on place of work are based on approximately one-half of the full census sample (see appendix D). Therefore, figures in tabulations involving place-of-work may differ from tabulations based on the full sample. For example, the number of workers 16 years old and over from place-of-work tabulations may not agree with the same category shown for means of transportation to work tabulations.

MEANS OF TRANSPORTATION TO WORK

The data on means of transportation to work were derived from answers to questions 24b, 24c, and 24d which were asked of persons who indicated in question 22 that they had worked at any time during the reference week (see below for definition of reference week). Means of transportation to work refers to the principal mode of travel or type of conveyance that the person usually used to get from home to work during the reference week. Persons who used different means of transportation on different days of the week were asked to specify the one they used most often. Persons who used more than one means of transportation to get to work each day were asked to report the one used for the longest distance during the work trip. The category "Private vehicle" includes workers using a private car (including company cars but excluding taxicabs), a truck of one-ton capacity or less, or a van. The category "Public transportation" includes workers who used a bus, a public car, a launch, or taxicab.

A question on carpooling (question 24c) was asked of all workers who reported their means of transportation to work as "private car," "truck," or "van." The category "Drive alone" includes persons who usually drove alone to work, as well as persons who were driven to work by someone who then drove back home or to a nonwork destination. The category "Carpool" includes workers who reported that they usually shared driving, drove others, or rode as a passenger during the reference week.

The means of transportation data for some areas in this report may show workers using modes of public transportation that are not available in those areas (e.g., bus riders in an SMSA where there is actually no bus service). This result is attributable to persons who worked during the reference week at a location that was different from their usual place of work (such as persons away from their home or business in an area where another type of service was available), and persons who used more than one means of transportation each day but whose principal means was not available where they lived (for example, residents of nonmetropolitan areas who rode in a private car to the fringe of an SMSA and rode the bus most of the distance to work).

Private Vehicle Occupancy—The data on private vehicle occupancy were derived from answers to question 24d, which was asked of persons who indicated in question 22 that they had worked at any time during the reference week (see below for definition of reference week), and who reported in question 24c that they usually shared driving, drove others, or rode as a passenger in a private car, truck, or van. Private vehicle occupancy refers to the number of persons who usually rode to work in the vehicle during the reference week. The measure "persons per private vehicle" is obtained by dividing the number of persons who reported using a private car, truck, or van to get to work by the number of such vehicles that they used. The number of vehicles used is derived by counting each person who drove alone as one vehicle, each person who reported being in a two-person carpool as one-half vehicle, each person who reported being in a three-person carpool as one-third vehicle, and so on, and then adding all the vehicles.

Travel Time to Work—The data on travel time to work were derived from answers to question 24a, which was asked of persons who indicated in question 22 that they had worked at any time during the reference week (see below for definition of reference week). Travel time to work refers to the total number of minutes that it usually took the person to get from home to work during the reference week. The elapsed time includes time spent waiting for public transportation, picking up passengers in carpools, and time spent in other activities related to getting to work.

REFERENCE WEEK

The data on labor force status and journey to work relate to the calendar week preceding the date on which the respondents were interviewed by enumerators. This week is not the same for all respondents since the enumeration was not completed in one week. However, for the majority of persons the reference week for the 1980 census was the last week in March 1980. Passover and Good Friday occurred in the following week (the first week of April, 1980). Many workers presumably took time off for these observances. These holidays could have affected the data on hours worked for some areas if the first week in April was the reference week for a significant number of persons. The holidays probably did not affect the overall measurement of labor force status since labor force data are based on work activity during the entire reference week.

LABOR FORCE STATUS

The data on labor force status were derived from answers to questions 22, 25, and 26. The series of questions on labor force status was asked of all persons 15 years old and over and was designed to identify, in this sequence: (a) persons who worked at any time during the reference week; (b) persons who did not work during the reference week but who had jobs or businesses from which they were temporarily absent (excluding layoff); (c) persons on layoff; and (d) persons who did not work during the reference week, but who were looking for work during the last four weeks and were available for work during the reference week.

Most of the labor force status data shown in this and other 1980 census reports relate to persons 16 years old and over. In 1940, 1950, and 1960, labor force status data were presented for persons 14 years old and over. The change in the universe was made in 1970 to agree with the official measurement of the labor force as revised in January 1967. Selected labor force status data were shown in 1970 for persons 14 and 15 years old, but are not presented for 1980.

Employed—Employed persons include all civilians 16 years old and over who were either (a) "at work"—those who did any work at all during the reference week as paid employees or in their own business or profession, or on their own farm, or who worked 15 hours or more as unpaid workers on a family farm or in a family business; or (b) were "with a job but not at work"—those who did not work during the reference week but had jobs or businesses from which they were temporarily absent due to illness, bad weather, industrial dispute, vacation, or other personal reasons. Excluded from the employed are persons whose only activity consisted of work around the house or volunteer work for religious, charitable, and similar organizations.

Unemployed—Persons are classified as unemployed if they were civilians 16 years old and over and (a) were neither "at work" nor "with a job but not at work" during the reference week, (b) were looking for work during the last 4 weeks, and (c) were available to accept a job. Examples of jobseeking activities are: (1) registering at a public or private employment office, (2) meeting with prospective employers, (3) investigating possibilities for starting a professional practice or opening a business, (4) placing or answering advertisements, (5) writing letters of application, and (6) being on a union or professional register.

Also included as unemployed are persons who did not work at all during the reference week and were waiting to be called back to a job from which they had been laid off.

Experienced Unemployed—Unemployed persons who have worked at any time in the past are classified as the "Experienced unemployed."

Civilian Labor Force—The civilian labor force consists of persons classified as employed or unemployed in accordance with the criteria described above.

Experienced Civilian Labor Force—The "experienced civilian labor force" comprises the employed and the experienced unemployed.

Labor Force—The labor force includes all persons classified in the civilian labor force plus members of the Armed Forces (persons on active duty with the United States Army, Air Force, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard).

Not in Labor Force—All persons 16 years old and over who are not classified as members of the labor force are defined as "Not in labor force." This category consists mainly of students, housewives, retired workers, seasonal workers enumerated in an "off" season who were not looking for work, inmates of institutions, disabled persons, and persons doing only incidental unpaid family work (less than 15 hours during the reference week).

Worker—The term "worker" appears in connection with several subjects in this report: nonworkers per 100 workers, journey-to-work items, class of worker, weeks worked in 1979, and number of workers in family in 1979. Its meaning varies and, therefore should be determined in each case by referring to the definition of the subject in which it appears.

Nonworkers per 100 Workers—This measure, called the "nonworker/worker ratio" in the 1970 census, is the ratio of the sum of persons "not in the labor force" (including persons under 16 years of age) to persons 16 years old and over in the labor force.

Comparability With Earlier Census Data—The questionnaire items and labor force status concepts for the 1980 census were essentially identical to those used in the 1970 census. However, these concepts differed in many respects from those associated with the 1950 and 1960 censuses; see the Volume 1 publications from the 1970 census for more information.

Comparability With Data From Other Sources—Because employment data from the census are obtained from respondents in households, they differ from statistics based on reports from individual business establishments, farm enterprises, and certain government programs. Persons employed at more than one job are counted only once in the census and are classified according to the job at which they worked the greatest number of hours during the reference week. In statistics based on reports from business and farm establishments, persons who work for more than one establishment may be counted more than once. Moreover, other series, unlike those presented here, may exclude private household workers, unpaid family workers, and self-employed persons, but may include workers less than 16 years of age.

An additional difference in the data arises from the fact that persons who had a job but were not at work are included with the employed in the statistics shown here whereas many of these persons are likely to be excluded from employment figures based on establishment payroll reports. Furthermore, the labor force status data in this report include persons on the basis of place of residence regardless of where they work, whereas establishment data report persons at their place of work regardless of where they live. This latter consideration is particularly significant when comparing data for workers who commute between areas.

For a number of reasons, the unemployment figures of the Bureau of the Census are not comparable with published figures on unemployment compensation claims. For example, figures on unemployment compensation claims exclude persons who have exhausted their benefit rights, as well as new workers who have not earned rights to unemployment insurance, and persons losing jobs not covered by unemployment insurance systems (including some workers in agriculture, domestic services, religious organizations, and self-employed and unpaid family workers). In addition, the qualifications for drawing unemployment compensation differ from the definition of unemployment used by the Bureau of the Census. Persons working only a few hours during the week and persons temporarily absent from work for reasons other than layoff are sometimes eligible for unemployment compensation but are classified as "employed" in the census reports. Differences in the geographical distribution of unemployment data arise because the place where claims are filed may not necessarily be the same as the place of residence of the unemployed worker.

Actual Hours Worked—All persons in the sample who reported working during the reference week were asked to report in item 22b the number of hours that they worked. The statistics on hours worked pertain to the number of hours actually worked at all jobs, and do not necessarily reflect the number of hours usually worked or the scheduled number of hours. The number of persons who worked only a small number of hours is probably understated since such persons sometimes consider themselves as not working.

Year Last Worked—The data on year last worked were derived from answers to question 27. The data are tabulated for persons 16 years old and over who were not at work during the reference week. The data pertain to the most recent year in which a person did any work for pay or profit, or worked without pay on a family farm or in a family business, or was on active duty in the Armed Forces. In addition to persons who marked "never worked" in question 27, the "never worked" category in tabulations includes persons 16 years old and over who reported that they last worked when they were 14 years old or younger.

LABOR FORCE STATUS IN 1979

The data on labor force status in 1979 were derived from answers to question 31. Persons 16 years old and over are classified as "In labor force in 1979" if (a) in 1979 they worked 1 or more weeks for pay or profit (including weeks on paid vacation or on paid sick leave), or worked without pay on a family farm or in a family business, or were on active duty in the Armed Forces; or (b) had any weeks of unemployment in 1979. The categories "Worked in 1979" and "With unemployment in 1979" are not mutually exclusive.

Worked in 1979 (Work Status in 1979)— Persons 16 years old and over who worked one or more weeks according to the criteria described below are classified as "Worked in 1979;" all other persons 16 years old and over are classified as "Did not work in 1979." Some tables showing work status in 1979 include 15 year olds; by definition, these persons are classified as "Did not work in 1979."

Weeks Worked in 1979— The data on weeks worked in 1979 were derived from answers to questions 31a and 31b. Question 31b (Weeks worked in 1979) was asked of persons 16 years and over in the sample who indicated in question 31a that they worked in 1979.

The data pertain to the number of weeks during 1979 in which a person did any work for pay or profit (including paid vacation and sick leave) or worked without pay on a family farm or in a family business. Weeks of active service in the Armed Forces are also included. It is probable that the number of persons who worked in 1979 and the number of weeks worked are understated since there is some tendency for respondents to forget intermittent or short periods of employment or to exclude weeks worked without pay.

Usual Hours Worked in 1979— The data on usual hours worked per week in 1979 were derived from answers to question 31c. This question was asked of persons 16 years and over who indicated that they worked in 1979.

The data pertain to the number of hours a person usually worked during the weeks worked in 1979. The respondent was to report the number of hours worked per week in the majority of the weeks he or she worked in 1979. If the hours worked per week varied considerably during 1979, the respondent was to report an approximate average of the hours worked per week. The statistics on usual hours worked per week in 1979 are not necessarily related to the data on actual hours worked during the census reference week (question 22b).

Persons 16 years old and over who reported that they usually worked 35 or more hours each week during the weeks they worked are classified as "Usually worked full time;" persons who reported that they usually worked 1 to 34 hours are classified as "Usually worked part time."

Year-Round Full-Time Workers— Persons 16 years old and over who usually worked 35 hours or more per week for 50 to 52 weeks in 1979 are classified as "Year-round full-time workers."

With Unemployment in 1979— Persons 16 years old and over who had one or more weeks of unemployment in 1979 according to the criteria described below are classified as "With unemployment in 1979."

The data on weeks of unemployment in 1979 pertain to the number of weeks during 1979 in which a person 16 years old and over did not work but spent any time looking for work (that is, trying to get a job or start a business or professional practice) or on layoff from a job. Examples of looking for work are presented in the definition of unemployed. Excluded from weeks of unemployment are any weeks in which the person worked, even for one hour; or any weeks for which the person received any wages or salary; or in which the person was on active duty in the Armed Forces, on paid vacation, or on paid leave. The question on weeks of unemployment did not inquire whether persons who reported looking for work were available to accept a job. The number of weeks of unemployment is the total number of weeks accumulated during the entire calendar year 1979, regardless of whether the periods of unemployment were continuous.

Mean Weeks of Unemployment— The mean is based on the distribution of persons with unemployment by individual weeks of unemployment from 1 to 52 weeks.

Number of Workers in Family in 1979— The term "worker" as used for these data is defined according to the criteria described above in the section on "Worked in 1979."

Comparability With Earlier Census Data— The data on weeks worked collected in the 1980 census are comparable with data from the 1970 and 1960 censuses but may not be entirely comparable with data from the 1940 and 1950 censuses. On the three most recent census questionnaires, two separate questions were used to obtain this information. The first identified persons with any work experience during the year and, thus, indicated those persons for whom the question on number of weeks worked was applicable. In 1940 and 1950, however, the questionnaires contained only a single question on number of weeks worked.

In 1970, persons responded to the weeks worked question by indicating one of six weeks-worked intervals; in 1980, persons were asked to report the specific number of weeks they worked.

The data on weeks looking for work during the previous year (1979) and data on usual hours worked were collected for the first time ever in the 1980 census.

OCCUPATION, INDUSTRY, AND CLASS OF WORKER

The data on industry, occupation, and class of worker were derived from answers to questions 28, 29, and 30.

This series of questions was used to obtain industry, occupation, and class of worker information for the employed, the experienced unemployed, and experienced workers not currently in the labor force. The last two categories apply to persons who had worked at some time during the previous five years. All three items relate to one specific job that the person held. For an employed person, the information referred to the job held during the reference week. Those who were employed at two or more jobs reported the job at which they worked the greatest number of hours during the reference week. For experienced unemployed persons and for those not in the labor force, the information referred to the last job that they held.

Clerical staff in the Bureau's processing office converted the written industry and occupation descriptions from the questionnaire to identifying codes by relating these descriptions to an entry in the 1980 Census of Population: Alphabetical Index of Industries and Occupations (PHC80-R3), 1982, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. For the industrial code, however, these coders first referred to a Company Name List. This list, prepared from the Standard Statistical Establishment List developed by the Bureau of the Census for use in the economic censuses and surveys, contains the names of establishments and their Standard Industrial Classification code converted to population census equivalents. This listing facilitates coding and helps maintain industrial classification comparability.

This report presents industry and occupation data for the employed and for the experienced civilian labor force. Class of worker information is shown for employed persons only.

Occupation Classification System

The system developed for the 1980 census consists of 503 specific occupation categories arranged into 6 summary and 13 major occupation groups. The 1980 Census of Population: Classified Index of Industries and Occupations (PHC80-R4), 1982, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C., provides information on the composition of the detailed categories in the census system.

This classification was developed to be consistent with the 1980 Standard Occupational Classification Manual (SOC), published by the U.S. Department of Commerce, Office of Federal Statistical Policy and Standards. This is the first time there was a United States standard for use in developing the census occupational classification. The SOC Manual presents a list of 12 principles used in occupational classification. The primary principles used were as follows; 1) the classification should realistically reflect the current occupational structure of the United States, and 2) an occupation should be classified on the basis of work performed. The conversion of the census classification to the SOC has caused the 1980 census classification to be less comparable with the classifications used in earlier censuses. See the section on "Comparability."

In this report several levels of classification are presented. They range from 13 occupational categories to 482 categories. In this longest list, 36 of the 503 categories in the system have been combined into 14 categories. In addition, all but the shortest levels include some occupational categories subdivided by industry or class of worker groups; these subcategories bring the most detailed tables to over 700 individual categories. For tables 118 to 123 an "intermediate" classification of 121 categories was used. The relationship between the detailed and intermediate levels of occupational classification is provided in list A at the end of this appendix.

Industry Classification System

The industry classification system developed from the 1980 Census of Population consists of 231 categories classified into 13 major industry groups. Since 1940 the industrial classification has been based on the Standard Industrial Classification Manual (SIC). The 1980 census classification was developed from the 1972 SIC published by the Executive Office of the President, Office of Management and Budget, and the 1977 supplement to that manual. The 1980 Census of Population: Classified Index of Industries and Occupations (PHC80-R4), 1982, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C., provides additional information on the census industry classification system.

Several levels of classification are presented in this report. The most detailed tabulation contains the full industry detail plus a few class of worker subcategories. Table 124 shows this level of detail. An "intermediate" classification, used in tables 125 and 126, has 140 industry lines. The relationship between the detailed and intermediate levels of industrial classification is provided in list B at the end of this appendix. A one-page condensed tabulation is used for tables 127, 128, and 129. The relationship between this condensed tabulation and the two longer ones is presented in list C at the end of this appendix.

Relation to Standard Industrial Classification—The Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) was developed under the sponsorship of the Office of Management and Budget and is designed for the classification of establishments by type of industrial activity in which they are engaged. One of the major purposes of the SIC is to promote uniformity and comparability in the presentation of statistical data collected by various agencies. Accordingly, in the Census of Population the industry categories are defined in these terms. However, population census reports, which are collected from households, differ in nature and detail from those obtained from establishment reports. Therefore, the population census classification system, though defined in SIC terms, cannot reflect the full detail of the SIC system.

In addition, population census data may differ from other industrial data because the dates to which the data refer may not be the same; workers who live in one geographic area and work in another may be reported at their place of residence by the population census but at their place of work in surveys; and dual jobholders may be counted in the reports of two establishments but counted in the census for only their major job.

Relation of Some Industry Groups to Similar Occupations or Class of Worker—The industry category "public administration" is limited to regular government functions such as legislative, judicial, administrative, and regulatory activities. Other government organizations such as schools, hospitals, and bus lines are classified by industry according to the activity in which they are engaged. On the other hand, the class of worker government categories include all government workers.

Some occupation groups are closely related to certain industries. Operators of transportation equipment, farm operators and workers, and private household workers account for major portions of their respective industries of transportation, agriculture, and private households. The industry categories, however, include persons in other occupations. For example, persons employed in agriculture include truck drivers and bookkeepers; persons employed in the transportation industry include mechanics, freight handlers and bookkeepers; and persons employed in the private household industry include occupations such as chauffeurs, gardeners, and secretaries.

Class of Worker

The class of worker item on the questionnaire consists of seven categories which are defined as follows:

1. Private wage and salary workers—

Persons who worked for a private employer for wages, salary, commission, tips, pay-in-kind, or at piece rates. Private employers include churches and other non-profit organizations.

2. Government workers—Persons who worked for any governmental unit, regardless of the activity of the particular agency. This category is subdivided by the level of government:

- a. Federal (including international)
- b. Commonwealth
- c. Municipal

3. Self-employed workers—

a. Own business not incorporated—Persons who worked for profit or fees in their own unincorporated business, profession, or trade, or who operated a farm. Included here are the owner-operators of large stores and manufacturing establishments as well as small merchants, independent craftspeople and professionals, farmers, peddlers, and other persons who conducted enterprises of their own.

b. Own business incorporated—Persons who consider themselves self-employed but work for corporations. In most cases the respondents will own or be part of a group that owns a controlling interest in the corporation. Since all workers of a corporation are defined as wage and salary workers, this category is tabulated with "private wage and salary workers," and shown as a subcategory of that group.

4. Unpaid family workers—Persons who worked without pay on a farm or in a business operated by a person to whom they are related by blood or marriage. These are usually the children or the wife or husband of the owner of a business or farm.

Edit and Allocation Procedures—Occasionally respondents supplied industry, occupation, or class of worker descriptions which were not sufficiently specific for precise classification or did not report on these items. Some of these cases were corrected through the field editing process and during the coding and tabulation operations. In the coding operation certain types of incomplete entries were corrected using the Alphabetical Index of Industries and Occupations. For example, it is possible in certain situations to assign an industry code based on the occupation reported.

Following the coding operation, there was a computer edit and allocation process. The edit first determined whether a respondent was in the universe which required an industry and occupation code. The codes for the three items (industry, occupation, and class of worker) were checked to make sure they were valid and were edited for their relation to each other. Invalid and inconsistent codes were either blanked or changed to a consistent code.

If one or more of the three codes were blank after the edit, a code was allocated from a "similar" person based on other items such as age, sex, education, farm or non-farm residence, and weeks worked. (For further information, see appendix D.) This was the first census that allocated industry and occupation to detailed categories.

Comparability With Earlier Census Data—Comparability of industry and occupation data is affected by a number of factors, a major one being the systems used to classify the questionnaire responses. For both the industry and occupation classification systems, the basic structures were generally the same from 1940 to 1970, but changes in the individual categories limited the comparability of the data from one census to another. These changes resulted from the need to recognize the "birth" of new industries and occupations, the "death" of others, and growth and decline in existing industries and occupations, as well as the desire of analysts and other users for increased detail in the presentation of the data. Probably the greatest cause of lack of comparability is the movement of a segment of a category to a different category in the next census. Such movements are necessitated by changes in functions and respondent terminology, and refinement of category composition.

In the 1980 census, the industry classification underwent limited change to reflect changes to the SIC. The occupation classification, however, was substantially revised because of the adoption of the Standard Occupational Classification by the Federal agencies (see "Occupation Classification System"). During this entire period, from 1940 to 1980, the number of categories in the industry classification system increased from 132 to 231, and in the occupation system from 224 to 503.

Other factors that affect data comparability include the universe to which the data refer (in 1970, the age cutoff for labor force was changed from 14 years to 16 years); how the industry and occupation questions are worded on the questionnaire (for example, important changes were made in 1970); improvements in the coding procedures (the Company Name List technique was introduced in 1960); and how the "not reported" cases are handled. Prior to 1970, they were placed in residual "Industry not reported" and "Occupation not reported" categories. In 1970, an allocation process was introduced through which these cases were assigned to major groups. In 1980, the "not reported" cases were assigned to individual categories. Therefore, the 1980 data for individual categories include some numbers of persons who would have remained as "not reported" in the tabulations from previous censuses. Tables 115 and 124 of this report show 1970 industry and occupation data revised to be comparable with the 1980 data. The adjustments are based on a project where 1980 industry and occupation codes were added to a 1970 U.S. Census sample of about 120,000 labor force cases.

The following publications contain information on the various factors affecting comparability and are particularly useful for understanding differences in the occupation and industry information from earlier censuses: U.S. Bureau of the Census, Sixteenth Census Reports, Population, Comparative Occupational Statistics for the United States, 1870 to 1940; U.S. Bureau of the Census, Occupation Trends in the United States, 1900 to 1950, Working Paper No. 5, 1958; U.S. Bureau of the Census, Changes Between the 1950 and 1960 Occupation and Industry Classification—With Detailed Adjustments of 1950 Data to the 1960 Classifications, Technical Paper No. 18, 1968; and U.S. Bureau of the Census, 1970 Occupation and Industry Classification Systems in Terms of their 1960 Occupation and Industry Elements, Technical Paper No. 26, 1972.

Comparability With Other Data—Comparability between the statistics presented in this volume and statistics from other sources is affected by many of the factors described in the section on "Labor Force Status." These factors are primarily geographic differences between residence and place of work, different dates of reference, and differences in counts because of dual job holding. Industry data from population censuses cover all industries and all kinds of workers, whereas data from establishments often exclude private household workers, government workers, and the self-employed. Also, the replies from household respondents may differ in detail and nature from those obtained from establishments.

Occupation data from the census and data from government licensing agencies, professional associations, trade unions, etc., may not be as comparable as expected. Organizational listings often include persons not in the labor force or persons devoting all or most of their time to another occupation; or the same person may be included in two or more different listings. In addition, relatively few organizations, except for those requiring licensing, attain complete coverage of membership in a particular occupation field.

INCOME IN 1979

The data on income in 1979 were derived from answers to questions 32 and 33.

Information on money income received in the calendar year 1979 was requested from persons 15 years old and over. "Total income" is the algebraic sum of the amounts reported separately for wage or salary income; nonfarm net self-employment income; farm net self-employment income; interest, dividend, net royalty or rental income; Social Security or Railroad Retirement income; public assistance or welfare income; and all other income. "Earnings" is defined as the algebraic sum of wage or salary income and net income from farm and nonfarm self-employment. The earnings figures represent the amount of income received regularly before deductions for personal taxes, Social Security, bond purchases, union dues, medicare deductions, etc.

Receipts from the following sources were not included as income: money received from the sale of property (unless the recipient was engaged in the business of selling such property); the value of income "in kind" from food stamps, public housing subsidies, medical care, employer contributions for pensions, etc.; withdrawal of bank deposits; money borrowed; tax refunds; exchange of money between relatives living in the same household; and gifts, lump-sum inheritances, insurance payments, and other types of lump-sum receipts.

Type of Income

The seven types of income reported in the census are defined as follows:

Wage or Salary Income—Total money earnings received for work performed as an employee during the calendar year 1979. It includes wages, salary, Armed Forces pay, commissions, tips, piece-rate payments, and cash bonuses earned, before deductions were made for taxes, bonds, pensions, union dues, etc.

Nonfarm Self-Employment Income—Net money income (gross receipts minus expenses) from one's own business, professional enterprise, or partnership. Gross receipts include the value of all goods sold and services rendered. Expenses include costs of goods purchased, rent, light, power, depreciation charges, wages and salaries paid, business taxes (not personal income taxes), etc.

Farm Self-Employment Income—Net money income (gross receipts minus operating expenses) from the operation of a farm by a person on his own account, as an owner, renter, or sharecropper. Gross receipts include the value of all products sold, government farm programs, money received from the rental of farm equipment to others, and incidental receipts from the sale of wood, sand, gravel, etc. Operating expenses include cost of feed, fertilizer, seed, and other farming supplies, cash wages paid to farmhands, depreciation charges, cash rent, interest on farm mortgages, farm building repairs, farm taxes (not personal income taxes), etc. The value of fuel, food, or other farm products used for family living is not included as part of net income.

Interest, Dividend, or Net Rental Income—Includes interest on savings or bonds, dividends from stockholdings or membership in associations, net royalties, and net income from rental of property to others and receipts from boarders or lodgers.

Social Security Income—Includes Social Security pensions and survivors benefits and permanent disability insurance payments made by the Social Security Administration, prior to deductions for medical insurance, and Railroad Retirement insurance checks from the U.S. Government. "Medicare" reimbursements are not included.

Public Assistance Income—Includes (1) Supplementary Security Income payments made by Federal welfare agencies to low income persons who are aged (65 years old or over), blind, or disabled; (2) aid to families with dependent children, and (3) general assistance. Separate payments received for hospital or other medical care (vendor payments) are excluded from this item.

All Other Income—Includes unemployment compensation, veterans' payments, public or private pensions, alimony or child support, worker's compensation, periodic payments from estates and trust funds, periodic receipts from annuities or insurance, contributions received periodically from persons not living in the household, military family allotments, net gambling winnings, and other kinds of periodic income other than earnings.

Income of Households—Due to increased demand in the 1970's by a wide variety of data users, information on the income of households is presented for all geographic areas in this report. Household income includes the income of the householder and all other persons 15 years old and over in the household, whether related to the householder or not. Since many households consist of only one person, average household income is usually less than average family income.

Income of Families and Unrelated Individuals—In the compilation of statistics on family income, the incomes of all members 15 years old and over in each family are added and treated as a single amount. However, for unrelated individuals 15 years old and over, the total amount of their own income is used. Although the income statistics cover the calendar year 1979, the characteristics of persons and the composition of families refer to the time of enumeration (April 1980). Thus, the income of the family does not include amounts received by persons who were members of the family during all or part of the calendar year 1979 if these persons no longer resided with the family at the time of enumeration. On the other hand, family income amounts reported by related persons who did not reside with the family during 1979 but who were members of the family at the time of enumeration are included. However, the composition of most families was the same during 1979 as in April 1980.

Median Income—The median income is the amount which divides the distribution into two equal groups, one having incomes above the median and the other having incomes below the median. For households, families, and unrelated individuals the median income is based on the distribution of the total number of units including those with no income. The median for persons is based on persons with income. The median income values for all households, families, and unrelated individuals are computed on the basis of more detailed income intervals than shown in this report. Median income figures of $20,000 or less are generally calculated using linear interpolation; all other median income amounts are derived through Pareto interpolation. For a detailed description of these interpolation procedures, see appendix B to the Current Population Reports, Series P-60, No. 129, Money Income of Families and Persons in the United States: 1979.

Mean Income—The mean income is the amount obtained by dividing the total income of a particular statistical universe by the number of units in that universe. Thus, mean household income is obtained by dividing total household income by the total number of households. For the various types of income the means are based on households having those types of income.

Care should be exercised in using and interpreting mean income values for small subgroups of the population. Since the mean is strongly influenced by extreme values in the distribution, it is especially susceptible to the effects of sampling variability, misreporting, and processing errors. The median, which is not affected by extreme values, is, therefore, a better measure than the mean when the population base is small. The mean, nevertheless, is shown in this report for most small subgroups because, when weighted according to the number of cases, the means can be added to obtain summary measures for areas and groups other than those shown in this report.

Limitations of the Data—Since questionnaire entries for income are frequently based on memory and not on records, many persons tend to forget minor or irregular sources of income, and therefore, underreport their income. Underreporting tends to be more pronounced for income sources that are not derived from earnings, such as Social Security, public assistance, or net income from interest, dividends, and rentals. In addition, there are errors of reporting due to a misunderstanding of the income questions. One such error is the reporting of gross rather than net dollar amounts for the two questions on net self-employment income, which results in an overstatement of these items. Another common error is the reporting of identical dollar amounts in two of the seven types of income items where a respondent with only one source of income assumed that the second amount should be entered to represent total income. Such instances of overreporting would have an impact on the level of mean nonfarm or farm self-employment income and mean total income published for the various geographical subdivisions of Puerto Rico.

Extensive review procedures were instituted in the coding operation to reduce some of these reporting errors and to improve the accuracy of the income data. Moreover, many reporting errors were rectified through the coding and the computer editing procedures, with the result that the consistency of reported income items with work experience, occupation, and class of worker information was improved. For example, if a person reported he was self-employed on his own farm, not incorporated, but had reported wage and salary earnings only, the latter amount was shifted to net farm self-employment income. Also, if a person reported total income only, the amount was generally assigned to one of the type of income items according to responses to the work experience and class-of-worker questions. Another type of problem involved nonreporting of income data. Where income information was not reported, computer allocation procedures were devised to impute appropriate values (either no income or positive or negative dollar amounts) for the missing entries. These procedures are described in appendix D.

In income tables for households, families, and unrelated individuals, the lowest income group (e.g., less than $1,000) includes units that were classified as having no 1979 income. Many of these were living on income "in kind," savings, or gifts, were newly created families or were families in which the sole breadwinner had recently died or left the household. However, many of the families and unrelated individuals who reported no income probably had some money income which was not recorded in the census.

The income data in this report cover money income only. The fact that many farm families receive an important part of their income in the form of "free" housing and goods produced and consumed on the farm rather than in money should be taken into consideration in comparing the income of farm and nonfarm residents. Nonmoney income is also received by some nonfarm residents.

Such income often takes the form of business expense accounts, use of business transportation and facilities, or partial compensation by business for medical and educational expenses. Many low income families also receive income "in kind" from public welfare programs. In comparing income data for 1979 with earlier years, it should be noted that an increase or decrease in money income does not necessarily represent a comparable change in real income, unless adjustments for changes in prices are made.

Comparability

Data From Earlier Censuses—The income data collected in the 1960 and 1970 censuses are basically similar to the 1980 census data, but there are variations in the detail of the questions. In 1970, information on income was obtained from all members in every fifth housing unit and small group quarters (less than 15 persons) and every fifth person in all other group quarters. Each person was required to report (a) wage or salary income, (b) net nonfarm self-employment, (c) net farm self-employment, (d) Social Security or Railroad Retirement, (e) public assistance or welfare payments, and (f) income from all other sources in 1969.

Between the 1970 and 1980 censuses, there were also some changes in the processing of the data. In the 1970 census, all missing values were imputed either as "None" or as a dollar amount. If a person reported a dollar amount in (a) wage or salary income, (b) net nonfarm self-employment income, or (c) net farm self-employment income, the person was considered as unallocated only if no further dollar amounts were imputed for any additional missing entries. In the 1980 census, all persons with missing values in one or more of the seven type of income items and total income were designated as allocated. If total income was reported and one or more of the type of income fields was not answered, then the entry in total income was generally assigned to one of the income types according to the socioeconomic characteristics of the income recipient. This person was designated as unallocated. Moreover, there was a difference in the method of computer derivation of aggregate income from individual amounts that were coded in tens, hundreds, and thousands of dollars in the coding operation. In the 1970 census processing, $50 and $5,000, respectively, were added by the computer to each amount coded in hundreds of dollars (under $100,000) and tens of thousands ($100,000 or more). Entries of $990,000 or more were treated as $995,000, and losses of $9,900 or more were treated as minus $9,950. In the 1980 census, income amounts less than $100,000 were coded in tens of dollars, and amounts of $100,000 or more were coded in thousands of dollars; $5 was added to each amount coded in tens of dollars and $500 to each amount coded in thousands of dollars. Entries of $999,000 or more were treated as $999,500, and losses of $9,990 or more were treated as $9,995 in all of the computer derivations of income aggregates. The coding schemes used in both the 1970 and 1980 censuses were developed to accommodate space limitations on the questionnaires.

In both the 1970 and 1980 censuses, all nonrespondents on income (whether heads of families or other persons) were assigned the reported income of persons with similar characteristics, as described generally in appendix D.

In 1960, data on income were obtained from all members in every fourth housing unit and from every fourth person 14 years old and over living in group quarters. Each person was requested to report (a) wage or salary income, (b) net self-employment income, and (c) income other than earnings received in 1959. An assumption was made in the editing process that no other type of income was received by a person who reported the receipt of either wage and salary income or self-employment but who had failed to report the receipt of other money income.

In 1950, information on income was obtained from every person 14 years old and over. If the sample person was the head of the family, the income questions were repeated for the other family members as a group in order to obtain the income of the whole family. In the tabulations of family income for the 1950 census, if only the head's income was reported, it was assumed that there was no other income in the family.

Income Tax Data—For several reasons, the income data shown in this report are not directly comparable with those which may be obtained from statistical summaries of income tax returns. Income, as defined for tax purposes, differs somewhat from the Bureau of the Census concept. Moreover, the coverage of income tax statistics is different because of the exemptions of persons having small amounts of income and the inclusion of net capital gains in tax returns. Furthermore, members of some families file separate returns and others file joint returns; consequently the income reporting unit is not consistently either a family or a person.

Social Security Administration Earnings Record Data—The earnings data shown in this report are not directly comparable with earnings records of the Social Security Administration. The earnings record data for 1979 exclude the earnings of most federal government employees, some employees of nonprofit organizations, workers covered by the Railroad Retirement Act, and persons not covered by the program because of insufficient earnings. Furthermore, earnings received from any one employer in excess of $22,900 in 1979 are not covered by earnings records. Finally, since census data are obtained from household questionnaires, they may differ from Social Security Administration earnings record data, which are based upon employer's reports and the income tax returns of self-employed persons.

POVERTY STATUS IN 1979

Definitions

The data on poverty status were derived from answers to the same questions as the income data (see section on "Income in 1979").

Poverty statistics presented in this report are based on a definition originated by the Social Security Administration in 1964 and subsequently modified by Federal interagency committees in 1969 and 1980. At the core of this definition is the 1961 economy food plan, the least costly of four nutritionally adequate food plans designed by the Department of Agriculture. It was determined from the Agriculture Department's 1955 survey of food consumption that families of three or more persons spent approximately one-third of their income on food; hence the poverty level for these families was set at three times the cost of the economy food plan. For smaller families and persons living alone, the cost of the economy food plan was multiplied by factors that were slightly higher in order to compensate for the relatively larger fixed expenses for these smaller households.

The income cutoffs used by the Bureau of the Census to determine the poverty status of families and unrelated individuals are comprised of a set of 48 thresholds arranged in a two-dimensional matrix consisting of family size (from one person to nine or more persons) cross-classified by presence and number of family members under 18 years old (from no children present to eight or more children present). Unrelated individuals and two-person families are further differentiated by age of the householder (under 65 years old and 65 years old and over). The total income of each family or unrelated individual in the sample is tested against the appropriate poverty threshold to determine the poverty status of that family or unrelated individual. If the total income is less than the corresponding cutoff, the family or unrelated individual is classified as below the poverty level. The number of persons below the poverty level is the sum of the number of persons in families with incomes below the poverty level and the number of unrelated individuals with incomes below the poverty level.

The poverty thresholds are revised annually to allow for changes in the cost of living as reflected in the Consumer Price Index. The average poverty threshold for a family of four persons was $7,412 in 1979. (See table at end of appendix.)

The poverty thresholds are computed on a national basis only. No attempt has been made to adjust these thresholds for regional, State, or local variations in the cost of living. Therefore, the thresholds used for Puerto Rico are the same as those used for the United States.

For a detailed discussion of the poverty definition, see U.S. Bureau of the Census, Current Population Reports, Series P-60, No. 133, Characteristics of the Population Below the Poverty Level: 1980.

Persons for Whom Poverty Status is Determined—Poverty status is determined for all persons except inmates of institutions, persons in military group quarters and in college dormitories, and unrelated individuals under 15 years old. When the line, "Persons for whom poverty status is determined," appears under the heading, "All Income Levels in 1979," it shows the total population minus persons in the four groups listed above. When the same line appears under the heading, "Income in 1979 Below Poverty Level," it shows the number of such persons who are classified as being below the poverty level. In tables that contain only poverty data, the above exclusions are stated in the headnote and the word "Persons" is used in place of "Persons for whom poverty status is determined."

Poverty Status Excluding Social Security and/or Public Assistance Income—Poverty status is normally computed on the basis of total family or unrelated individual income. In table 147 poverty status is also computed on the basis of total family or unrelated individual income less any public assistance or Social Security income. In these tabulations persons in families are classified as with Social Security income and/or public assistance income if any family member received such income in 1979.

Specified Poverty Levels—Because the poverty levels currently in use by the Federal Government do not meet all the needs of data users, some of the data are presented for alternate levels ranging from 75 percent to 200 percent of the current poverty level. These specified poverty levels are obtained by multiplying the income cutoffs at the poverty level by the appropriate factor. For example, the average income cutoff at 125 percent of poverty level was $9,265 ($7,412 X 1.25) in 1979 for a family of four persons.

Weighted Average Thresholds at the Poverty Level—The average thresholds shown in the first column of the table were weighted by the presence and number of children. For example, the weighted average threshold for a given family size is obtained by multiplying the threshold for each presence and number of children category within the given family size by the number of families in that category. These products are then aggregated across the entire range of presence and number of children categories, and the aggregate is divided by the total number of families in the group to yield the weighted average threshold at the poverty level for that family size.

Since the basic thresholds used to determine the poverty status of families and unrelated individuals are applied to all families and unrelated individuals, the weighted average poverty thresholds are derived using all families and unrelated individuals rather than just those classified as being below the poverty level. To obtain the weighted poverty thresholds for families and unrelated individuals below alternate poverty levels, the weighted thresholds shown in the table may be multiplied directly by the appropriate factor. The weighted average thresholds presented in the table are based on the March 1980 Current Population Survey. However, it is felt that these thresholds would not differ significantly from those based on the 1980 census.

Income Deficit—Income deficit is the difference between the total income of families and unrelated individuals below the poverty level and their respective poverty thresholds. In computing the income deficit, families reporting a net income loss are assigned zero dollars and for such cases the deficit is equal to the poverty threshold. This measure provides an estimate of the amount which would be required to raise the incomes of all poor families and unrelated individuals to their respective poverty thresholds. The income deficit is thus a measure of the degree of impoverishment of a family or unrelated individual. However, caution must be exercised in comparing the average deficits of families with different characteristics. Apparent differences in average income deficits may, to some extent, be a function of differences in family size.

Mean Income Deficit—The mean income deficit is the amount obtained by dividing the total income deficit of a group below the poverty level by the number of families (or unrelated individuals) in that group. The mean deficits shown in table 149 of this report may differ slightly from the means previously published in the General Social and Economic Characteristics, PC80-1-C reports. These differences are due to different rounding procedures used in tabulating the income deficits in the two report series.

Median Income Deficit—The median income deficit is the amount which divides the distribution into two equal parts, one having an income deficit above the median and the other having an income deficit below the median.

Comparability With Earlier Censuses

The poverty definition used in the 1980 census differs slightly from the one used in the 1970 census. Three technical modifications were made to the definition used in the 1970 census, as described below:

1. The separate thresholds for families with a female householder with no husband present and all other families were eliminated. For the 1980 census, the weighted average of the poverty thresholds for these two types of families were applied to all types of families, regardless of the sex of the householder.

2. Farm families and farm unrelated individuals no longer have a set of poverty thresholds that are lower than the thresholds applied to nonfarm families and unrelated individuals. Instead, the nonfarm thresholds were applied to all families and unrelated individuals regardless of residence.
3. The thresholds by size of family were extended from seven or more persons to nine or more persons.

These changes result in a minimal increase in the number of poor at the national level. For a complete discussion of these modifications and their impact, see Current Population Reports, Series P-60, No. 133.

The population covered in the poverty statistics derived from the 1980 census is essentially the same as in the 1970 census. The only difference is that in 1980, unrelated individuals under 15 years old were excluded from the poverty universe, while in 1970, only those under 14 years old were excluded. It is unlikely that these differences in population coverage would have a significant impact when comparing the poverty data for persons from the 1980 and 1970 censuses.

Limitations

The term "Poverty" connotes a complex set of economic, social, and psychological conditions. The statistics presented in this report provide only estimates of economic poverty based on the receipt of money income before taxes. Readers should also be aware that for many different reasons there is a tendency for respondents to underreport their income. Overall, income earned from wages or salary is more accurately reported than other sources of income. (For a complete discussion of the limitations of the income data, see section on "Income in 1979".)

It should be pointed out that non-money income is not considered in determining poverty status. In recent years, however, receipts from nonmoney transfers such as food stamps, housing subsidies, and health benefits have become an increasingly important element in the income of poor persons. For further information on the subject of valuing noncash benefits, see U.S. Bureau of the Census, Technical Paper 50, Alternative Methods for Valuing Selected In-Kind Transfer Benefits and Measuring Their Effect on Poverty. For a complete discussion of the limitations of the poverty concept, see Current Population Reports, Series P-60, No. 133.

  - Inspectors, agricultural products (5627)
- 89. Forestry and fishing occupations
  - Supervisors, forestry and logging workers (571)

Appendix B.—Definitions and Explanations of Subject Characteristics

FARMING, FORESTRY, AND FISHING OCCUPATIONS—CON.

Forestry and fishing occupations—Con.

- Forestry workers, except logging (572)
- Timber cutting and logging occupations (573, 579)
- Captains and other officers, fishing vessels (part 8241)
- Fishers (583)
- Hunters and trappers (584)

PRECISION PRODUCTION, CRAFT, AND REPAIR OCCUPATIONS

- 90. Automobile mechanics, including body
  - Automobile mechanics (6111)
  - Automobile body and related repairers (6115)
- 91. Aircraft mechanics (6113, 6116)
- 92. Heating, air conditioning, and refrigeration mechanics (616)
- 93. Other mechanics and repairers
  - Supervisors, mechanics and repairers (60)
  - Bus, truck, and stationary engine mechanics (6112)
  - Small engine repairers (6114)
  - Heavy equipment mechanics (6117)
  - Farm equipment mechanics (6118)
  - Industrial machinery repairers (613)
  - Machinery maintenance occupations (614)
  - Electronic repairers, communications and industrial equipment (6151, 6153, 6155)
  - Data processing equipment repairers (6154)
  - Household appliance and power tool repairers (6156)
  - Telephone line installers and repairers (6157)
  - Telephone installers and repairers (6158)
  - Miscellaneous electrical and electronic equipment repairers (6152, 6159)
  - Camera, watch, and musical instrument repairers (6171, 6172)
  - Locksmiths and safe repairers (6173)
  - Office machine repairers (6174)
  - Mechanical controls and valve repairers (6175)
  - Elevator installers and repairers (6176)
  - Millwrights (6178)
  - Specified mechanics and repairers, n.e.c. (6177, 6179)
  - Not specified mechanics and repairers
- 94. Carpenters (6422)
- 95. Electricians (6432)
- 96. Painters, construction and maintenance (6442)
- 97. Plumbers, pipefitters, and steamfitters (645)
- 98. Other construction trades
  - Supervisors; brickmasons, stonemasons, and tile setters (6312)
  - Supervisors; carpenters and related workers (6313)
  - Supervisors; electricians and power transmission installers (6314)
  - Supervisors; painters, paperhangers, and plasterers (6315)
  - Supervisors; plumbers, pipefitters, and steamfitters (6316)
  - Supervisors; n.e.c. (6311, 6318)
  - Brickmasons and stonemasons (6412, 6413)
  - Tile setters, hard and soft (6414, part 6462)
  - Carpet installers (Part 6462)
  - Drywall installers (6424)
  - Electrical power installers and repairers (6433)
  - Paperhangers (6443)
  - Plasterers (6444)
  - Concrete and terrazzo finishers (6463)
  - Glaziers (6464)
  - Insulation workers (6465)
  - Paving, surfacing, and tamping equipment operators (6466)
  - Roofers (6468)
  - Sheetmetal duct installers (6472)
  - Structural metal workers (6473)
  - Drillers, earth (6474)
  - Construction trades, n.e.c. (6467, 6475, 6476, 6479)
- 99. Extractive occupations
  - Supervisors, extractive occupations (632)
  - Drillers, oil well (652)
  - Explosives workers (653)
  - Mining machine operators (654)
  - Mining occupations, n.e.c. (656)

PRECISION PRODUCTION, CRAFT, AND REPAIR OCCUPATIONS—CON.

- 100. Supervisors, production occupations (67, 71)
- 101. Manufacturing
  - Nondurable goods
  - Durable goods
  - * Nonmanufacturing industries
    - Transportation, communications, and other public utilities
    - Wholesale and retail trade
    - All other industries
- 102. Tool and die makers (6811)
- 103. Machinists (6813)
- 104. Sheet metal workers (6824)
- 105. Other precision metal workers
  - Precision assemblers, metal (6812)
  - Boilermakers (6814)
  - Precision grinders, filers, and tool sharpeners (6816)
  - Patternmakers and model makers, metal (6817)
  - Lay-out workers (6821)
  - Precious stones and metals workers (Jewelers) (6822, 6866)
  - Engravers, metal (6823)
  - Miscellaneous precision metal workers (6829)
- 106. Precision textile, apparel, and furnishings machine workers
  - Dressmakers (Part 6852, part 7752)
  - Tailors (Part 6852)
  - Upholsterers (6853)
  - Shoe repairers (6854)
  - Apparel and fabric patternmakers (6856)
  - Miscellaneous precision apparel and fabric workers (6859, part 7752)
- 107. Plant and system operators
  - Water and sewage treatment plant operators (691)
  - Power plant operators (Part 693)
  - Stationary engineers (Part 693, 7668)
  - Miscellaneous plant and system operators (692, 694, 695, 696)
- 108. Other precision production occupations
  - Patternmakers and model makers, wood (6831)
  - Cabinet makers and bench carpenters (6832)
  - Furniture and wood finishers (6835)
  - Miscellaneous precision woodworkers (6839)
  - Hand molders and shapers, except jewelers (6861)
  - Patternmakers, lay-out workers, and cutters (6862)
  - Optical goods workers (6864, part 7477, part 7677)
  - Dental laboratory and medical appliance technicians (6865)
  - Bookbinders (6844)
  - Electrical and electronic equipment assemblers (6867)
  - Miscellaneous precision workers, n.e.c. (6869)
  - Butchers and meat cutters (6871)
  - Bakers (6872)
  - Food batchmakers (6873, 6879)
  - Inspectors, testers, and graders (6881, 828)
  - Adjusters and calibrators (6882)

MACHINE OPERATORS, ASSEMBLERS, AND INSPECTORS

- 109. Metalworking and plastic working machine operators
  - Lathe and turning machine set-up operators (7312)
  - Lathe and turning machine operators (7512)
  - Milling and planing machine operators (7313, 7513)
  - Punching and stamping press machine operators (7314, 7317, 7514, 7517)
  - Rolling machine operators (7316, 7516)
  - Drilling and boring machine operators (7318, 7518)
  - Grinding, abrading, buffing and polishing machine operators (7322, 7324, 7522)
  - Forging machine operators (7319, 7519)
  - Numerical control machine operators (7326)
  - Miscellaneous metal, plastic, stone, and glass working machine operators (7329, 7529)
- 110. Printing machine operators
  - Printing machine operators (7443, 7643)
  - Photoengravers and lithographers (6842, 7444, 7644)
  - Typesetters and compositors (6841, 7642)
  - Miscellaneous printing machine operators (6849, 7449, 7649)

Appendix B.—Definitions and Explanations of Subject Characteristics

MACHINE OPERATORS, ASSEMBLERS, AND INSPECTORS—CON.		MACHINE OPERATORS, ASSEMBLERS, AND INSPECTORS—CON.
111.	Textile, apparel, and furnishings machine operators	Miscellaneous and not specified machine operators by industry:
112.	Textile machine operators	—Con.
	Winding and twisting machine operators (7451, 7651)	Other durable goods
	Knitting, looping, taping, and weaving machine operators (7452, 7652)	Lumber and wood products, except furniture
	Textile cutting machine operators (7654)	Furniture and fixtures
	Miscellaneous textile machine operators (7459, 7659)	Stone, clay, glass, and concrete products
113.	Textile sewing machine operators (7655)	Professional and photographic equipment and watches
114.	Laundering and dry cleaning machine operators (6855, 7658)	Miscellaneous manufacturing industries
	* Shoe and pressing machine operators	Not specified manufacturing industries
	Shoe machine operators (7656)	125. Transportation, communications, and other public utilities
	Pressing machine operators (7657)	126. Wholesale and retail trade
115.	Other specified machine operators	Wholesale trade
	Fabricating machine operators, n.e.c. (7339, 7539)	Retail trade
	Molding and casting machine operators (7315, 7342, 7515, 7542)	127. All other industries
	Metal plating machine operators (7343, 7543)	Construction
	Heat treating equipment operators (7344, 7544)	Business and repair services
	Miscellaneous metal and plastic processing machine operators (7349, 7549)	Public administration
	Wood lathe, routing, and planing machine operators (7431, 7432, 7631, 7632)	All other industries
	Sawing machine operators (7433, 7633)	128. Welders and cutters (7332, 7532, 7714)
	Shaping and joining machine operators (7435, 7635)	130. Assemblers (772, 774)
	Nailing and tacking machine operators (7636)	131. Other fabricators and hand working occupations
	Miscellaneous woodworking machine operators (7434, 7439, 7634, 7639)	Solderers and brazers (7333, 7533, 7717)
	Cementing and gluing machine operators (7661)	Hand cutting and trimming occupations (7753)
	Packaging and filling machine operators (7462, 7662)	Hand molding, casting, and forming occupations (7754, 7755)
	Extruding and forming machine operators (7463, 7663)	Hand painting, coating and decorating occupations (7756)
	Mixing and blending machine operators (7664)	Hand engraving and printing occupations (7757)
	Separating, filtering, and clarifying machine operators (7476, 7666, 7676)	Hand grinding and polishing occupations (7758)
	Compressing and compacting machine operators (7467, 7667)	Miscellaneous hand working occupations (7759)
	Painting and paint spraying machine operators (7669)	132. Production inspectors, testers, samplers, and weighers
	Roasting and baking machine operators, food (7472, 7672)	Production inspectors, checkers, and examiners (782, 787)
	Washing, cleaning, and pickling machine operators (7673)	Production testers (783)
	Folding machine operators (7474, 7674)	Production samplers and weighers (784)
	Furnace, kiln, and oven operators, except food (7675)	Graders and sorters, except agricultural (785)
	Crushing and grinding machine operators (Part 7477, part 7677)
	Slicing and cutting machine operators (7478, 7678)	TRANSPORTATION AND MATERIAL MOVING OCCUPATIONS
	Motion picture projectionists (Part 7479)	133. Motor vehicle operators
	Photographic process machine operators (6863, 6868, 7671)	134. Truck drivers and driver-sales workers
116.	Miscellaneous machine operators, n.e.c. (Part 7479, 7665, 7679)	Truck drivers, heavy (8212, 8213)
117.	Machine operators, not specified	Truck drivers, light (8214)
	Miscellaneous and not specified machine operators by industry:	Driver-sales workers (8218)
118.	Food and kindred products	135. Bus drivers (8215)
119.	Textile mill and finished textile products	* Other motor vehicle operators
	Textile mill products	Supervisors, motor vehicle operators (8111)
	Apparel and other finished textile products	Taxicab drivers and chauffeurs (8216)
120.	Paper and allied products	Parking lot attendants (874)
121.	Other nondurable goods	Motor transportation occupations, n.e.c. (8219)
	Tobacco manufactures	136. Rail and water transportation occupations
	Printing, publishing, and allied industries	Railroad conductors and yardmasters (8113)
	Chemicals and allied products	Locomotive operating occupations (8232)
	Petroleum and coal products	Railroad brake, signal, and switch operators (8233)
	Rubber and miscellaneous plastics products	Rail vehicle operators, n.e.c. (8239)
	Leather and leather products	Ship captains and mates, except fishing boats (Part 8241, 8242)

List B. INTERMEDIATE INDUSTRIAL CLASSIFICATION (144 ITEMS) WITH COMPONENT DETAILED CATEGORIES

This list presents the relationship between the detailed industry stub (e.g., table 124) and the intermediate industry stub (e.g., table 125). The industry groups marked with an asterisk (*) are not shown in the tables using the intermediate classification but can be derived by subtraction. Numbers in parentheses following the industry categories are the SIC definitions.

AGRICULTURE, FORESTRY, AND FISHERIES

1. Agricultural production
  - Agricultural production, crops (01)
  - Agricultural production, livestock (02)
2. Agricultural services, including horticultural
  - Agricultural services, except horticultural (07 except 078)
  - Horticultural services (078)
3. Forestry and fisheries
  - Forestry (03)
  - Fishing, hunting, and trapping (09)

MINING

4. Metal mining (10)
5. Coal mining (11, 12)
6. Crude petroleum and natural gas extraction (13)
7. Nonmetallic mining and quarrying, except fuel (14)

CONSTRUCTION

8. Construction (15, 16, 17)

MANUFACTURING

9. Meat products (201)
10. Dairy products (202)
11. Canned and preserved fruits and vegetables (203)
12. Bakery products (205)
13. Beverage industries (208)
14. Other food industries
  - Grain mill products (204)
  - Sugar and confectionery products (206)

MANUFACTURING—CON.

- Other food industries—Con.
  - Miscellaneous food preparations and kindred products (207, 209)
  - Not specified food industries
15. Tobacco manufactures (21)
16. Knitting mills (225)
17. Yarn, thread, and fabric mills (221–224, 228)
18. Other textile mill products
  - Dyeing and finishing textiles, except wool and knit goods (226)
  - Floor coverings, except hard surface (227)
  - Miscellaneous textile mill products (229)
19. Apparel and other finished textile products
  - Apparel and accessories, except knit (231–238)
  - Miscellaneous fabricated textile products (239)
20. Paper and allied products
  - Pulp, paper, and paperboard mills (261–263, 266)
  - Miscellaneous paper and pulp products (264)
  - Paperboard containers and boxes (265)
21. Printing, publishing, and allied industries
  - Newspaper publishing and printing (271)
  - * Printing, publishing, and allied industries, except newspapers (272–279)
22. Chemicals and allied products
  - Plastics, synthetics, and resins (282)
  - Drugs (283)
  - * Other chemicals and allied products
    - Soaps and cosmetics (284)
    - Paints, varnishes, and related products (285)
    - Agricultural chemicals (287)
    - Industrial and miscellaneous chemicals (281, 286, 289)

MANUFACTURING—CON.

- 26. Petroleum and coal products
- 27. Petroleum refining (291)
  - * Miscellaneous petroleum and coal products (295, 299)
- 28. Rubber and miscellaneous plastics products (30)
- 29. Footwear, except rubber and plastic products (313, 314)
- 30. Leather and leather products, except footwear (311, 315–317, 319)
- 31. Logging (241)
- 32. Sawmills, planing mills, and millwork (242, 243)
- 33. Wood buildings, mobile homes, and miscellaneous wood products
  - Wood buildings and mobile homes (245)
  - Miscellaneous wood products (244, 249)
- 34. Furniture and fixtures (25)
- 35. Stone, clay, glass, and concrete products
- 36. Glass and glass products (321–323)
- 37. Cement, concrete, gypsum, and plaster products (324, 327)
  - * Other stone, clay, and miscellaneous nonmetallic mineral products
    - Structural clay products (325)
    - Pottery and related products (326)
    - Miscellaneous nonmetallic mineral and stone products (328, 329)
- 38. Blast furnaces, steelworks, rolling and finishing mills (331)
- 39. Iron and steel industries (332)
- 40. Primary nonferrous industries
  - Primary aluminum industries (3334, part 334, 3353–3355, 3361)
  - Other primary metal industries (3331–3333, 3339, part 334, 3351, 3356, 3357, 3362, 3369, 339)
- 41. Fabricated metal industries
- 42. Cutlery, handtools, and other hardware (342)
- 43. Fabricated structural metal products (344)
- 44. Metal forgings and stampings (346)
  - * Other fabricated metal industries
    - Screw machine products (345)
    - Ordnance (348)
    - Miscellaneous fabricated metal products (341, 343, 347, 349)
    - Not specified metal industries
- 45. Farm machinery and equipment (352)
- 46. Construction and material handling machines (353)
- 47. Metalworking machinery (354)
- 48. Office, accounting, and computing machines
  - Office and accounting machines (357 except 3573)
  - Electronic computing equipment (3573)
- 49. Other machinery, except electrical
  - Engines and turbines (351)
  - Machinery, except electrical, n.e.c. (355, 356, 358, 359)
  - Not specified machinery
- 50. Household appliances (363)
- 51. Radio, TV, and communication equipment (365, 366)
- 52. Other electrical machinery, equipment, and supplies
  - Electrical machinery, equipment, and supplies, n.e.c. (361, 362, 364, 367, 369)
  - Not specified electrical machinery, equipment, and supplies
- 53. Motor vehicles and motor vehicle equipment (371)
- 54. Aircraft, space vehicles, and parts
  - Aircraft and parts (372)
  - Guided missiles, space vehicles, and parts (376)
- 55. Ship and boat building and repairing (373)
- 56. Other transportation equipment
  - Railroad locomotives and equipment (374)
  - Cycles and miscellaneous transportation equipment (375, 379)
- 57. Professional and photographic equipment and watches
  - Scientific and controlling instruments (381, 382)
  - Optical and health services supplies (383, 384, 385)
  - Photographic equipment and supplies (386)
  - Watches, clocks, and clockwork operated devices (387)
  - Not specified professional equipment
- 58. Miscellaneous manufacturing industries
  - Toys, amusement, and sporting goods (394)
  - Other miscellaneous manufacturing industries (39 except 394)
- 59. Not specified manufacturing industries

TRANSPORTATION, COMMUNICATIONS, AND OTHER PUBLIC UTILITIES

- 60. Railroads (40)
- 61. Bus service and urban transit (41 except 412)
- 62. Taxicab service (412)
- 63. Trucking service and warehousing
  - Trucking service (421, 423)
  - Warehousing and storage (422)
- 64. U.S. Postal Service (43)
- 65. Water transportation (44)
- 66. Air transportation (45)
- 67. Other transportation
  - Pipe lines, except natural gas (46)
  - Services incidental to transportation (47)
- 68. Radio and television broadcasting (483)
- 69. Telephone (wire and radio)
- 70. Telegraph and miscellaneous communication services (482, 489)
- 71. Electric and gas utilities
  - Electric light and power (491)
  - Gas and steam supply systems (492, 496)
  - Electric and gas, and other combinations (493)
- 72. Water supply, sanitary services, and other utilities
  - Water supply and irrigation (494, 497)
  - Sanitary services (495)
  - Not specified utilities

WHOLESALE TRADE

- 73. Motor vehicles and equipment (501)
- 74. Lumber and construction materials (503)
- 75. Electrical goods (506)
- 76. Hardware, plumbing and heating supplies (507)
- 77. Machinery, equipment, and supplies (508)
- 78. Other wholesale, durable goods
  - Furniture and home furnishings (502)
  - Sporting goods, toys, and hobby goods (504)
  - Metals and minerals, except petroleum (505)
  - Not specified electrical and hardware products
  - Scrap and waste materials (5093)
  - Miscellaneous wholesale, durable goods (5094, 5099)
- 79. Drugs, chemicals, and allied products (512, 516)
- 80. Groceries and farm products
  - Groceries and related products (514)
  - Farm products — raw materials (515)
- 81. Petroleum products (517)
- 82. Other wholesale, nondurable goods
  - Paper and paper products (511)
  - Apparel, fabrics, and notions (513)
  - Alcoholic beverages (518)
  - Farm supplies (5191)
  - Miscellaneous wholesale, nondurable goods (5194, 5198, 5199)
  - Not specified wholesale trade

RETAIL TRADE

- 83. Hardware and building material retailing
  - Lumber and building material retailing (521, 523)
  - Hardware stores (525)
- 84. General merchandise stores
- 85. Department stores (531)
  - * Other general merchandise stores
    - Variety stores (533)

USUAL PLACE OF RESIDENCE

In accordance with census practice dating back to the first U.S. census in 1790, each person enumerated in the 1980 census was counted as an inhabitant of his or her "usual place of residence," which is generally construed to mean the place where the person lives and sleeps most of the time. This place is not necessarily the same as the person's legal residence or voting residence. In the vast majority of cases, however, the use of these different bases of classification would produce substantially the same statistics, although there might be appreciable differences for a few areas.

The implementation of this practice has resulted in the establishment of residence rules for certain categories of persons whose usual place of residence is not immediately apparent. Furthermore, this practice means that persons were not always counted as residents of the place where they happened to be staying on Census Day (April 1). Persons without a usual place of residence, however, were counted where they happened to be staying.

U.S. Armed Forces

Members of the U.S. Armed Forces living on a military installation were counted, as in previous censuses, as residents of the area in which the installation was located; members of the U.S. Armed Forces not living on a military installation were counted as residents of the areas in which they were living. Family members of U.S. Armed Forces personnel were counted where they were living on Census Day (i.e., with the Armed Forces personnel or at another location, as the case might be).

Each Navy ship was attributed to the location that the Department of the Navy designated as its homeport, except for those ships which were deployed to the 6th or 7th Fleet on Census Day. As was done in the 1970 census, naval personnel aboard deployed ships were defined in the 1980 census as part of the overseas population, because deployment to the 6th or 7th Fleet implies a long-term overseas assignment.

In homeports with fewer than 1,000 naval personnel assigned to ships, the crews were counted aboard the ship. In homeports with 1,000 or more naval personnel assigned to ships, the naval personnel who indicated that they had a usual residence within 50 miles of the homeport of their ship were attributed to that residence.

When a homeport designated by the Navy was contained in more than one geographic entity, ships homeported and berthed there on Census Day were assigned by the Bureau of the Census to the entity in which the land immediately adjacent to the dock or pier was actually located. Other ships attributed by the Navy to that homeport, but which were not physically present and not deployed to the 6th or 7th Fleet on Census Day, were allocated to the location named on the Navy's homeport list.

Crews of Merchant Vessels

Shipboard Census Reports were mailed to crews of merchant vessels through the ships' respective owner-operators based on lists of U.S. flag merchant vessels obtained from the Maritime Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce.

If a ship was berthed in a U.S. port, including Puerto Rico, on Census Day, the crew was enumerated as of that port. If the ship was not berthed in a U.S. port but was inside the territorial waters of the United States, the crew was enumerated as of (a) the port of destination if that port was inside the United States, including Puerto Rico, or (b) the homeport of the ship if its port of destination was outside the United States, including Puerto Rico. Crews of U.S. flag vessels which were outside U.S. territorial waters on Census Day and crews of vessels flying a foreign flag were not enumerated in the 1980 census.

Persons Away at School

College students were counted as residents of the area in which they were living while attending college, as has been done since 1950. Children in boarding schools below the college level were counted at their parental home.

Persons in Institutions

Inmates of institutions, who ordinarily live there for considerable periods of time, were counted as residents of the area where the institution was located. Patients in short-term wards (general, maternity, etc.) of hospitals were counted at their usual place of residence; if they had no usual place of residence, they were counted at the hospital.

Persons Away From Their Residence on Census Day

Persons in hotels, motels, etc., on the night of March 31, 1980, were requested to fill out a census form for assignment of their census information back to their homes if they indicated that no one was at home to report them in the census. A similar approach was used for persons visiting in private residences, as well as for persons who left Puerto Rico during March 1980 via major intercontinental air or ship carriers for temporary travel abroad. In addition, information on persons away from their usual place of residence was obtained from other members of their families, resident managers, neighbors, etc. If an entire household was expected to be away during the whole period of the enumeration, information on that household was obtained from neighbors. A matching process was used to eliminate duplicate reports for persons who reported for themselves while away from their usual residence and who were also reported at this usual residence by someone else.

A special enumeration was conducted in such facilities as missions, jails, detention centers, etc., on the night of April 8, 1980, and persons enumerated therein were counted as residents of the area in which the establishment was located.

Residents Abroad

Residents of Puerto Rico who were abroad for an extended period (in the U.S. Armed Forces, working at civilian jobs, studying in universities, etc.) were not included in the population of Puerto Rico. On the other hand, residents of Puerto Rico who were temporarily abroad on vacations, business trips, and the like, were counted at their usual residence in Puerto Rico.

Citizens of Other Countries

Citizens of other countries having their usual residence (legally or illegally) in Puerto Rico on Census Day, including those working here or attending school (but not living at a chancellery or consulate), were included in the enumeration as were members of their families living with them. Citizens of other countries temporarily visiting or traveling in Puerto Rico or living on the premises of a chancellery or consulate were not enumerated in the 1980 census.

DATA COLLECTION PROCEDURES

The 1980 census of Puerto Rico was conducted through a combination of self-enumeration and personal interview. In areas with postal delivery service, an advance census questionnaire which contained explanatory information and the same questions as the short-form questionnaire was delivered by the postal carrier to every housing unit on his or her route several days before Census Day, April 1, 1980. The householder was requested to fill out the questionnaire and give it to the enumerator when he or she visited the household. Incomplete, inconsistent, and unfilled forms were completed by interview during the enumerator's visit. In areas without carrier delivery service, questionnaires were made available where people picked up their mail and all housing units were enumerated through personal interview. Vacant housing units were enumerated by personal visit and observation.

Each housing unit in Puerto Rico was enumerated using one of two versions of the census questionnaire: a short-form questionnaire containing a limited number of basic population and housing questions or a long-form questionnaire containing these basic questions as well as a number of additional questions. A sampling procedure was used to determine those housing units which were to receive the long-form questionnaire; about one in every six housing units (approximately 17 percent) received the long form or sample questionnaire. Census questionnaires were available in Spanish and in English.

Special questionnaires were used for the enumeration of persons in group quarters such as colleges and universities, hospitals, prisons, military installations, and ships. These forms contained the same population questions that appear on either the short form or the long form, but did not include any housing questions.

PROCESSING PROCEDURES

The 1980 census questionnaires were processed in a manner similar to that for the 1970 census. They were designed to be processed electronically by the Film Optical Sensing Device for Input to Computer (FOSDIC). For most items on the questionnaire, the information supplied by the respondent or obtained by the enumerator was indicated by marking the answers in predesignated positions that would be "read" by FOSDIC from a microfilm copy of the questionnaire and transferred onto computer tape with no intervening manual processing. The computer tape excluded information on individual names and addresses.

The data processing was performed in two stages. For 100-percent data, all short forms and pages 2 and 3 of the long forms (which have the same questions as the short form), were microfilmed, "read" by FOSDIC, and transferred onto computer tape for tabulation. For the sample data, the long form (or sample) questionnaires were processed through manual coding operations since some questions required the respondent to provide write-in entries which could not be read by FOSDIC. Census Bureau coders assigned alphabetical or numerical codes to the write-in answers in FOSDIC readable code boxes on each questionnaire. After all coding was completed, the long forms were microfilmed, and the film was "read" by FOSDIC and transferred onto computer tape.

The tape containing the information from the questionnaires was processed on the Census Bureau's computers through a number of editing and tabulation steps. Among the products of this operation were computer tapes from which the tables in this report (and most others in the 1980 census publications) were prepared on phototypesetting equipment at the Government Printing Office.

A more detailed description of the data collection and processing procedures can be obtained from the 1980 Census of Population and Housing, Users' Guide, PHC80-R1.

INTRODUCTION

The data presented in this publication are based on the 1980 census sample. The data are estimates of the actual figures that would have resulted from a complete count. Estimates can be expected to vary from the complete-count result, because they are subject to two basic types of error—sampling and nonsampling. The sampling error in the data arises from the selection of persons and housing units to be included in the sample. The nonsampling error, which affects both sample and complete count data, is the result of all other errors that may occur during the collection and processing phases of the census. A more detailed discussion of both sampling and nonsampling error and a description of the estimation procedures are given in this appendix.

SAMPLE DESIGN

While every person and housing unit in Puerto Rico was enumerated on a questionnaire that requested certain basic demographic information (e.g., age, marital status, relationship), a sample of persons and housing units was enumerated on a questionnaire that requested additional information. The basic sampling unit for the 1980 census was the housing unit, including all occupants. For persons living in group quarters, the sampling unit was the person. One sixth of the housing units or persons in group quarters were sampled.

The census of Puerto Rico was conducted through a combination of self-enumeration and personal interview. In areas with postal delivery service, an advance census questionnaire, which contained explanatory information and the same questions as the short-form questionnaire, was delivered by postal carrier to every housing unit on his or her route several days before Census Day. In areas without carrier delivery service, questionnaires were available where people picked up their mail. A blank listing book with designated sample lines (every sixth line) was prepared for the enumerator. Beginning about Census Day, the enumerator systematically canvassed the area and listed all housing units in the listing book in the order they were encountered. Completed questionnaires, including sample information for any housing unit which was listed on a designated sample line, were collected from each household.

An enumerator was responsible for a small geographic area known as an enumeration district, or ED. An ED usually represented the average workload area for one enumerator.

In order to reduce the cost of processing the data, a scheme was designed to select a sample of the sample questionnaires on which the place of work and migration data items would be coded. The subsample included every other sample questionnaire in each ED.

ERRORS IN THE DATA

Since the data in this publication are based on a sample, they may differ somewhat from complete-count figures that would have been obtained if all housing units, persons within those housing units, and persons living in group quarters had been enumerated using the same questionnaires, instructions, enumerators, etc. The deviation of a sample estimate from the average of all possible samples is called the sampling error. The standard error of a survey estimate is a measure of the variation among the estimates from the possible samples and thus is a measure of the precision with which an estimate from a particular sample approximates the average result of all possible samples. The sample estimate and its estimated standard error permit the construction of interval estimates with prescribed confidence that the interval includes the average result of all possible samples. The method of calculating standard errors and confidence intervals for the data in this report is given on the next page.

In addition to the variability which arises from the sampling procedures, both sample data and complete-count data are subject to nonsampling error. Nonsampling error may be introduced during each of the many extensive and complex operations used to collect and process census data. For example, operations such as editing, reviewing, or handling questionnaires may introduce error in the data. A more detailed discussion of the sources of nonsampling error is given in the section "Control of Nonsampling Error" in this appendix.

Nonsampling error may affect the data in two ways. Errors that are introduced randomly will increase the variability of the data and should therefore be reflected in the standard error. Errors that tend to be consistent in one direction will make both sample and complete-count data biased in that direction. For example, if respondents consistently tend to under-report their income, then the resulting counts of households or families by income category will be skewed toward the lower income categories. Such biases are not reflected in the standard error.

Calculation of Standard Errors

Totals and Percentages—Tables A through C in this appendix contain the information necessary to calculate the standard errors of sample estimates in this report. In order to perform this calculation, it is necessary to know the unadjusted standard error for the characteristic, given in table A or B, that would result under a simple random sample design (of persons, families, or housing units) and estimation technique; the adjustment factor for the particular characteristic estimated, given in table C. The adjustment factors reflect the effects of the actual sample design and complex ratio estimation procedure used for the 1980 census.

To calculate the approximate standard error of an estimate for a geographic area, follow the steps given below:

- Obtain the unadjusted standard error from table A or B (or from the formula given below the table) for the estimated total or percentage, respectively.
- Use table C to obtain the factor for the characteristic (e.g., work disability, school enrollment) with which you are working. If the estimate is a cross-tabulation of more than one characteristic, use the largest factor. Multiply the unadjusted standard error by this factor.

As is evident from the formula below tables A and B, the unadjusted standard errors of zero estimates or of very small estimated totals or percentages approach zero. This is also the case for very large percentages or estimated totals that are close to the size of the tabulation areas to which they correspond. These estimated totals and percentages are, nevertheless, still subject to sampling and nonsampling variability, and an estimated standard error of zero (or a very small standard error) is not appropriate.

For estimated percentages that are less than 2 or greater than 98, use the unadjusted standard errors in table B that appear in the "2 or 98" row. For an estimated total that is less than 50 or within 50 of the total size of the tabulation area, use an unadjusted standard error of 16.

An illustration of the use of the tables is given in a later section of this appendix.

Differences—The standard errors estimated from these tables are not directly applicable to differences between two sample estimates. In order to estimate the standard error of a difference, the tables are to be used somewhat differently in the following three situations:

- For the difference between a sample estimate and a complete count value, use the standard error of the sample estimate.
- For the difference between (or sum of) two sample estimates, the appropriate standard error is approximately the square root of the sum of the two individual standard errors squared; that is, for standard errors  $Se_x$  and  $Se_y$  of estimates x and y:

$$Se_{(x+y)} = Se_{(x-y)} = \sqrt{(Se_x)^2 + (Se_y)^2}$$

This method, however, will underestimate (overestimate) the standard error if the two items in a sum are highly positively (negatively) correlated or if the two items in a difference are highly negatively (positively) correlated. This method may also be used for the difference between (or sum of) sample estimates from two censuses or between a census sample and another survey. The standard error for estimates not based on the 1980 census sample must be obtained from an appropriate source outside of this publication.

- For the difference between two estimates, one of which is a subclass of the other, use the tables directly where the calculated difference is the estimate of interest.

Means—The standard error of a mean depends upon the variability of the distribution on which the mean is based, the size of the sample, the sample design (e.g., the use of households as a sampling unit), and the estimation procedure used.

An approximation to the standard error of the mean may be obtained as follows: compute the variance of the distribution on which the mean is based; multiply this value by five and divide the product by the total count of units in the distribution; obtain the square root of this quotient and multiply the result by the adjustment factor from table C that is appropriate for the characteristic on which the mean is based.

Medians—For the standard error of a median of a characteristic, it is necessary to examine the distribution from which the median is derived, as the size of the base and the distribution itself affect the standard error. An approximate method is given here. As the first step, compute one-half of the number on which the median is based (refer to this result as  $N/2$ ). Treat  $N/2$  as if it were an ordinary estimate and obtain its standard error as instructed above using tables A and C. Compute the desired confidence interval about  $N/2$ . Starting with the lowest value of the characteristic, cumulate the frequencies in each category of the characteristic until the sum equals or first exceeds the lower limit of the confidence interval about  $N/2$ . By linear interpolation, obtain a value of the characteristic corresponding to this sum. This is the lower limit of the confidence interval of the median. In a similar manner, cumulate frequencies starting from the highest value of the characteristic until the sum equals or exceeds the count in excess of the upper limit of the interval about  $N/2$ . Interpolate as before to obtain the upper limit of the confidence interval for the estimated median.

Confidence Intervals

A sample estimate and its estimated standard error may be used to construct confidence intervals about the estimate. These intervals are ranges that will contain the average value of the estimated characteristic that results over all possible samples, with a known probability. For example, if all possible samples that could result under the 1980 census sample design were independently selected and surveyed under the same conditions, and if the estimate and its estimated standard error were calculated for each of these samples, then:

- (1) Approximately 68 percent of the intervals from one estimated standard error below the estimate to one estimated standard error above the estimate would contain the average result from all possible samples; and
- (2) Approximately 95 percent of the intervals from two estimated standard errors below the estimate to two estimated standard errors above the estimate would contain the average result from all possible samples.

The intervals are referred to as 68-percent and 95-percent confidence intervals, respectively.

The average value of the estimated characteristic that could be derived from all possible samples is or is not contained in any particular computed interval. Thus, we cannot make the statement that the average value has a certain probability of falling between the limits of the calculated confidence interval. Rather, one can say with a specified probability or confidence that the calculated confidence interval includes the average estimate from all possible samples (approximately the complete count value).

Confidence intervals may also be constructed for the difference between two sample figures. This is done by computing the difference between these figures, obtaining the standard error of the difference (using the formula given earlier), and then forming a confidence interval for this estimated difference as above. One can then say with specified confidence that this interval includes the difference that would have been obtained by averaging the results from all possible samples.

The estimated standard errors given in this report do not include all portions of the variability due to nonsampling error that may be present in the data. The standard errors reflect the effect of simple response variance, but not the effect of correlated errors introduced by enumerators, coders, or other field or processing personnel. Thus, the standard errors calculated represent a lower bound of the total error. As a result, confidence intervals formed using these estimated standard errors may not meet the stated levels of confidence (i.e., 68 or 95 percent). Thus, some care must be exercised in the interpretation of the data in this publication based on the estimated standard errors.

For more information on confidence intervals and nonsampling error, see any standard sampling theory text.

Use of Tables to Compute Standard Errors

See appendix D of PHC80-3, Summary Characteristics for Governmental Units and Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas, or PC80-1-C, General Social and Economic Characteristics, for examples showing the computation of standard errors and formation of confidence intervals.

ESTIMATION PROCEDURE

The estimates which appear in this publication were obtained from an iterative ratio estimation procedure which resulted in the assignment of a weight to each sample person or housing unit record. For any given tabulation area, a characteristic total was estimated by summing the weights assigned to the persons or housing units in the tabulation area which possessed the characteristic. Estimates of family or household characteristics were based on the weights assigned to the family members designated as householders. Each sample person or housing unit record was assigned exactly one weight to be used to produce estimates of all characteristics. For example, if the weight given to a sample person or housing unit had the value five, all characteristics of that person or housing unit would be tabulated with a weight of five. The estimation procedure, however, did assign weights which vary from person to person or housing unit to housing unit.

The estimation procedure used to assign the weights was performed in geographically defined "weighting areas." Weighting areas were generally formed of adjoining portions of geography, which closely agreed with census tabulation areas within municipios. Weighting areas were required to have a minimum sample of 400 persons. Weighting areas were never allowed to cross municipio boundaries. In small municipios with a sample count of less than 400 persons, the minimum required sample condition was relaxed to permit the entire municipio to become a weighting area.

Within a weighting area, the ratio estimation procedure for persons was performed in three stages. For persons, the first stage employed 17 household-type groups. The second stage used two groups: householders and nonhouseholders. The third stage could potentially use 16 age-sex groups. The stages were as follows:

PERSONS

Stage I—Type of Household

Group Persons in Housing Units With a Family With Own Children Under 18

1	2 persons in housing unit
2	3 persons in housing unit
3	4 persons in housing unit
4	5 to 7 persons in housing unit
5	8 or more persons in housing unit

Persons in Housing Units With A Family Without Own Children Under 18

6-10	2 persons in housing unit through 8 or more persons in housing unit

Persons in All Other Housing Units

11	1 person in housing unit
12-16	2 persons in housing unit through 8 or more persons in housing unit

17	Persons in group quarters

Stage II—Householder/Nonhouseholder

Group

1	Householder
2	Nonhouseholder (including persons in group quarters)

Stage III—Age/Sex

Group Male

1	0 to 4 years of age
---	---------------------

2	5 to 14 years of age
3	15 to 19 years of age
4	20 to 24 years of age
5	25 to 34 years of age
6	35 to 44 years of age
7	45 to 64 years of age
8	65 years of age or older
	Female
9-16	Same age categories as groups 1 to 8

Within a weighting area, the first step in the estimation procedure was to assign each sample person record an initial weight. This weight was approximately equal to the inverse of the probability of selecting a person for the census sample.

The next step in the estimation procedure was to combine, if necessary, the groups in each of the three stages prior to the repeated ratio estimation in order to increase the reliability of the ratio estimation procedure. For each stage, any group that did not meet certain criteria concerning the unweighted sample count or the ratio of the complete count to the initially weighted sample count was combined or collapsed with another group in the same stage according to a specified collapsing pattern.

As the final step, the initial weights underwent three stages of ratio adjustments which used the groups listed above. At the first stage, the ratio of the complete census count to the sum of the initial weights for each sample person was computed for each stage I group. The initial weight assigned to each person in a group was then multiplied by the stage 1 group ratio to produce an adjusted weight. In stage II, the stage I adjusted weights were again adjusted by the ratio of the complete census count to the sum of the stage I weights for sample persons in each stage II group. Finally, the stage II weights were adjusted at stage III by the ratio of the complete census count to the sum of the stage II weights for sample persons in each stage III group. The three stages of adjustment were performed twice (two iterations) in the order given above. The weights obtained from the second iteration for stage III were assigned to the sample person records. However, to avoid complications in rounding for tabulated data, only whole number weights were assigned. For example, if the final weight for the person in a particular group was 7.2, then one-fifth of the sample persons in this group were randomly assigned a weight of 8 and the remaining four-fifths received a weight of 7.

Separate weights were derived for tabulating the place of work and migration data items. The weights were obtained by adjusting the weight derived above for persons on questionnaires selected for coding by the reciprocal of the ED coding rate and a ratio adjustment to ensure that the sum of the weights and complete-count total population figure would agree.

The ratio estimation procedure for housing units was essentially the same as that for persons. The major difference was that the occupied housing unit ratio estimation procedure was done in two stages and the vacant housing unit ratio estimation procedure was done in one stage. The first stage for occupied housing units employed 16 household-type categories and the second stage could potentially use 19 tenure/value or rent groups. For vacant housing units, three groups were utilized. The stages for the ratio estimation for housing units were as follows:

2	$2,000 to $4,999
3	$5,000 to $9,999
4	$10,000 to $19,999
5	$20,000 to $49,999
6	$50,000 to $74,999
7	$75,000+
8	Other Owners

Renter

Rent Categories
9	$1 to $29
10	$30 to $59
11	$60 to $99
12	$100 to $149
13	$150 to $199
14	$200 to $249
15	$250 to $299
16	$300 to $399
17	$400+
18	Other Renter
19	No Cash Rent

VACANT HOUSING UNITS

Group

1	Vacant for Rent
2	Vacant for Sale
3	Other Vacant

The estimates produced by this procedure realize some of the gains in sampling efficiency that would have resulted if the population had been stratified into the ratio estimation groups before sampling, and the sampling rate had been applied independently to each group. The net effect is a reduction in both the standard error and the possible bias of most estimated characteristics to levels below what would have resulted from simply using the initial (unadjusted) weight. A by-product of this estimation procedure is that the estimates from the sample will, for the most part, be consistent with the complete-count figures for the population and housing unit groups used in the estimation procedure.

OCCUPIED HOUSING UNITS

Group Housing Units With a Family With Own Children Under 18

CONTROL OF NONSAMPLING ERROR

As mentioned above, nonsampling error is present in both sample and complete-count data. If left unchecked, this error could introduce serious bias into the data, the variability of which could increase dramatically over that which would result purely from sampling. While it is impossible to completely eliminate nonsampling error from an operation as large and complex as the 1980 census of Puerto Rico, the Bureau of the Census attempted to control the sources of such error during the collection and processing operations. The primary sources of non-sampling error and the programs instituted for control of this error are described below. The success of these programs however, was contingent upon how well the instructions were actually carried out during the census. To the extent possible, both the effects of these programs and the amount of error remaining after their application will be evaluated.

Undercoverage—It is possible for some housing units or persons to be entirely missed by the census. This undercoverage of persons and housing units can introduce biases into the data. Two extensive programs that were developed to focus on this important problem are explained below.

- Enumerators filed an address card for each housing unit they listed. The cards were delivered to the post office where carriers reviewed the cards and noted instances where there were addresses to which mail was delivered but for which there was no card. Missing addresses were added to the census list of housing units and were later enumerated.
- A recheck of housing units initially classified as vacant or nonexistent was utilized to further reduce the undercoverage of persons.

More extensive discussion of programs developed to reduce undercoverage will be published as the analyses of those programs are completed.

Respondent and Enumerator Error—The person answering the questionnaire or responding to the questions posed by an enumerator could serve as a source of error by offering incorrect or incomplete information. To reduce this source of error, questions were phrased as clearly as possible based on precensus tests and detailed instructions for completing the short-form questionnaire were provided to each housing unit. In addition, respondents answers were edited for completeness and consistency and followed up as necessary. For example, if labor force items were incomplete for a person 15 years and over, long-form field edit procedures would recognize the situation and a followup attempt to obtain the information would be made.

The enumerator may misinterpret or otherwise incorrectly record information given by a respondent; may fail to collect some of the information for a person or housing unit; or may collect data for housing units that were not designated as part of the sample. To control these problems, the work of enumerators was carefully monitored. Field staff were prepared for their tasks by using standardized training packages which included experience in using census materials. Also, the estimation procedure was designed to control for biases that would result from the collection of data from housing units not designated for the sample.

Processing Error—The many phases of processing the census represent potential sources for the introduction of non-sampling error. The processing of the census questionnaires includes the field editing, followup, and transmittal of completed questionnaires; the manual coding of write-in responses; and the electronic data processing. The various field, coding, and computer operations undergo a number of quality control checks to ensure their accurate application.

Nonresponse—Nonresponse to particular questions on the census questionnaire allows for the introduction of bias into the data, since the characteristics of the nonrespondents have not been observed and may differ from those reported by respondents. As a result, any allocation procedure using respondent data may not completely reflect this difference either at the element level (individual person or housing unit) or on the average. Some protection against the introduction of large biases is afforded by minimizing nonresponse. In the census, nonresponse was substantially reduced during the field operations by the various edit and follow-up operations aimed at obtaining a response for every question. Characteristics for the nonresponses remaining after this operation were allocated by the computer using reported data for a person or housing unit with similar characteristics. The allocation procedure is described in more detail below.

EDITING OF UNACCEPTABLE DATA

The objective of the processing operation is to produce a set of statistics that describes the housing inventory and population as accurately and clearly as possible. To meet this objective, certain unacceptable entries were edited.

In the field, questionnaires were reviewed for omissions and certain inconsistencies by a census clerk or an enumerator and, if necessary, a followup was made to obtain missing information. In addition, a similar review of questionnaires was done in the central processing office. As a rule, however, editing was performed by hand only when it could not be done effectively by machine.

As one of the first steps in machine editing, the configuration of marks on the questionnaire column was scanned electronically to determine whether it contained information for a person or a housing unit or merely spurious marks. If a column contained entries for at least two of the basic characteristics (relationship, sex, age, marital status), the inference was made that the marks represented a person. In cases in which two or more basic characteristics were available for only a portion of the people in the unit, other information on the questionnaire provided by an enumerator was used to determine the total number of persons. Names were not used as a criterion of the presence of a person because the electronic scanning did not distinguish any entry in the name space.

After the field operations were completed, it was found (as expected) that some questionnaires were not fully filled out or that for a particular person or housing unit, certain items of information were inconsistent with other information on the questionnaire. As in previous censuses, allocations or the assignment of acceptable entries were used to replace blanks or unacceptable entries. The allocation procedure was based on using information reported for another person or housing unit with related characteristics similar to those of the person or housing unit for whom allocation was necessary. Thus, a person who was reported as a 20-year-old son of the householder, but for whom marital status was not reported, was assigned the same marital status as that of the last son processed in the same age group by the computer. The assignment of acceptable codes in place of blanks or unacceptable entries, is designed to enhance the usefulness of the data.

The 1980 census data on the economic questions such as industry, occupation, class of worker, work experience, and income were processed using an allocation system which assigned values to missing entries in these questions, as necessary, from a single respondent with similar socioeconomic characteristics. In the 1970 census, allocation of each of the economic items was conducted separately; thus, assigned values could come from more than one respondent.

Prior to the allocation of all economic variables, the computer records were sorted according to such characteristics as sex, household relationship, years of school completed, and geographic area. The actual allocation operation was implemented in the following manner:

1. The computer stored in a series of matrices reported economic information of persons by selected characteristics such as age, disability status, presence of children, veteran's status, employment status, occupation, industry, class of worker status, work experience in 1979, level of earnings in 1979 and value of property or monthly rent.
2. The stored entries in the various matrices were retained in the computer only until a succeeding person having the same set of characteristics was processed through the computer. Then the economic question responses of the succeeding person were stored in place of those previously stored.

3. When one or more of the economic questions was not reported, or the entry was unacceptable, the variables assigned to this person were those stored in the appropriate matrix for the last person who otherwise had the same set of characteristics.

The use of this single allocation system ensured that the distribution of economic variable assignments would correspond closely to the entries of persons who had actually reported in the census.

$$Se(\hat{Y}) = \sqrt{5\hat{Y}(1 - \frac{\hat{Y}}{N})}$$

N = Size of area.

$\hat{Y}$  = Estimate of characteristic total.

2/ The total count of persons in the area if the estimated total is a person characteristic, or the total count of housing units in the area if the estimated total is a housing unit characteristic.

1980 Census of Puerto Rico

DO	A1	A2	A4	A5	A6

U.S. Bureau of the Census . . .

We must, from time to time, take stock of ourselves as a people if our Nation is to meet successfully the many national and local challenges we face. This is the purpose of the 1980 census.

The essential need for a population census was recognized almost 200 years ago when the Constitution of the United States was written. As provided by article 1, population censuses of the United States have been taken every 10 years. As part of the 1980 Census of Population and Housing, as required by title 13, United States Code, the U.S. Bureau of the Census is conducting the census of Puerto Rico as of April 1, 1980.

The law under which the census is taken protects the confidentiality of your answers. For the next 72 years — or until April 1, 2052 — only sworn census workers have access to the individual records, and no one else may see them.

Your answers, when combined with the answers from other people, will provide the statistical figures needed by public and private groups, schools, business and industry, and Federal, Commonwealth, and municipal governments. These figures will increase the understanding of how the Puerto Rican population and housing are changing. In this way, today's problems can be dealt with more effectively.

The census is a vitally important activity for Puerto Rico. Please do your part by filling out this census form accurately and completely. A census taker will visit your household to pick up the form; please keep it in a safe, convenient place until then.

Thank you for your cooperation.

Please continue

Your answers are confidential

By law (title 13, U.S. Code), census employees are subject to fine and/or imprisonment for any disclosure of your answers. Only after 72 years does your information become available to other government agencies or the public. The same law requires that you answer the questions to the best of your knowledge.

NOTE: Responses to long-form questionnaires were obtained by personal interview, therefore no English or Spanish respondent instructions were printed.

Do Not List in Question 1

- Any person away from here in the Armed Forces
- Any college student who stays somewhere else while attending college
- Any person who usually stays somewhere else most of the week while working there
- Any person away from here in an institution such as a home for the aged or mental hospital
- Any person staying or visiting here who has a usual home elsewhere.

NOTE

If everyone here is staying only temporarily and has a usual home elsewhere, please mark this box .

Then please:

- answer the questions on pages 2 through 5 only, and
- enter the address of the usual home on page 20.

Please continue

Apéndice A.—Clasificaciones del Área

PUERTO RICO

RESIDENCIA URBANA Y RURAL

La población que no se clasifica como urbana constituye la población rural. Aunque no se presenta separadamente en este informe, la población urbana se compone de todas las personas que viven en áreas urbanizadas y en lugares de 2,500 habitantes o más fuera de áreas urbanizadas. Específicamente, la población urbana consiste de todas las personas que viven en (1) zonas urbanas y aldeas de 2,500 habitantes o más, y (2) otro territorio incluido en áreas urbanizadas. Un área urbanizada consiste de un lugar y el área adyacente densamente poblada que la rodea ("franja urbana") y que juntos tienen una población mínima de 50,000.

ÁREAS ESTADÍSTICAS METROPOLITANAS ESTÁNDARES

Definición

El concepto general de un área metropolitana es el de un gran núcleo de población conjuntamente con comunidades adyacentes que tienen un alto grado de integración económica y social con ese nú-cleo. La clasificación de área estadística metropolitana estándar (AEME) es un patrón estadístico desarrollado por agencias federales para uso en la producción, análisis y publicación de datos relacionados con áreas metropolitanas. Las AEME son definidas y designadas por la Oficina de Administración y Presupuesto, siguiendo una serie oficial de normas publicadas desarrollada por un comité interagencial: el Comité Federal de Áreas Estadísticas Metropolitanas Estándares.

Cada AEME en Puerto Rico tiene uno o más municipios centrales que contienen la concentración de población principal del área: un área urbanizada con una población de por lo menos 50,000 habitantes. Un AEME también puede incluir municipios cercanos que mantienen relaciones socioeconómicas estrechas con los municipios centrales. Un municipio cercano deberá tener un nivel especificado de tráfico de pasajeros con los municipios centrales y deberá, además, satisfacer ciertas normas con respecto a características metropolitanas, tales como densidad poblacional, población urbana y crecimiento poblacional.

La población que reside en las AEME se conoce como la población metropolitana. La población se subdivide en "dentro de la ciudad central (o ciudades centrales)" y "fuera de la ciudad central (o ciudades centrales)." La población que vive fuera de las AEME constituye la población no metropolitana.

Ciudades Centrales de AEME

Cada AEME tiene por lo menos una ciudad central. Los títulos de las AEME

incluyen los nombres de hasta tres lugares. Para el censo de 1980, las ciudades centrales de las AEME son aquellas mencionadas en los títulos de las AEME. En Puerto Rico las zonas urbanas y las aldeas se pueden reconocer como ciudades centrales.

Nuevas Normas para AEME

El 3 de enero de 1980 se publicaron nuevas normas en el Registro Federal para definir y designar áreas estadísticas metropolitanas estándares. Las AEME reconocidas para el censo de 1980 consisten de (1) todas las áreas, incluyendo cuatro en Puerto Rico, según definidas al primero de enero de 1980, excepto por un área en los Estados Unidos que se definió provisionalmente durante la década del 70 a base de estimaciones de la población pero cuya calificación no se confirmó por las cifras del censo de 1980; y (2) un grupo de 36 áreas nuevas, incluyendo una en Puerto Rico (Arecibo), definidas a base de las cifras del censo de 1980 y las nuevas normas que se publicaron el 3 de enero de 1980.

Cuando los datos sobre los patrones de tráfico de pasajeros estén disponibles en las tabulaciones del censo de 1980, las nuevas normas se aplicarán a las áreas existentes al primero de enero de 1980 y se revisarán los límites, definiciones y títulos para todas las AEME.

Para ayudar a los usuarios que quieren familiarizarse con las normas para la creación de las AEME y cómo se aplican, hay documentos disponibles en la Oficina de Administración y Presupuesto en Washington, D.C.

esa persona manteniendo a la vez la consistencia con las respuestas de otros individuos en el hogar. El procedimiento de asignación se describe en el Apéndice D, "Exactitud de los Datos."

Jefe de Hogar—Se designa a una persona en cada hogar como el "jefe de hogar." En la mayoría de los casos, ésta es la persona, o una de las personas a cuyo nombre se ha comprado o se alquila la vivienda y quien aparece listada en la columna 1 del cuestionario censal. De no haber tal persona en el hogar, se puede designar a cualquier adulto miembro del hogar como el "jefe de hogar." Se distingue entre dos tipos de jefes de hogar — un jefe de hogar en familia y un jefe de hogar no en familia. Un jefe de hogar en familia es un jefe de hogar que vive con una o más personas emparentadas a él o ella por nacimiento, matrimonio o adopción. El jefe de hogar y todas las personas en el hogar emparentadas con él o ella son miembros de la familia. Un jefe de hogar no en familia es un jefe de hogar que vive solo o únicamente con personas que no son sus parientes.

Cónyuge—Una persona casada y viviendo con un jefe de hogar. Esta categoría incluye a personas en matrimonios formales al igual que personas en unión consensual.

Hijo—Un hijo, hija, hijastro o hijo adoptivo del jefe de hogar, no importa su edad o estado civil. Esta categoría excluye a yernos y nueras. "Hijos propios" son los hijos e hijas incluyendo hijastros e hijos adoptivos del jefe de hogar que son solteros (nunca casados) y menores de 18 años de edad.

El número de hijos "viviendo con ambos padres" incluye a hijastros e hijos adoptivos al igual que hijos e hijas nacidas a la pareja.

"Niños emparentados" en una familia incluye los hijos propios y todas las demás personas en el hogar menores de 18 años de edad, no importa su estado civil, quienes están emparentadas con el jefe de hogar por nacimiento, matrimonio o adopción, excepto el cónyuge del jefe de hogar.

En una subfamilia, un "hijo propio" es un niño que nunca se ha casado, menor de 18 años de edad que es el hijo, hija, hijastro, o hijo adoptivo de una madre en una subfamilia de madre e hijo, de un padre en una subfamilia de padre e hijo, o de cualquier cónyuge en una subfamilia con esposo y esposa presente.

Otro Pariente—Cualquier persona emparentada con el jefe de hogar por nacimiento, matrimonio o adopción que no se presenta separadamente en la tabla particular (e.g., "tío," "sobrina," o "primo" o " prima").

No Pariente—Cualquier persona en el hogar no emparentada con el jefe de hogar por nacimiento, matrimonio o adopción. En esta categoría se incluyen huéspedes, pupilos, compañeros de cuarto, empleados a sueldo, personas bajo tutela e hijos de crianza.

Individuo No Emparentado

Un individuo no emparentado es (1) un jefe de hogar que vive solo o con personas que no son sus parientes, (2) un miembro del hogar no emparentado con el jefe de hogar, o (3) una persona que vive en un alojamiento de grupo y no es interna de una institución.

Familia y Subfamilia

Una familia consiste de un jefe de hogar y una o más personas adicionales que viven en el mismo hogar emparentadas con el jefe de hogar por nacimiento, matrimonio o adopción. Todas las personas en un hogar que están emparentadas con el jefe de hogar se consideran miembros de su familia. Una "familia con esposo y esposa presente" es una familia en la cual el jefe de hogar y su cónyuge se enumeran como miembros del mismo hogar. No todos los hogares contienen familias, ya que un hogar puede estar compuesto de un grupo de personas no emparentadas o una persona viviendo sola. La medida "personas por familia" se obtiene dividiendo el número de personas en familias por el número total de familias (o jefes de hogar en familia).

Una subfamilia es una pareja casada (esposo y esposa enumerados como miembros del mismo hogar) con o sin hijos, o un parente con uno o más hijos solteros menores de 18 años de edad, viviendo en un hogar y emparentados con el jefe de hogar o con el cónyuge del jefe de hogar. Los miembros de una subfamilia también se incluyen entre los miembros de la familia. Por lo tanto, el número de subfamilias no se incluye en el número de familias.

En la tabla 105, las familias están clasificadas según el sexo y el estado civil del jefe de hogar. Las subfamilias están clasificadas según el sexo y el estado civil del esposo en una subfamilia con esposo y esposa presentes y del parente (o la madre) en una subfamilia de parente (o madre) e hijo.

Pareja No Casada

Una pareja no casada está compuesta de dos adultos de sexo opuesto, no emparentados (uno de los cuales es el jefe de hogar) que comparten una unidad de vivienda sin otras personas presentes o con niños menores de 15 años de edad.

En la tabla 105, las parejas no casadas están clasificadas según el sexo y estado civil del jefe de hogar.

Alojamientos de Grupo

Todas las personas que no viven en hogares se clasifican por el Negociado del Censo como residentes en alojamientos de grupo. Se reconocen dos categorías generales de personas en alojamientos de grupo:

Internas en Instituciones—Las personas bajo cuidado o custodia en instituciones al tiempo de la enumeración se clasifican como "pacientes o internas" de una institución no importa lo largo de la estadía o el número de personas en ese lugar. Las instituciones incluyen hogares, escuelas, hospitales o salas para personas con impedimentos físicos o mentales; hospitales o salas para pacientes mentales, tuberculosos o con enfermedades crónicas; hogares para madres solteras; hogares de convalecencia y sanatorios para envejecientes y personas dependientes; orfanatos e instituciones de corrección.

Otro—Esta categoría incluye a todas las personas viviendo en alojamientos de grupo que no están internas en instituciones. Las casas de huéspedes y pupilos, comunas, conventos y monasterios y otros alojamientos se clasifican como "otros" alojamientos de grupo si hay 9 personas o más no emparentadas con la persona que aparece en la columna 1 del cuestionario censal; o si 10 personas o más no emparentadas comparten la vivienda.

Personas que residen en ciertos otros arreglos de vivienda se clasifican como viviendo en "otros" alojamientos de grupo no importa el número o parentesco de las personas en la unidad. Éstas incluyen personas que residen en barracas militares, en barcos, en dormitorios universitarios, o en casas de fraternidades o sororidades; pacientes en salas generales o de maternidad de hospitales quienes no tienen un lugar habitual de residencia en otro lugar; miembros del personal de alojamientos institucionales; y personas enumeradas en misiones, refugios del Ejército de Salvación, etc.

Alojamientos militares incluyen barracas o dormitorios en la base, alojamientos para transeúntes en la base (para residentes temporales, tanto civiles como militares) y barcos militares.

Comparabilidad con los Datos del Censo de 1970—La definición de hogar utilizada en 1980 difiere de aquella utilizada en 1970 sólo en el cambio de la definición de unidad de vivienda para eliminar el requisito de facilidades de cocina para uso exclusivo del hogar. En 1970, la persona de referencia en el hogar era el "jefe de hogar" (el esposo en familias con esposo y esposa presentes); para 1980, se cambió al "miembro del hogar (o uno de los miembros del hogar) a cuyo nombre se ha comprado o se alquila la vivienda." En 1970, una unidad en la cual vivían 6 o más personas no emparentadas se clasificó como un alojamiento de grupo; para 1980, ese requisito subió a 10 o más personas no emparentadas.

SEXO

Los datos sobre sexo se obtuvieron de las respuestas a la pregunta 3, que se le hizo a todas las personas. Durante la revisión en el campo, la mayoría de los casos en los cuales el sexo no se informó se resolvieron determinando la anotación apropiada del nombre de la persona y el parentesco en el hogar. Cuando la pregunta 3 permaneció en blanco, el sexo se asignó según el parentesco con el jefe de hogar y la edad y estado civil de la persona. El procedimiento general de asignación se describe en el apéndice D.

EDAD

Los datos sobre edad se obtuvieron de las respuestas a la pregunta 4, que se le hizo

a todas las personas. Solamente la información en las preguntas 4b y 4c (sobre el mes y año de nacimiento) se leyó en la computadora. Las respuestas a la pregunta 4a (sobre edad cumplida) se utilizaron durante la revisión de campo para llenar información omitida en la pregunta 4c. La clasificación de edad se basa en la edad de la persona en años cumplidos al 1ro de abril de 1980. Los datos sobre edad representan la diferencia entre la fecha de nacimiento y el primero de abril de 1980.

Las edades medianas presentadas en este informe se computaron a base de intervalos más detallados que los que se presentan en las tablas. Si la mediana cayó en la categoría terminal de una distribución de edades, el método de presentación fue el de presentar la edad inicial de la categoría terminal seguida por el símbolo de más; por lo tanto, si la mediana cayó en la categoría "85 años o más," se presenta como "85+."

En cada censo desde 1950, el Negociado del Censo ha asignado la edad de una persona cuando ésta no se informó. En los censos anteriores a 1950, las personas de edad desconocida se presentaban como una categoría separada. En 1960, 1970 y 1980, la asignación de edades desconocidas se llevó a cabo mediante el procedimiento general de asignación que se describe en el apéndice D.

ESTADO CIVIL

Los datos sobre estado civil se obtuvieron de las repuestas a la pregunta 5 que se le hizo a todas las personas. La clasificación de estado civil se refiere a dicho estado al momento de la enumeración. Las personas clasificadas como "actualmente casadas" incluyen aquellas que se han casado una sola vez y nunca han enviudado ni se han divorciado, al igual que aquellas personas actualmente casadas que se volvieron a casar después de haber enviudado o de haberse divorciado. Las personas en unión consensual son aquellas que viven en unión marital sin un contrato matrimonial civil o religioso y se clasifican como actualmente casadas; éstas se informan separadamente como en "Unión Consensual." Las personas informadas como separadas son aquéllas que viven separadas de sus cónyuges debido a disputa marital, con o sin una separación legal. Las personas cuyo único matrimonio se había anulado se clasifican como nunca casadas, y todas las personas menores de 15 años de edad se clasifican como nunca casadas. Todas las personas clasificadas como nunca casadas se presentan como, "solteras."

Las personas casadas con "cónyuge presente" son hombres o mujeres cuya esposa o esposo se enumeró como miembro del mismo hogar, incluyendo aquellos cuyo cónyuge puede haber estado ausente temporalmente por razones tales como un viaje u hospitalización. Las personas casadas con "cónyuge ausente" son hombres o mujeres cuya esposa o esposo no fue enumerado como miembro del mismo hogar y todas las personas casadas viviendo en alojamientos de grupo. Las personas casadas con "cónyuge ausente, otro," son aquéllas cuya esposa o esposo no fue enumerado como miembro del mismo hogar, excluyendo las personas que estaban separadas. Incluidas están aquéllas personas cuya esposa o esposo estaba empleada y viviendo fuera de su hogar, ausente en las Fuerzas Armadas de los Estados Unidos, o interna en una institución.

Por definición, el número de hombres casados con esposa presente, que se presenta en este informe, debe ser idéntico al número de mujeres casadas con esposo presente. Sin embargo, las dos cifras pueden no ser exactamente iguales, ya que, en la ponderación de las cifras de la muestra para representar el recuento total, a veces se le dieron ponderaciones diferentes a los esposos y a las esposas.

Cuando no se informó el estado civil, éste se asignó según el parentesco con el jefe de hogar y el sexo y la edad de la persona. El procedimiento general de asignación se describe en el apéndice D.

MATRÍCULA ESCOLAR

Los datos sobre matrícula escolar se obtuvieron de las respuestas a las preguntas 7 y 8. Las personas se clasificaron como matriculadas en la escuela si informaron que asistieron a una escuela o universidad de enseñanza "regular" en algún momento entre el 1ro de febrero de 1980 y el momento de la enumeración. Escuela de enseñanza regular se define como pre-kindergarten, kindergarten, escuela elemental y estudios que resultan en la obtención de un diploma de escuela superior o grado universitario. Estudios en escuelas vocacionales o comerciales, adiestramientos proporcionados por una compañía, o estudios hechos utilizando un tutor se incluyeron sólo si los créditos obtenidos se consideraban transferibles a una escuela elemental, superior o universidad de enseñanza regular. Los niños se incluyeron como matriculados en pre-kindergarten sólo si la escuela incluía instrucción como una fase importante e integral de su programa. Los niños matriculados en programas de "Head Start" u otros programas similares auspiciados por agencias locales para proporcionar educación pre-primaria se incluyeron como matriculados en la escuela. Las personas que estuvieron matriculadas en una escuela regular desde el 1ro de febrero de 1980, pero quienes en realidad no asistieron, por ejemplo, debido a una enfermedad, se contaron como matriculadas en la escuela. Enseñanza que generalmente no se considera como "regular" incluye aquella recibida en escuelas que sencillamente proporcionan cuidado custodial diurno; en escuelas vocacionales, de oficios o comerciales especializadas; en un adiestramiento en el trabajo; y mediante cursos por correspondencia.

Escuela Pública, Escuela Relacionada a una Iglesia, u Otra Escuela Privada—Las personas matriculadas en la escuela también se clasificaron como que asistían a una escuela pública, una escuela relacionada a una iglesia, u otra escuela privada. En general, una escuela "pública" se define como una escuela controlada y financiada principalmente por el Gobierno del Estado Libre Asociado. Una escuela "relacionada a una iglesia" se define aquí como una escuela privada controlada y financiada principalmente por una organización religiosa. Una escuela clasificada como "otra privada" se define como una escuela controlada y financiada principalmente por grupos privados que no son organizaciones religiosas.

Se debe ejercer cautela al utilizar la distinción de escuela pública/privada para matrícula escolar, ya que hay evidencia de que la clasificación de escuelas individuales no es siempre completamente clara, y los datos censales pueden diferir considerablemente de las cifras administrativas.

Nivel y Año Escolar en el cual la Persona está Matriculada—Las personas matriculadas en la escuela se clasificaron según el nivel y año escolar en el cual estaban matriculadas, según se informó en la pregunta 8. Los niveles que se identifican separadamente en este informe son pre-kindergarten, kindergarten, escuela elemental, escuela superior y universidad. Los niños en programas de "Head Start" u otros similares se contaron bajo "pre-kindergarten o "kindergarten" según fuera apropiado. La escuela elemental, según definida aquí, incluye los grados 1 al 8, y la escuela superior incluye los grados 9 al 12. Las personas asistiendo a la escuela intermedia se informan como en escuela elemental o escuela superior según el grado en el cual están matriculadas. El término "universidad" incluye "junior colleges" o colegios de la comunidad, universidades con programas de cuatro años, y escuelas graduadas o profesionales.

Comparabilidad con los Datos de Censos Anteriores—Desde 1899, se han incluido preguntas sobre matrícula escolar en el censo; en 1950, se añadió una pregunta sobre el grado al cual se había asistido. La redacción de la pregunta sobre tipo de escuela cambió de parroquial en 1970, a relacionada a una iglesia en 1980 en un intento de hacer la afiliación con un grupo religioso más clara a los respondedores. La intención fue de incluir todas las escuelas controladas por grupos religiosos en vez de sólo ciertas denominaciones o religiones particulares.

La pregunta sobre matrícula en el censo de 1930 aplicó a un periodo de tiempo un tanto más largo, el periodo de tiempo desde el 1ro de septiembre anterior; además, la pregunta no se limitó con respecto al tipo de escuela a la cual la persona asistía. En 1940, la pregunta se refirió al periodo de tiempo desde el 1ro de marzo anterior. En 1950, el periodo de referencia se cambió a aquél entre el 1ro de febrero y el momento de la enumeración. El mismo periodo de referencia se utilizó en 1970 y 1980. Sin embargo, en 1960, el periodo de referencia que se utilizó fue aquél entre el 1ro de enero y el momento de la enumeración.

El intervalo de edad para el cual se han recopilado datos sobre matrícula escolar ha variado para diferentes censos. La información sobre matrícula escolar se obtuvo para personas de todas las edades en 1930 y 1940, para personas de 5 a 29 años de edad en 1950, para personas de 5 a 34 años de edad en 1960, y para aquéllas de 3 años de edad y mayores en 1970 y 1980. Sin embargo, la mayoría de las cifras publicadas se refieren a las edades de 5 a 20 años en 1930, de 5 a 24 años en 1940, de 5 a 29 años en 1950, de 5 a 34 años en 1960, de 3 a 34 años en 1970, y de 3 años y mayores en 1980. La extensión de la cobertura para edad en los datos publicados sobre matrícula escolar en los censos recientes refleja un mayor interés en el número de personas que están asistiendo a colegios y universidades regulares a edades más avanzadas.

En el censo de 1950, el grado en el cual se estaba matriculado estuvo disponible por primera vez; el grado o año se podía identificar desde el kindergarten hasta la universidad, pero el número de niños matriculados en kindergarten no estaba incluido en las estadísticas de 1950 sobre matrícula en escuelas regulares. En 1960 la matrícula en kindergarten se incluyó con las cifras de matrícula en escuela regular. En 1970, se añadió la escuela maternal (nursery) a los niveles de escuela identificados separadamente. En 1980, la escuela maternal (nursery) se reemplazó por "pre-kindergarten."

Comparabilidad con los Datos de Otras Fuentes—Los datos sobre matrícula escolar también se recopilan y publican por otras agencias federales y del Estado Libre Asociado. Esta información generalmente se obtiene de informes provistos por sistemas escolares e instituciones de enseñanza superior y de otras encuestas y censos. Sin embargo estos datos son sólo aproximadamente comparables con los datos recopilados por el Negociado del Censo debido a diferencias en las definiciones, los temas cubiertos, referencias de tiempo y métodos de enumeración.

AÑOS DE ESCUELA COMPLETADOS

Los datos sobre años de escuela completados se obtuvieron de las respuestas a las preguntas 8 y 9. Estas preguntas sobre logros educativos sólo aplicaron al progreso hecho en escuelas de "enseñanza regular" según definidas en la sección sobre matrícula escolar. La primera pregunta pidió el grado más alto al cual se había asistido, sin tomar en cuenta grados que se "saltaron" o "repitieron." Las personas que recibieron su educación en sistemas escolares en el extranjero o en un sistema escolar sin grados deberían informar el grado equivalente aproximado en el sistema escolar regular. La instrucción impresa en el cuestionario, "Si terminó la escuela superior por examen de equivalencia (GED), marque '12'" (significando el grado 12), se incluyó para asegurar que las personas que dejaron la escuela antes de su graduación de escuela superior pero luego obtuvieron un diploma mediante el examen de equivalencia se contaran como graduadas de escuela superior. Aquellas personas que recibieron su diploma de escuela superior y que también asistieron a la universidad se acreditarían con asistencia universitaria según fuera informada.

La segunda pregunta sobre logros educativos preguntó si el grado más alto al cual se había asistido se completó o no. Se contestaría, "Terminó," si la persona terminó exitosamente el grado o año indicado en la pregunta 8. Si la persona sólo había terminado parte del año, había dejado de asistir, o no había pasado el último grado al cual asistió, la pregunta se debería contestar, "No terminó." Si la persona aún asistía a la escuela en ese grado, él o ella contestó, "Actualmente asiste a este grado."

El número en cada categoría del año escolar más alto completado representa la combinación de (a) personas que informaron el grado indicado como el más alto al cual habían asistido y que lo terminaron, (b) aquellas que habían asistido al próximo grado más alto pero no lo terminaron, y (c) aquellas que aún asistían al próximo grado más alto. Las personas que no habían completado el primer año de escuela elemental se clasifican como que no tienen años de escuela completados.

Comparabilidad con los Datos de Censos Anteriores—Las preguntas sobre logros educativos en términos de años de escuela completados se han incluido en el censo de Puerto Rico desde 1950. En censos anteriores a 1950, sólo se incluyó una pregunta básica sobre alfabetismo. La instrucción en 1980 para personas que habían recibido un diploma de escuela superior por virtud de haber pasado un examen de equivalencia no se había incluido en cuestionarios censales anteriores. Las personas que tomaron exámenes de equivalencia pueden o no haberse informado como graduadas de escuela superior en censos anteriores; sin embargo, el terminar la escuela superior por tales medios no era tan común en las décadas anteriores como lo era en la década antes del censo de 1980.

Mediana de Años de Escuela Completados—El número mediano de años de escuela completados se computó a base de datos tabulados en intervalos de años múltiples por debajo de 8 años completados e intervalos de años simples de edad para 8 años de escuela completados y más (e.g., el terminar el primer año de escuela superior se consideró como el haber terminado el 9no año, el terminar el primer año de universidad se consideró como el haber terminado el 13r año, etc.). Se asumió que las personas que terminaron un año escolar dado estaban distribuidas uniformemente dentro del intervalo de .0 a .9 del año. De hecho, al momento de la enumeración, la mayoría de las personas matriculadas habían terminado por lo menos tres cuartas partes de un año escolar por encima del grado más alto completado, mientras que una gran mayoría de las personas que no estaban matriculadas no habían asistido a ninguna parte de un grado posterior al más alto completado. El efecto de esta premisa es el de colocar la mediana para personas más jóvenes un poco más abajo, y para personas mayores un poco sobre la mediana verdadera.

El mismo procedimiento para computar esta mediana se ha utilizado en los censos de 1950, 1960 y 1970. Debido a que la premisa en cuanto a la distribución dentro del intervalo es inexacta, esta mediana se utiliza más apropiadamente para comparar diferentes grupos y el mismo grupo en diferentes fechas que como una medida absoluta de los logros educativos.

LUGAR DE NACIMIENTO

Los datos sobre lugar de nacimiento se obtuvieron de las respuestas a la pregunta 6. Se le instruyó a los enumeradores y a los respondedores que informaran el lugar de nacimiento en términos del lugar habitual de residencia de la madre al momento del nacimiento en vez de en términos de la localización del hospital si el nacimiento ocurrió en un hospital. En este informe, la población se clasifica en los siguientes grupos: personas nacidas en Puerto Rico, en el municipio en el cual residían al momento del censo; personas nacidas en un municipio diferente; personas nacidas en los Estados Unidos, en otra área bajo la jurisdicción de los Estados Unidos o personas nacidas en el extranjero quienes tenían por lo menos un parente que era ciudadano de los E.U.; y personas nacidas en otro lugar, clasificadas como ciudadanas o no ciudadanas de los Estados Unidos.

A las personas nacidas fuera de Puerto Rico o los Estados Unidos se les pidió que informaran su país de nacimiento según los límites internacionales reconocidos por los Estados Unidos al 1ro de abril de 1980. Debido a que en el último siglo han ocurrido numerosos cambios en los límites de países extranjeros, algunas de estas personas pueden haber informado su país de nacimiento en términos de los límites existentes al momento de su nacimiento o emigración, o según su preferencia nacional. Cuando se presentan países de nacimiento seleccionados, las personas nacidas en el extranjero quienes tenían por los menos un parente que era ciudadano de los E.U. se incluyen en la categoría "Todos los demás países."

En Puerto Rico, lugar de nacimiento no se asignó. Las personas que no informaron lugar de nacimiento se presentan en este informe como, "Lugar de nacimiento no informado." Los datos sobre lugar de nacimiento se han recopilado en cada censo comenzando con el censo de 1910. Para los censos más recientes, se han publicado datos sobre lugar de nacimiento para la población de áreas urbanas, las partes rurales-no en fincas y rurales-en fincas de Puerto Rico, y para los lugares individuales de tamaño mayor al especificado, las AEME y los municipios.

CIUDADANÍA Y AÑO DE INMIGRACIÓN

Los datos sobre ciudadanía y año de inmigración se obtuvieron de las respuestas a las preguntas 11a y 11b, que se le hicieron a personas que informaron haber nacido en un país extranjero. Las personas que nacieron en el extranjero o en altamar y que tenían por lo menos un parente que era ciudadano de los Estados Unidos, se deberían informar como, "Nacidas en el extranjero de padres americanos."

Ciudadanía—La información sobre ciudadanía se utilizó para clasificar la población en dos categorías principales: ciudadanos y no-ciudadanos. Si no se informó la ciudadanía, la computadora asignó una respuesta utilizando las respuestas de otras personas basándose en el año de inmigración y país de nacimiento.

Año de Inmigración—Las personas nacidas en el extranjero debieron indicar en la pregunta 11b el periodo que cubría el año en el cual llegaron a quedarse permanentemente en Puerto Rico. Sin embargo, las personas nacidas en el extranjero cuyos padres eran ciudadanos de los E.U. se excluyeron de las tabulaciones que presentan año de inmigración. Si no se informó el año de inmigración, se asignó una respuesta utilizando las respuestas de otras personas, basándose en la edad y el país de nacimiento.

LUGAR DE NACIMIENTO DE LOS PADRES

Los datos sobre el lugar de nacimiento del padre y el lugar de nacimiento de la madre se obtuvieron de las respuestas a las preguntas 10a y 10b. A las personas cuyos padres nacieron fuera de Puerto Rico se les pidió que informaran el Estado en que nació cada parente, si nacieron en los Estados Unidos, o el país de nacimiento de cada parente según los límites internacionales reconocidos por el gobierno de los Estados Unidos al 1ro de abril de 1980. El lugar de nacimiento de los padres no se asignó para falta de respuesta.

HABILIDAD PARA LEER Y ESCRIBIR

Los datos sobre habilidad para leer y escribir se obtuvieron de las respuestas a la pregunta 14. Esta pregunta se le hizo a personas de 5 años de edad y mayores; sin embargo, los datos se tabularon para la población de 10 años de edad y mayores. La habilidad para leer y escribir no se limitó a ningún idioma particular. Por lo tanto, la categoría habilidad para leer y escribir incluye a personas que pueden leer y escribir en inglés, francés, alemán, etc., al igual que aquellas que pueden leer y escribir en español. Las personas que sólo saben leer y aquellas que sólo sabían escribir sus propios nombres se clasificaron como que no sabían leer y escribir.

HABILIDAD PARA HABLAR ESPAÑOL Y HABILIDAD PARA HABLAR INGLÉS

Los datos sobre la habilidad para hablar español se obtuvieron de las respuestas "Sí" o "No," a la pregunta 15a. La habilidad para hablar inglés se informó en la pregunta 15b como una de tres categorías: "Sí, con fluidez," "Sí, con dificultad," o "No, no hablo inglés."

Las preguntas sobre uso del idioma se utilizaron para determinar hasta qué punto se habla el español y el inglés en Puerto Rico. De estas respuestas es posible determinar cuántas personas no saben hablar español y cuántas personas tienen dificultad al hablar el inglés o no saben hablar inglés. Las preguntas no se utilizaron para determinar cuál era el idioma principal de la persona.

Aunque la pregunta sobre habilidad para hablar inglés se ha incluido en los cuestionarios censales para Puerto Rico desde 1910, la pregunta sobre habilidad para hablar español se le añadió al cuestionario por primera vez para el censo de 1980.

RESIDENCIA EN 1975

Los datos sobre residencia en 1975 se obtuvieron de las respuestas a las preguntas 12a y 12b. A las personas que vivían en Puerto Rico en 1975 se les pidió que informaran el nombre del municipio, barrio, y la ciudad, pueblo o aldea en el cual vivían. A las personas que vivían en los Estados Unidos se les pidió que también informaran el Estado y condado. A todos los demás se les pidió que informaran el país en el cual estaban viviendo. La residencia en 1975 se utiliza en conjunto con la residencia actual para determinar el grado de movilidad residencial de la población. Cuando no se obtuvo información sobre residencia en 1975 para una persona, se utilizó la información obtenida para otros miembros de la familia, de estar disponible. Todos los casos de falta de respuesta o de respuestas incompletas que no se asignaron a base de información obtenida de otros miembros de la familia, se presentan separadamente como "residencia en 1975 no informada."

El número de personas que vivían en una casa diferente en 1975 es un tanto menor que el número total de mudanzas durante el periodo de 5 años. Algunas personas viviendo en la misma casa en las dos fechas se habían mudado durante el periodo de 5 años, pero a la fecha de la enumeración habían regresado a su residencia de 1975. Otras personas que vivían en una casa diferente, habían hecho una o más mudanzas intermedias. Por razones similares, el número de personas viviendo en un municipio diferente puede haberse subestimado.

Preguntas similares sobre movilidad se hicieron en los censos de 1940, 1960 y 1970. Aunque las preguntas en el censo de 1940 cubrían un periodo de 5 años, la comparabilidad con ese censo es un tanto reducida debido a las diferencias en las definiciones y categorías de tabulación.

Los datos sobre residencia en 1975 se basan en aproximadamente la mitad del total de la muestra censal (véase el apéndice D). Por lo tanto, las cifras en las tabulaciones sobre residencia en 1975 pueden diferir de las tabulaciones basadas en la muestra completa. Por ejemplo, el número de personas de 5 años de edad y mayores derivado de las tabulaciones para residencia en 1975 puede no estar de acuerdo con otras tabulaciones por edad.

RESIDENCIA EN LOS ESTADOS UNIDOS ENTRE 1970 Y 1980

Los datos sobre residencia en los Estados Unidos se obtuvieron de las respuestas a las preguntas 13a, 13b, 13c, y 13d. Estas preguntas se le hicieron a personas de 5 años de edad y mayores; sin embargo, los datos sobre actividad se tabularon sólo para personas de 16 años de edad y mayores. A aquéllas que informaron haber vivido en los Estados Unidos por 6 meses consecutivos o más durante los últimos 10 años se les pidió que informaran el año en que vinieron o regresaron a Puerto Rico por última vez, cuánto tiempo se quedaron, y su actividad mientras estaban en los Estados Unidos (trabajando en un empleo o negocio, en las Fuerzas Armadas de los Estados Unidos, asistiendo a una escuela o universidad). Estos datos se recopilaron por primera vez en Puerto Rico en el censo de 1970. El periodo de referencia para residencia en los Estados Unidos para el censo de 1970 se limitó a los últimos 5 años; esta cifra se aumentó a los últimos 10 años para el censo de 1980. El largo de la estadía se indicaba como "6 meses o más" en el cuestionario de 1970 y "6 meses consecutivos o más" en el cuestionario de 1980. Como resultado de ésto, los datos de 1970 pueden incluir personas que informaron como una estadía de 6 meses o más visitas repetidas durante los últimos 5 años, cada una por un periodo de menos de 6 meses. Los datos sobre actividad se tabularon para personas de 14 años de edad y mayores en 1970 y para personas de 16 años de edad y mayores en 1980. Los datos sobre residencia en los Estados Unidos no se asignaron para Puerto Rico.

ACTIVIDAD EN 1975

Los datos sobre actividad en 1975 se obtuvieron de las respuestas a la pregunta 17 que le preguntó a las personas de 15 años de edad y mayores si estaban "en las Fuerzas Armadas," "asistiendo a la universidad," o "trabajando a tiempo completo o a tiempo parcial en un empleo o negocio." Los casos de falta de respuesta se asignaron a base de las respuestas a otras preguntas y características relacionadas. Los datos sólo se presentan para personas de 21 años de edad y mayores (i.e., las personas que tenían 16 años o más en 1975).

CLASIFICACIÓN DE VETERANO

define en las publicaciones censales es, una persona de 16 años de edad y mayor que ha estado, pero actualmente no está en el servicio activo en las Fuerzas Armadas de los Estados Unidos. Las personas se clasifican como veteranos si estuvieron en el servicio activo en el Ejército, la Marina de Guerra, la Fuerza Aérea, la Infantería de Marina, o el Servicio de Guardacostas de los Estados Unidos aunque el tiempo de servicio fuera corto. Las personas en la Guardia Nacional o en unidades de la reserva militar se clasifican como veteranos sólo si en algún momento fueron llamados al servicio activo. Todos los demás civiles de 16 años de edad y mayores se clasifican como no veteranos.

Periodo de Servicio—A las personas que indicaron en la pregunta 18a que eran veteranos se les pidió que indicaran el periodo o períodos durante los cuales sirvieron (Pregunta 18b). Las personas que sirvieron en más de un periodo se clasificaron en el periodo de servicio de guerra más reciente. Por ejemplo, las personas que sirvieron tanto durante el Conflicto Coreano y la época de paz después de dicho conflicto entre febrero de 1955 y julio de 1964 se clasificaron en la categoría, "Conflicto coreano." Si la misma persona también sirvió durante la Época de Vietnam, entonces él o ella se incluiría en la categoría, "Época de Vietnam y conflicto coreano." Los datos se revisaron para eliminar períodos de servicio informados que eran inconsistentes con la edad de la persona.

Comparabilidad con Datos de Censos Anteriores—La clasificación de veterano se le pidió tanto a hombres como a mujeres en el censo de 1980, ésta fue la primera vez que se recopilaron tales datos para mujeres. La redacción de la pregunta cambió de la versión utilizada en 1970 para hacer más clara la respuesta apropiada para las personas que sirvieron solamente en la Guardia Nacional o en unidades de la reserva.

Desde 1970 se añadieron dos categorías de periodo de servicio: la época de paz entre febrero de 1955 y julio de 1964, y la época de paz después de Vietnam comenzando en mayo de 1975. Al igual que en 1970, las personas que informaron más de un periodo de servicio se presentan en la categoría más reciente de servicio en periodo de guerra.

FECUNDIDAD (HIJOS NACIDOS VIVOS)

Los datos sobre hijos nacidos vivos se obtuvieron de las respuestas a la pregunta 20, que se le hizo a mujeres de 15 años de edad y mayores, no importa su estado civil. Se excluyeron los hijos nacidos muertos, hijastros e hijos adoptivos. A las mujeres casadas se les indicó que incluyeran todos los hijos que les hubieran nacido antes y durante su matrimonio más reciente, hijos que hayan muerto, e hijos fuera del hogar, al igual que hijos que aún vivían en el hogar. A las mujeres solteras se les pidió que incluyeran todos los hijos que les hubieran nacido. Los datos recopilados sobre hijos nacidos vivos a mujeres que nunca han estado casadas se deben ver con cautela ya que hay una tasa muy alta de falta de respuesta a la pregunta y se anticipa que muchas de estas mujeres van a informar menos nacimientos de hijos vivos de los que realmente han tenido.

En el censo de 1980, se utilizó una categoría terminal de "12 o más" para anotar el número de hijos nacidos. Para propósitos de computar el número total de hijos nacidos, se le dió un valor promedio de 13 a la categoría terminal.

Comparabilidad con los Datos de Censos Anteriores—La redacción de la pregunta sobre hijos nacidos vivos fue muy similar en 1980 y en 1970. En casi todas las tablas de los volúmenes del censo de 1970, los datos presentados sobre hijos nacidos vivos asumieron que las mujeres solteras no tenían hijos aunque se sabía que algunas mujeres habían tenido hijos. Por lo tanto, las proporciones y los números de hijos nacidos vivos a todas las mujeres no son comparables entre los informes de 1980 y los informes de censos anteriores, ya que los informes de 1980 incluyen datos sobre hijos nacidos vivos a mujeres solteras. Los datos presentados sobre hijos nacidos vivos a mujeres casadas son comparables entre el censo de 1980 y censos anteriores que contenían esta pregunta.

ADiestramiento Vocacional

hicieron a personas de 15 años de edad y mayores. Las personas se incluyeron en las tabulaciones sólo si habían completado los requisitos de un programa vocacional en una escuela industrial, escuela comercial, hospital u otro tipo de escuela para adiestramiento ocupacional. Adiestramiento vocacional se definió como un programa escolar diseñado para preparar a una persona para trabajar en un campo ocupacional. Por lo tanto, adiestramiento que culmina en una certificación para practicar carpintería, electrónica, enfermería o teneduría de libros es vocacional, siempre que no se conceda un bachillerato por dicho adiestramiento. Se incluyeron como "adiestramiento vocacional" los programas formales de adiestramiento vocacional recibidos en la escuela superior, mediante un programa de aprendices, en una escuela comercial, en una escuela de enfermería o industrial, en un instituto técnico, en las Fuerzas Armadas, en el "Job Corps," y en una escuela por correspondencia. Se excluyeron de los "programas de adiestramiento vocacional" los cursos individuales que no formaban parte de un programa de estudio organizado, adiestramiento en el trabajo, y el adiestramiento básico en las Fuerzas Armadas. A las personas que habían completado un programa de adiestramiento vocacional se les pidió que designaran el tipo de escuela en la cual recibieron el adiestramiento (e.g., escuela comercial, escuela industrial, "junior college," escuela superior, programa ocupacional, programa de adiestramiento en el lugar de trabajo, etc.).

Comparabilidad con los Datos de Censos Anteriores—La pregunta sobre adiestramiento vocacional se hizo por primera vez en el censo decenal de 1970. Adiestramiento por correspondencia, que se excluyó del adiestramiento vocacional en 1970 se incluyó como tal en el censo de 1980. En el censo de 1970, se hizo una segunda pregunta a todas las personas que habían completado un programa de adiestramiento vocacional pidiéndoles que designaran su campo principal de adiestramiento vocacional. En el censo de 1980, se le hizo una pregunta diferente a los respondedores que informaron que habían completado los requisitos de un programa de adiestramiento vocacional, se les pidió que designaran el tipo de escuela en la cual recibieron el adiestramiento.

LUGAR DE TRABAJO

Los datos sobre lugar de trabajo se obtuvieron de las respuestas a la pregunta 23, que se le hizo a personas que indicaron en la pregunta 22 que habían trabajado en cualquier momento durante la semana de referencia (véase a continuación la definición de semana de referencia). Los datos se tabularon para trabajadores de 16 años de edad y mayores; o sea, miembros de las Fuerzas Armadas y civiles que estuvieron trabajando durante la semana de referencia. El lugar de trabajo se refiere a la localización geográfica en la cual los trabajadores llevaron a cabo sus actividades ocupacionales durante la semana de referencia. Se pidió la dirección exacta (número y calle) del lugar de trabajo, al igual que el lugar (ciudad, pueblo, aldea, etc.); el barrio y el municipio; y el "ZIP code." Si el patrono de la persona operaba en más de una localización, se pidió la dirección exacta de la localización o sucursal en la cual el respondedor trabajó. Cuando no se podía proporcionar el número y nombre de la calle, se anotaba el nombre del edificio u otra descripción física de la localización. A las personas que trabajaron en más de una localización se les pidió que informaran aquella en la cual trabajaron el mayor número de horas durante la semana de referencia. A las personas que regularmente trabajaban en varias localizaciones durante la semana de referencia se les pidió que informaran la dirección en la cual comenzaron a trabajar cada día. Para los casos en los cuales el trabajo diario no comenzó en un lugar central, se le pidió a la persona que proporcionara la mayor cantidad de información posible que describiera el área en la cual él o ella trabajó durante la mayor parte de la semana de referencia.

Para propósitos de este informe, las localizaciones de lugar de trabajo se resumen para presentar la destinación principal de los trabajadores que vivían en cada AEME de 250,000 o más. La localización de los lugares de trabajo para residentes de AEME se define con respecto a los límites del AEME como dentro del AEME y "fuera del AEME de residencia." Localizaciones dentro de cada AEME se dividen aún más en la ciudad central y fuera de la ciudad central.

MEDIOS DE TRANSPORTACIÓN AL TRABAJO

Los datos sobre medios de transportación al trabajo se obtuvieron de las respuestas a las preguntas 24a, 24b y 24c que se le hicieron sólo a las personas que indicaron en la pregunta 22 que habían trabajado en cualquier momento durante la semana de referencia (para la definición de semana de referencia, véase la sección que aparece a continuación). Medios de transportación al trabajo se refiere al medio de transportación principal o tipo de transporte que la persona usualmente utilizó para llegar al trabajo desde su casa durante la semana de referencia. A las personas que utilizaron diversos medios de transportación en diferentes días, se les pidió que especificaran cuál había utilizado con mayor frecuencia. A las personas que utilizaron más de un medio de transportación para llegar a su trabajo todos los días, se les pidió que informaran aquél que utilizaron para viajar la mayor parte de la distancia. La categoría "Vehículo privado" incluye a trabajadores que utilizan un auto privado (incluyendo carros de la compañía, pero excluyendo taxis), un camión descubierto (truck) con una capacidad de una tonelada o menos, o un camión cubierto (van). La categoría "Transportación pública" incluye trabajadores que utilizaron una guagua, carro público, lancha o taxi.

A todos los trabajadores que informaron sus medios de transportación al trabajo como "auto privado," "camión descubierto (truck)," o "camión cubierto (van)" se les hizo una pregunta sobre "carpooling" (pregunta 24c). La categoría "Viajaron solos" incluye a personas que usualmente manejaron solas al trabajo, al igual que personas que fueron llevadas a su trabajo por alguien quien entonces manejó de regreso a su casa o a una destinación no de trabajo. La categoría "Carpool" incluye a trabajadores que informaron que usualmente compartieron el manejo del vehículo, condujeron a otros, o viajaron como pasajeros durante la semana de referencia.

Los datos sobre medios de transportación para algunas áreas en este informe pueden presentar trabajadores utilizando medios de transportación pública que no están disponibles en esas áreas (e.g., personas viajando en guaguas en un AEME donde no hay servicio de guaguas). Este resultado se puede atribuir a personas que trabajaron en una localización que era diferente a su lugar habitual de trabajo durante la semana de referencia (tales como personas fuera de sus hogares o negocios en un área donde otro tipo de servicio estaba disponible), y personas que utilizaron más de un medio de transportación cada día pero cuyo medio de transportación principal no estaba disponible donde vivían (por ejemplo, residentes de áreas no metropolitanas que viajaron en un auto privado a los límites de un AEME y luego viajaron en guagua la mayor parte de la distancia al trabajo).

Ocupación de Vehículos Privados—Los datos sobre ocupación de vehículos privados se obtuvieron de las respuestas a la pregunta 24d, que se le hizo a las personas que indicaron en la pregunta 22 que habían trabajado en cualquier momento durante la semana de referencia (véase a continuación para la definición de semana de referencia), y que informaron en la pregunta 24c que usualmente compartieron el manejo del automóvil, condujeron a otros, o viajaron como pasajeros en un auto privado, camión descubierto (truck) o camión cubierto (van). La ocupación de vehículos privados se refiere al número de personas que usualmente viajaron en el vehículo hacia el trabajo durante la semana de referencia. La medida "personas por vehículo privado" se obtiene dividiendo el número de personas que informaron haber utilizado un auto privado, camión descubierto (truck) o camión cubierto (van) para llegar al trabajo por el número de tales vehículos utilizados. El número de vehículos utilizados se obtiene contando a cada persona que manejó sola como un vehículo, a cada persona que informó que formaba parte de un "carpool" de dos personas como medio vehículo, a cada persona que informó que formaba parte de un "carpool" de tres personas como un tercio de vehículo, y así sucesivamente, y luego sumando todos los vehículos.

Duración del Viaje al Trabajo—Los datos sobre la duración del viaje al trabajo se obtuvieron de las respuestas a la pregunta 24a, que se le hizo a aquellas personas que indicaron en la pregunta 22 que habían trabajado en algún momento durante la semana de referencia (véase a continuación para la definición de semana de referencia). Duración del viaje al trabajo se refiere al número total de minutos que usualmente le tomó a la persona para llegar desde su casa hasta el trabajo durante la semana de referencia. El tiempo transcurrido incluye el tiempo invertido esperando transportación pública, recogiendo pasajeros en "carpools," y en otras actividades relacionadas con el viaje al trabajo.

SEMANA DE REFERENCIA

Los datos sobre clasificación del grupo trabajador y viaje al trabajo se refieren a la semana que precede la fecha en la cual los enumeradores entrevistaron a los respondedores. Esta semana no es la misma para todos los respondedores ya que la enumeración no se completó en una semana. Sin embargo, para la mayoría de las personas, la semana de referencia para el censo de 1980 fue la última semana de marzo de 1980. La Pascua de los Hebreos y el Viernes Santo ocurrieron durante la semana siguiente (la primera semana de abril de 1980). Probablemente muchos trabajadores tomaron tiempo libre de sus empleos para observar estos días. Estas fiestas religiosas podrían haber afectado los datos sobre horas trabajadas para algunas áreas si la primera semana de abril fue la semana de referencia para un número significativo de personas. Estas fiestas religiosas probablemente no afectaron la medida general de la clasificación del grupo trabajador ya que los datos sobre el grupo trabajador se basan en la actividad de trabajo durante toda la semana de referencia.

CLASIFICACIÓN DEL GRUPO TRABAJADOR

Los datos sobre clasificación del grupo trabajador se obtuvieron de las respuestas a las preguntas 22, 25 y 26. La serie de preguntas sobre clasificación del grupo trabajador se le hizo a todas las personas de 15 años de edad y mayores y estaba diseñada para identificar, en esta secuencia: (a) las personas que trabajaron en cualquier momento durante la semana de referencia; (b) las personas que no trabajaron durante la semana de referencia pero que tenían empleos o negocios de los cuales estaban temporalmente ausentes (excluyendo en paro forzoso) (c) las personas en paro forzoso y (d) las personas que no trabajaron durante la semana de referencia, pero quienes estuvieron buscando trabajo durante las últimas cuatro semanas y estaban disponibles para trabajar durante la semana de referencia.

La mayoría de los datos sobre clasificación del grupo trabajador que se presentan en este informe se refieren a personas de 16 años de edad y mayores. En 1940, 1950 y 1960 se presentaron datos sobre clasificación del grupo trabajador para personas de 14 años de edad y mayores. El cambio en el universo se hizo en 1970 para así conformar con la medida oficial del grupo trabajador según revisada en enero de 1967. Datos seleccionados sobre clasificación del grupo trabajador se presentaron en 1970 para personas de 14 y 15 años de edad, pero no se presentan en 1980.

Empleadas—Las personas empleadas incluyen a todos los civiles de 16 años de edad y mayores que estaban (a) "trabajando" — aquéllas que hicieron cualquier trabajo durante la semana de referencia como empleados a sueldo o en su propio negocio o profesión, o en su propia finca o aquéllas que trabajaron 15 horas o más como empleados sin sueldo en una finca o negocio de la familia; o (b) que "tenían un empleo pero no estaban trabajando" — aquéllas que no trabajaron durante la semana de referencia pero tenían empleos o negocios de los cuales estaban temporalmente ausentes debido a enfermedad, inclemencias del tiempo, disputas laborales, vacaciones u otras razones personales. Excluidas de las personas empleadas están las personas cuya única actividad consistió de quehaceres domésticos o trabajo voluntario para organizaciones religiosas, caritativas u otras similares.

Desempleadas—Las personas se clasificaron como desempleadas si eran civiles de 16 años de edad y mayores y (a) no estaban "trabajando" ni "tenían un empleo pero no estaban trabajando" durante la semana de referencia, (b) estuvieron buscando empleo durante las últimas 4 semanas, y (c) estaban disponibles para aceptar un empleo. Ejemplos de actividades para buscar empleo son: (1) registrarse con agencias de empleo públicas y privadas, (2) reunirse con posibles patronos, (3) investigar las posibilidades de comenzar una práctica profesional o abrir un negocio, (4) colocar o responder a anuncios, (5) escribir cartas de solicitud, y (6) aparecer en un registro profesional o de una unión.

Desempleadas con Experiencia—Las personas desempleadas que han trabajado en cualquier ocasión en el pasado se clasifican como "Desempleadas con Experiencia."

Grupo Trabajador Civil—El grupo trabajador civil consiste de las personas clasificadas como empleadas o desempleadas según los criterios descritos anteriormente.

Grupo Trabajador Civil con Experiencia—El "grupo trabajador civil con experiencia" está compuesto de las personas empleadas y desempleadas con experiencia.

Grupo Trabajador—El grupo trabajador incluye a todas las personas que se clasifican como en el grupo trabajador civil más los miembros de las Fuerzas Armadas (personas en el servicio activo con el Ejército, la Fuerza Aérea, la Marina de Guerra, la Infantería de Marina, o el Servicio de Guardia Costas de los Estados Unidos).

Fuera del Grupo Trabajador—Todas las personas de 16 años de edad y mayores que no se clasifican como miembros del grupo trabajador se definen como "Fuera del grupo trabajador." Esta categoría consiste principalmente de estudiantes, amas de casa, trabajadores retirados, trabajadores estacionales enumerados fuera de la temporada de trabajo quienes no estaban buscando empleo, internos de instituciones, personas impedidas, y personas que sólo hacen trabajo incidental sin paga para la familia (menos de 15 horas durante la semana de referencia).

Trabajador—El término "trabajador" aparece en conexión con varios temas en este informe: no-trabajadores por cada 100 trabajadores, partidas sobre viaje al trabajo, clase de trabajador, semanas de empleo en 1979, y número de trabajadores en la familia en 1979. Su significado varía y, por lo tanto, se debe determinar en cada caso referiéndose a la definición del tema bajo el cual aparece.

No-trabajadores por cada 100 Trabajadores—Esta medida, llamada la "razón de no-trabajadores/trabajadores" en el censo de 1970, es la proporción de la suma de las personas "fuera del grupo trabajador" (incluyendo personas menores de 16 años de edad) a personas de 16 años de edad y mayores en el grupo trabajador.

Comparabilidad con los Datos de Censos Anteriores—Las preguntas del cuestionario y los conceptos sobre clasificación del grupo trabajador para el censo de 1980 eran esencialmente idénticos a aquellos utilizados en el censo de 1970. Sin embargo, estos conceptos diferían en muchos aspectos de aquellos asociados con los censos de 1950 y 1960; para más información, véase las publicaciones del Volumen 1 del censo de 1970.

Comparabilidad con los Datos de Otras Fuentes—Debido a que los datos del censo sobre empleo se obtienen de respondedores en hogares, éstos difieren de las estadísticas basadas en informes obtenidos de establecimientos comerciales individuales, empresas agrícolas y ciertos programas gubernamentales. Las personas empleadas en más de un trabajo se cuentan una sola vez en el censo y se clasifican según el trabajo en el cual trabajaron el mayor número de horas durante la semana de referencia. En estadísticas basadas en informes de establecimientos comerciales y agrícolas, las personas que trabajan en más de un establecimiento se pueden contar más de una vez. Además, otras series, a diferencia de las que se presentan aquí, pueden excluir trabajadores de hogares privados, trabajadores de familia sin paga, y personas empleadas por cuenta propia, pero pueden incluir trabajadores menores de 16 años de edad.

Una diferencia adicional en los datos surge del hecho de que las personas que tenían un empleo pero no estaban trabajando se incluyen con los empleados en las estadísticas que se presentan aquí, mientras que es probable que muchas de estas personas se excluyan de las cifras gubernamentales basadas en los informes sobre nóminas de establecimientos. Además, los datos sobre clasificación del grupo trabajador en este informe incluyen personas a base de lugar de residencia sin tomar en consideración dónde trabajan, mientras que los datos de establecimientos informan las personas en su lugar de trabajo sin tomar en consideración dónde viven. Esta última consideración es particularmente significativa al comparar los datos para trabajadores que viajan de un área a otra.

Por un número de razones, las cifras sobre desempleo del Negociado del Censo no son comparables con las cifras publicadas sobre reclamaciones de compensación por desempleo. Por ejemplo, las cifras sobre reclamaciones de compensación por desempleo excluyen a personas que han agotado su derecho a beneficios, al igual que a trabajadores nuevos que aún no han obtenido derecho a seguro por desempleo, y a personas que pierden empleos no cubiertos por sistemas de seguro por desempleo (incluyendo algunos trabajadores en la agricultura, en servicios domésticos, y en organizaciones religiosas, y trabajadores empleados por cuenta propia o por la familia sin paga). Además, las calificaciones para obtener compensación por desempleo difieren de la definición de desempleo utilizada por el Negociado del Censo. Las personas que sólo trabajan unas pocas horas durante la semana y las personas temporalmente ausentes de su empleo por razones que no sean de paro forzoso ocasionalmente son elegibles para compensación por desempleo pero en los informes del censo se clasifican como "empleadas."

Horas Actualmente Trabajadas—A todas las personas en la muestra que informaron haber trabajado durante la semana de referencia se les pidió que informaran en la partida 22b el número de horas que trabajaron. Las estadísticas sobre horas trabajadas se refieren al número de horas actualmente trabajadas en todos los empleos, y no necesariamente reflejan el número de horas regularmente trabajadas o el número de horas que se proyecta trabajar. Es posible que se haya subestimado el número de personas que sólo trabajaron un pequeño número de horas ya que a veces tales personas consideran que no están trabajando.

Último Año en Que Trabajó—Los datos sobre el último año en que la persona trabajó se obtuvieron de las respuestas a la pregunta 27. Los datos se tabularon para personas de 16 años y mayores que no estaban trabajando durante la semana de referencia. Los datos se refieren al año más reciente durante el cual las personas hicieron cualquier trabajo a sueldo o por ganancia, o trabajaron sin pago en efectivo en una finca o negocio de la familia, o estaban en servicio activo en las Fuerzas Armadas de los Estados Unidos. Además de las personas que contestaron "nunca trabajó" en la pregunta 27, la categoría "nunca trabajó" en las tablas incluye a las personas de 16 años y mayores que informaron que la última vez que trabajaron tenían 14 años de edad o menos.

CLASIFICACIÓN DEL GRUPO TRABAJADOR EN 1979

Los datos sobre clasificación del grupo trabajador en 1979 se obtuvieron de las respuestas a la pregunta 31. Las personas de 16 años de edad y mayores se clasifican como "en el grupo trabajador en 1979" si (a) en 1979 trabajaron una semana o más a sueldo o por ganancias (incluyendo semanas de vacaciones con paga o licencia por enfermedad con paga), o trabajaron sin pago en efectivo en una finca o negocio de la familia, o estaban en el servicio activo en las Fuerzas

Armadas de los E.U.; o (b) tuvieron algunas semanas de desempleo en 1979. Las categorías, "Trabajaron en 1979" y "Con desempleo en 1979" no son mutuamente exclusivas.

Trabajaron en 1979 (Clasificación de Empleo en 1979)—Las personas de 16 años de edad y mayores que trabajaron una semana o más según los criterios descritos a continuación se clasifican como "Trabajaron en 1979;" todas las demás personas de 16 años de edad y mayores se clasifican como "No trabajaron en 1979." Algunas tablas que presentan clasificación de empleo en 1979 incluyen a personas de 15 años de edad; por definición, estas personas se clasifican como "No trabajaron en 1979."

Semanas Trabajadas en 1979—Los datos sobre semanas trabajadas en 1979 se obtuvieron de las respuestas a las preguntas 31a y 31b. La pregunta 31b (Semanas Trabajadas en 1979) se le hizo a las personas de 16 años de edad y mayores en la muestra que indicaron en la pregunta 31a que habían trabajado en 1979.

Los datos se refieren al número de semanas durante el 1979 en las cuales las personas hicieron cualquier trabajo a sueldo o por ganancia (incluyendo vacaciones con paga y licencia por enfermedad con paga) o trabajaron sin pago en efectivo en una finca o negocio de la familia. También se incluyen las semanas de servicio activo en las Fuerzas Armadas. Es probable que el número de personas que trabajaron en 1979 y el número de semanas trabajadas se hayan subestimado ya que existe la tendencia en los respondedores de olvidarse de empleos intermitentes o de cortos períodos o de excluir las semanas de empleo para las cuales no recibieron paga.

Horas Usualmente Trabajadas en 1979—Los datos sobre el número de horas usualmente trabajadas por semana en 1979 se obtuvieron de las respuestas a la pregunta 31c. Esta pregunta se le hizo a las personas de 16 años de edad y mayores que indicaron que trabajaron en 1979.

Los datos se refieren al número de horas que la persona usualmente trabajó durante las semanas trabajadas en 1979. El respondedor debió indicar el número de horas trabajadas por semana durante la mayoría de las semanas que él o ella trabajó en 1979. Si las horas trabajadas por semana variaron considerablemente en 1979, el respondedor debió informar el promedio aproximado de horas trabajadas por semana. Las estadísticas sobre horas usualmente trabajadas por semana en 1979 no se relacionan necesariamente a los datos sobre número actual de horas trabajadas durante la semana de referencia censal (pregunta 22b).

Las personas de 16 años de edad y mayores que informaron que usualmente trabajaban 35 horas o más cada semana durante las semanas que trabajaron se clasifican como "Usualmente trabajaron a jornada completa;" las personas que informaron que usualmente trabajaron de 1 a 34 horas se clasifican como "Usualmente trabajaron a jornada parcial."

Empleados a Jornada Completa Durante Todo el Año—Las personas de 16 años de edad y mayores que usualmente trabajaron 35 horas o más por semana durante 50 a 52 semanas en 1979 se clasifican como "Empleadas a jornada completa durante todo el año."

Con Desempleo en 1979—Las personas de 16 años de edad y mayores que tuvieron una o más semanas de desempleo en 1979 según los criterios que se describen a continuación se clasifican como "Con desempleo en 1979."

Los datos sobre semanas de desempleo en 1979 se refieren al número de semanas en 1979 durante las cuales una persona de 16 años de edad y mayor no trabajó pero pasó cualquier periodo de tiempo buscando trabajo (o sea, tratando de conseguir un trabajo o comenzar un negocio o práctica profesional) o en paro forzoso de un trabajo. La definición de desempleadas presenta ejemplos de lo que se considera búsqueda de empleo. De las semanas de desempleo se excluyen cualesquiera semanas durante las cuales la persona trabajó, aunque fuera por una hora; o cualesquiera semanas para las cuales la persona recibió algún jornal o salario; o durante las cuales la persona estuvo en el servicio activo en las Fuerzas Armadas, en vacaciones con paga o en licencia con sueldo. La pregunta sobre semanas de desempleo no inquirió si las personas que informaron estar buscando empleo estaban disponibles para aceptar un empleo. El número de semanas de desempleo es el número total de semanas acumuladas durante el año calendario de 1979, sin tomar en consideración si los períodos de desempleo eran continuos.

Número de Trabajadores en la Familia en 1979— El término "trabajador" según se utiliza para estos datos se define según los criterios descritos anteriormente en la sección sobre Trabajaron en 1979.

Comparabilidad con los Datos de Censos Anteriores— Los datos sobre semanas trabajadas recopilados en el censo de 1980 son comparables con los datos de los censos de 1970 y 1960, pero pueden no ser totalmente comparables con los datos de los censos de 1940 y 1950. En los tres cuestionarios censales más recientes, se utilizaron dos preguntas separadas para obtener esta información. La primera identificó las personas con cualquier experiencia de trabajo durante el año y, por lo tanto, indicó aquellas personas para las cuales la pregunta sobre el número de semanas trabajadas era aplicable. Sin embargo, en 1940 y 1950, los cuestionarios contenían una sola pregunta sobre el número de semanas de empleo.

En 1970, las personas contestaron la pregunta sobre semanas de empleo indicando uno de seis intervalos de semanas trabajadas; en 1980, se le pidió a las personas que informaran el número específico de semanas que trabajaron.

Los datos sobre semanas buscando trabajo durante el año anterior (1979) y los datos sobre el número de horas usualmente trabajadas se recopilaron por primera vez en el censo de 1980.

Ocupación, Industria y Clase de Trabajador

Los datos sobre ocupación, industria y clase de trabajador se obtuvieron de las preguntas 28, 29 y 30.

Esta serie de preguntas se utilizó para obtener información sobre la ocupación, industria y clase de trabajador para las personas empleadas, las desempleadas con experiencia y los trabajadores con

experiencia actualmente fuera del grupo trabajador. Las últimas dos categorías aplican a personas que habían trabajado en algún momento durante los cinco años anteriores. Las tres preguntas se refieren a un empleo específico que la persona tuvo. Para una persona empleada, la información se refirió al empleo en el cual había trabajado durante la semana de referencia. Aquellas personas que trabajaron en dos empleos o más, informaron el empleo en el cual trabajaron el mayor número de horas durante la semana de referencia. Para personas desempleadas con experiencia y para aquéllas fuera del grupo trabajador, la información se refirió al último empleo que tuvieron.

El personal en la oficina de elaboración del Negociado del Censo convirtió las descripciones de industria y ocupación escritas en el cuestionario a códigos de identificación relacionando estas descripciones con la anotación correspondiente en la publicación del Censo de Población de 1980: Alphabetical Index of Industries and Occupations, (PHC80-R3), 1982, Imprenta del Gobierno de los Estados Unidos, Washington, D.C. Sin embargo, para los códigos de industrias, los codificadores se refirieron primero al Company Name List. Esta lista, que se preparó del Standard Statistical Establishment List desarrollada por el Negociado del Censo para uso en los censos y encuestas económicas, contiene los nombres de los establecimientos y su código de clasificación industrial estándar convertidos a los equivalentes para el censo de población. Esta lista facilita la codificación y ayuda a mantener la comparabilidad de la clasificación industrial.

Sistema de Clasificación de las Ocupaciones

El sistema desarrollado para el censo de 1980 consiste de 503 categorías de ocupaciones específicas organizadas en 6 grupos sumarios y 13 grupos principales de ocupaciones. El Informe del Censo de Población de 1980: Classified Index of Industries and Occupations (PHC80-R4), 1982, Imprenta del Gobierno de los Estados Unidos, Washington, D.C., provee información sobre la composición de las categorías detalladas en el sistema censal. Esta clasificación se desarrolló para mantener la consistencia con el Standard Occupational Classification Manual (SOC) de 1980, publicado por el Departamento de Comercio de los Estados Unidos, Oficina de Política y Estándares Estadísticos Federales. Esta fue la primera vez que hubo un estándar de los Estados Unidos para uso en el desarrollo de las clasificaciones ocupacionales censales. Este manual presenta una lista de 12 principios que se utilizan en la clasificación ocupacional. Los principios primarios utilizados fueron los siguientes: (1) la clasificación debería, en términos reales, reflejar la estructura ocupacional actual de los Estados Unidos, y (2) una ocupación se debería clasificar a base del trabajo realizado. La conversión del sistema de clasificación censal al SOC ha causado que las definiciones censales de 1980 sean menos comparables con las clasificaciones utilizadas en censos anteriores. Véase la sección sobre "Comparabilidad."

En este informe se presentan varios niveles de clasificación. Estos fluctúan desde 13 categorías de ocupación hasta 482 categorías. En la lista más larga, 36 de las 503 categorías en el sistema se han combinado en 14 categorías. Además, todos menos los niveles más cortos incluyen algunas categorías de ocupación subdivididas por industria o grupos de clase de trabajador; estas subcategorías hacen que las tablas más detalladas lleguen a tener más de 700 categorías individuales. Para las tablas 118 a 123 se utilizó una clasificación "intermedia" de 121 categorías. La relación entre los niveles de clasificación de ocupación detallados e intermedios se provee en la lista A que aparece al final de este apéndice.

Sistema de Clasificación de Industrias

El sistema de clasificación de industrias desarrollado para el Censo de Población de 1980 consiste de 231 categorías clasificadas en 13 grupos principales de industria. Desde 1940, la clasificación de industrias se ha basado en el Standard

Industrial Classification Manual (SIC). La clasificación para el censo de 1980 se desarrolló del S/C de 1972 publicado por la Oficina Ejecutiva del Presidente, Oficina de Administración y Presupuesto, y del suplemento de 1977 a ese manual. La publicación del Censo de Población de 1980: Classified Index of Industries and Occupations (PHC80-R4), 1982, Imprenta del Gobierno de los Estados Unidos, Washington, D.C., proporciona información adicional sobre el sistema de clasificación de industrias del censo.

En este informe se presentan varios niveles de clasificación. La tabulación más detallada contiene las subcategorías de industria más detalladas además de algunas subcategorías de clase de trabajador. La tabla 124 presenta este nivel de detalle. Una clasificación "intermedia" que se utilizó en las tablas 125 y 126, tiene 140 líneas de industria. La relación entre los niveles de clasificación de industria detallados y los intermedios se presenta en la lista B al final de este apéndice. En las tablas 127, 128 y 129 se utiliza una tabulación condensada de una página. La relación entre esta tabla condensada y las otras dos tablas más largas se presenta en la lista C al final de este apéndice.

Relación con el Standard Industrial Classification—El Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) se desarrolló bajo el auspicio de la Oficina de Administración y Presupuesto y está diseñado para la clasificación de establecimientos por el tipo de actividad industrial en la cual están envueltos. Uno de los propósitos principales del SIC es promover uniformidad y comparabilidad en la presentación de datos estadísticos recopilados por distintas agencias. Por consiguiente, en el Censo de Población, las categorías de industria están definidas en estos términos. Sin embargo, algunos informes censales de población, recopilados de hogares, difieren en naturaleza y detalle de aquellos obtenidos de informes de establecimientos. Es por eso que el sistema de clasificación del censo de población, aunque definido en términos del SIC, no puede reflejar los detalles completos del sistema del SIC.

Además, los datos del censo de población pueden diferir de otros datos sobre industria ya que las fechas a las que se refieren los datos pueden no ser iguales; trabajadores que viven en un área geográfica y trabajan en otra pueden informarse en su lugar de residencia en el censo de población pero en su lugar de trabajo en encuestas; y trabajadores con más de un trabajo pueden haberse contado en los informes de dos establecimientos, pero contados en el censo sólo por su trabajo principal.

Relación de Algunos Grupos de Industria con Ocupaciones Similares o Clase de Trabajador—La categoría de industria "administración pública" se limita a funciones gubernamentales regulares tales como actividades legislativas, judiciales, administrativas y regulatorias. Otras organizaciones gubernamentales tales como escuelas, hospitales y líneas de guaguas se clasifican por industria según la actividad que llevan a cabo. Por otro lado, las categorías de clase de trabajador para el gobierno incluyen a todos los empleados gubernamentales.

Algunos grupos ocupacionales están estrechamente relacionados a ciertas industrias. Operadores de equipo de transportación, trabajadores y operadores de fincas y trabajadores en hogares privados componen las partes principales de sus respectivas industrias de transportación, agricultura y hogares privados. Sin embargo, las categorías de industria incluyen a personas en otras ocupaciones. Por ejemplo, las personas empleadas en la agricultura incluyen conductores de camiones y tenedores de libros; las personas empleadas en la industria de transportación incluyen mecánicos, manipuladores de carga y tenedores de libros; y las personas empleadas en la industria de hogares privados incluyen ocupaciones tales como choferes, jardineros y secretarias.

Clase de Trabajador

La partida en el cuestionario sobre clase de trabajador consiste de siete categorías que se definen de la manera siguiente:

1. Empleados privados a jornal y salario— Las personas que trabajaron para un patrono privado por jornales, salarios, comisiones, propinas, paga en especie o paga por unidad. Patronos privados incluyen iglesias y otras organizaciones con fines no pecuniarios.
2. *Empleados gubernamentales—*Las personas que trabajaron para cualquier entidad gubernamental, no importa la actividad de la agencia particular. Esta categoría se subdivide según el nivel de gobierno:

- a. Federal (incluyendo internacional)
- b. del Estado Libre Asociado
- c. Municipal

3. Trabajadores empleados por cuenta propia—

a. Negocio propio no incorporado— Personas que trabajaron por ganancia u honorarios en sus negocios propios no incorporados, profesiones, u oficios, o que operaron una finca. Aquí se incluyen los dueños-operadores de tiendas grandes y establecimientos de manufactura al igual que pequeños comerciantes, artesanos y profesionales independientes, agricultores, buhoneros y otras personas que operaron empresas por cuenta propia.

b. Negocio propio incorporado— Personas que se consideran empleadas por cuenta propia pero que trabajan para corporaciones. En la mayoría de los casos los respondedores serán los dueños o forman parte de un grupo que es dueño del interés dominante en la corporación. Ya que todos los trabajadores de una corporación se definen como empleados a jornal y salario, esta categoría se tabula con los "empleados privados a jornal y salario," y se presenta como una subcategoría de ese grupo.

4. *Trabajadores familiares sin paga—*Personas que trabajaron sin remuneración en una finca o en un negocio operado por una persona con la cual están emparentados por nacimiento o matrimonio. Por lo general, éstas son los hijos o el esposo o esposa del dueño del negocio o finca.

Procedimientos de Revisión y de Asignación—A veces los respondedores proporcionaron descripciones de industria, ocupación o clase de trabajador que no eran lo suficientemente específicas para una clasificación precisa o no informaron estas partidas. Algunos de estos casos se corrigieron mediante los procedimientos de revisión en el campo y durante las operaciones de codificación y tabulación. Ciertos tipos de anotaciones incompletas se corrigieron en la operación de codificación utilizando el Alphabetical Index of Industries and Occupations. Por ejemplo, en ciertas situaciones, es posible asignar un código de industria a base de la ocupación informada.

Después de la operación de codificación, se llevó a cabo un procedimiento de revisión y asignación por computadora. La revisión primero determinó si un respondedor estaba en el universo que requería un código de industria y ocupación. Los códigos para las tres partidas (industria, ocupación y clase de trabajador) se revisaron para asegurar que eran válidos y también se revisaron para determinar la relación de unos con otros. Códigos nulos e inconsistentes se eliminaron o se cambiaron a un código consistente.

Si después de la revisión, uno o más de los tres códigos permanecían en blanco, se asignó un código de una persona "similar" a base de otras partidas tales como edad, sexo, educación, residencia en finca o no en finca, y semanas trabajadas. (Para más información, véase el apéndice D). Éste fue el primer censo que asignó industria y ocupación a categorías detalladas.

Comparabilidad con Datos de Censos Anteriores—La comparabilidad de los datos de industria y ocupación se afecta por un número de factores, uno de los principales es el sistema utilizado para clasificar las respuestas en los cuestionarios. Tanto para los sistemas de clasificación de industria como de ocupación, las estructuras básicas eran generalmente iguales desde 1940 hasta 1970, pero cambios en las categorías individuales limitaron la comparabilidad de los datos de un censo a otro. Estos cambios resultaron de la necesidad de reconocer el "nacimiento" de industrias y ocupaciones nuevas, la "muerte" de otras, y el crecimiento y la decadencia de industrias y ocupaciones existentes, al igual que el deseo de analistas y otros usuarios de un aumento en el detalle de la presentación de los datos. Probablemente, la mayor causa de falta de comparabilidad es el movimiento de un segmento de una categoría a una categoría diferente para el próximo censo. Tales movimientos son necesarios debido a cambios en las funciones y terminología de los respondedores, y el refinamiento en la composición de las categorías.

En el censo de 1980, la clasificación de industria pasó por cambios limitados para reflejar los cambios al SIC. Sin embargo, la clasificación de ocupación se revisó substancialmente debido a la adopción del Standard Occupational Classification por las agencias federales (véase "Sistema de Clasificación Ocupacional"). Durante todo este periodo, de 1940 a 1980, el número de categorías en el sistema de clasificación de industria aumentó de 132 a 231, y en el sistema de ocupación de 224 a 503.

Otros factores que afectan la comparabilidad de los datos incluyen el universo al cual se refieren los datos (en 1970, el límite de edad para el grupo trabajador se cambió de 14 a 16 años); la redacción de las preguntas sobre industria y ocupación en el cuestionario (por ejemplo, en 1970 se hicieron cambios importantes); mejoras en los procedimientos de codificación (la técnica del "Company Name List" se introdujo en 1960); y la manera en que se tratan los casos "no informados." Antes de 1970, estos casos se colocaban en las categorías residuales "Industria no informada" y "Ocupación no informada." En 1970, se introdujo un procedimiento de asignación mediante el cual estos casos se asignaron a grupos principales. En 1980, los casos "no informados" se asignaron a categorías individuales. Por lo tanto, los datos de 1980 para categorías individuales incluyen cierto número de personas que hubieran permanecido como "no informadas" en las tabulaciones de censos anteriores. Las tablas 115 y 124 de este informe presentan datos de 1970 sobre industria y ocupación revisados para que sean comparables con los datos de 1980. Los ajustes se basan en un proyecto en el cual los códigos de industria y ocupación de 1980 se añadieron a una muestra de aproximadamente 120,000 casos del grupo trabajador del Censo de los Estados Unidos de 1970.

Las siguientes publicaciones contienen información sobre los varios factores que afectan la comparabilidad y son particularmente útiles para la comprensión de las diferencias en la información sobre ocupación e industria de censos anteriores: Negociado del Censo de los E.U., 16to. Informes Censales, Población, Comparative Occupational Statistics for the United States, 1870 to 1940; Negociado del Censo de los E.U., Occupation Trends in the United States, 1900 to 1950, Documento de Trabajo Núm. 5, 1958; Negociado del Censo de los E.U., Changes Between the 1950 and 1960 Occupation and Industry Classification—With Detailed Adjustments of 1950 Data to the 1960 Classifications, Documento Técnico Núm. 18, 1968; y Negociado del Censo de los E.U., 1970 Occupation and Industry Classification Systems in Terms of their 1960 Occupation and Industry Elements, Documento Técnico Núm. 26, 1972.

Comparabilidad con Otros Datos—La comparabilidad entre las estadísticas presentadas en este informe y estadísticas de otras fuentes se afecta por muchos de los factores descritos en la sección sobre "Clasificación del Grupo Trabajador." Estos factores son principalmente diferencias geográficas entre la residencia y el lugar de trabajo, diferentes fechas de referencia, y diferencias en las cifras debido al trabajo en dos empleos. Los datos sobre industria de los censos de población cubren todas las industrias y todos los tipos de trabajadores, mientras que los datos de establecimientos a menudo excluyen trabajadores en hogares privados, empleados del gobierno y los empleados por cuenta propia. Además, las respuestas de los respondedores en hogares pueden diferir en detalle y naturaleza de aquellas respuestas obtenidas de establecimientos.

Los datos del censo sobre ocupación y los datos obtenidos de agencias gubernamentales que otorgan licencias o permisos, asociaciones profesionales, sindicatos, etc., pueden no ser tan comparables como se esperaba. Las listas de organizaciones a menudo incluyen personas fuera del grupo trabajador o personas que dedican todo o la mayoría de su tiempo a otra ocupación; o se puede incluir la misma persona en dos o más listas. Además, relativamente pocas organizaciones, excepto aquellas que requieren una licencia, obtienen una cobertura total de los miembros de un campo ocupacional particular.

INGRESO EN 1979

Los datos sobre ingresos en 1979 se obtuvieron de las respuestas a las preguntas 32 y 33. Se le pidió información sobre ingresos monetarios recibidos durante el año calendario 1979 a personas de 15 años de edad y mayores. "Ingreso total" es la suma algebraica de las cantidades informadas separadamente para ingresos de jornal o salario; ingreso neto de empleo propio no-agrícola; ingreso neto de empleo propio agrícola; intereses; dividendos; ingreso neto de regalías o alquileres; ingreso del Seguro Social o Retiro del Ferrocarril; ingreso de asistencia o bienestar público; y todo otro ingreso. "Ganancias" se define como la suma algebraica de ingresos de jornales o salarios y el ingreso neto de empleo propio agrícola y no-agrícola. Estas cifras sobre ganancias representan la cantidad de ingreso recibido regularmente antes de las deducciones por impuestos sobre ingresos personales, Seguro Social, compra de bonos, cuotas de unión, deducciones para "medicare," etc.

Las entradas de las siguientes fuentes no se incluyeron como ingresos: dinero recibido de la venta de una propiedad (a menos que el recipiente estuviera en el negocio de venta de propiedades), el valor de ingresos "en especie" de cupones de alimentos, subsidios de vivienda pública, cuidado médico, contribuciones hechas por patronos a pensiones, etc.; retiro de depósitos bancarios, préstamos de dinero, reembolsos de impuestos; intercambio de dinero entre parientes viviendo en el mismo hogar; y regalos, herencias de sumas globales de dinero, pagos de seguros y otros tipos de entradas de sumas globales de dinero.

Tipo de Ingreso

Los siete tipos de ingreso informados en el censo se definen de la manera siguiente:

Ingreso de Jornal o Salario—Las ganancias monetarias totales recibidas por trabajo realizado como un empleado durante el año calendario 1979. Incluye jornales, salarios, paga de las Fuerzas Armadas, comisiones, propinas, pagos por unidad, y bonos en efectivo antes de hacerse las deducciones por impuestos, bonos, pensiones, cuotas de unión, etc.

Ingreso de Empleo Propio No-Agrícola—Ingreso monetario neto (ingreso bruto menos los gastos) de un negocio propio, empresa profesional o sociedad. Ingreso bruto incluye el valor de todos los bienes vendidos y servicios proporcionados. Gastos incluye el costo de artículos comprados, alquiler, electricidad, energía, cargos por depreciación, jornales y salarios pagados, impuestos por negocios (no los impuestos por ingresos personales), etc.

Ingreso de Empleo Propio Agrícola—Ingreso monetario neto (ingreso bruto menos los gastos de operación) de la operación de una finca por una persona por cuenta propia, como dueño, arrendatario o medianero. Ingreso bruto incluye el valor de todos los productos vendidos, subsidios de programas agrícolas gubernamentales, dinero recibido del alquiler de equipo agrícola a otros, e ingresos incidentales de la venta de leña, arena, gravilla, etc. Los gastos de operación incluyen los costos de alimentos, abono, semillas, y otros suministros agrícolas, jornales en efectivo pagados a peones, cargos por depreciación, alquiler en efectivo, intereses sobre hipotecas agrícolas, reparaciones a edificios en la finca, impuestos agrícolas (no impuestos sobre ingresos personales), etc. El valor de combustibles, comida u otros productos agrícolas utilizados para el consumo diario familiar no se incluyen como parte del ingreso neto.

Ingreso de Intereses, Dividendos o Alquiler Neto—Incluye intereses de ahorros o bonos, dividendos de acciones o participación en sociedades, regalías netas, e ingreso neto del alquiler de propiedades a otros e ingresos recibidos de pupilos o huéspedes.

Ingreso del Seguro Social—Incluye pensiones del Seguro Social, beneficios a sobrevivientes y pagos del seguro por incapacidad permanente hechos por la Administración del Seguro Social, antes de las deducciones por seguro médico, y cheques del seguro de Retiro del Ferrocarril del gobierno de los E.U. No se incluyen los reembolsos de "Medicare."

Ingreso de Asistencia Pública—Incluye (1) pagos del Seguro de Ingreso Suplementario hechos por agencias federales de bienestar a personas de bajos ingresos quienes son envejecientes (de 65 años de edad y mayores), ciegas o impedidas; (2) ayuda a familias con niños dependientes, y (3) asistencia general. Pagos separados recibidos para gastos de hospitalización u otro cuidado médico (reembolsos directos) se excluyen de esta partida.

Todo Otro Tipo de Ingreso—Incluye compensación por desempleo, pagos a veteranos, pensiones públicas o privadas, pensiones alimenticias, compensación a trabajadores, pagos periódicos de herencias y fondos fiduciarios, ingresos periódicos de pensiones o seguros, contribuciones recibidas periódicamente de personas que no viven en el hogar, cuotas asignadas a familias militares, ganancias netas de juegos, y todos los demás tipos de ingresos periódicos que no son ganancias.

Ingresos de Hogares—Debido al aumento en la demanda por una gran variedad de usuarios en la década del 70, en este informe se presenta información sobre los ingresos de hogares para todas las áreas geográficas. El ingreso del hogar incluye el ingreso del jefe de hogar y de todas las demás personas de 15 años de edad y mayores en el hogar, estén o no emparentadas con el jefe de hogar. Debido a que muchos hogares están compuestos de una sola persona, el ingreso promedio del hogar es usualmente menos que el ingreso familiar promedio.

Ingresos de las Familias e Individuos no Emparentados—En la compilación de estadísticas sobre ingreso familiar, se suman los ingresos de todos los miembros de 15 años de edad y mayores en cada familia y se tratan como una sola cantidad. Sin embargo, para individuos no emparentados de 15 años de edad y mayores, se utiliza la cantidad total de su propio ingreso. Aunque las estadísticas de ingreso cubren el año calendario 1979, las características de las personas y la composición de las familias se refieren al momento de la enumeración (abril de 1980). Por lo tanto, el ingreso de la familia no incluye cantidades recibidas por personas que eran miembros de la familia durante todo o parte del año calendario 1979 si estas personas ya no residían con la familia al tiempo de la enumeración. Por otro lado, se incluyen las cantidades de ingreso familiar informadas por personas emparentadas que no residían con la familia durante 1979 pero quienes eran miembros de la familia al tiempo de la enumeración. Sin embargo, la composición de la mayoría de las familias durante 1979 era la misma que en abril de 1980.

Ingreso Mediano—El ingreso mediano es la cantidad que divide la distribución en dos grupos iguales, uno con ingresos por encima de la mediana y el otro con ingresos por debajo de la mediana. Para hogares, familias e individuos no emparentados, el ingreso mediano se basa en la distribución del número total de unidades incluyendo aquellas sin ingresos. La mediana para personas se basa en personas con ingresos. Los valores de ingreso mediano para todos los hogares, familias e individuos no emparentados se computan a base de intervalos de ingresos más detallados que los que se presentan en este informe. Generalmente, las cifras para ingresos medianos de $20,000 o menos se calculan utilizando la interpolación lineal; todas las demás cantidades de ingresos medianos se derivan mediante la interpolación de Pareto. Para una descripción detallada de estos procedimientos de interpolación, véase el apéndice B de los Current Population Reports, Serie P-60, Núm. 129—“Money Income of Families and Persons in the United States: 1979.”

Ingreso Promedio—El ingreso promedio es la cantidad obtenida al dividir el ingreso total de un universo estadístico particular por el número de unidades en ese universo. Por lo tanto, el ingreso promedio del hogar se obtiene dividiendo el total de ingresos de hogares por el número total de hogares. Para los varios tipos de ingreso, los promedios se basan en hogares que tienen esos tipos de ingreso.

Se debe ejercer cautela al utilizar e interpretar los valores de ingreso promedio para subgrupos pequeños de la población. Debido a que el ingreso promedio está grandemente influenciado por los valores extremos en la distribución, éste es especialmente susceptible a los efectos de la variabilidad en el muestreo, información errónea y errores en la elaboración. La mediana, que no se afecta por los valores extremos, es una mejor medida que el promedio cuando la base poblacional es pequeña. Sin embargo, este informe presenta el promedio para la mayoría de los subgrupos pequeños ya que, cuando ponderados según el número de casos, los promedios se pueden sumar para obtener medidas sumarias para áreas y grupos que no se presentan en este informe.

Limitaciones de los Datos—Debido a que las anotaciones sobre ingreso en los cuestionarios se basan frecuentemente en la memoria y no en registros, muchas personas tienen la tendencia de olvidar fuentes de ingreso pequeñas o irregulares y, por lo tanto, subestiman su ingreso. La subestimación tiende a ser más pronunciada para fuentes de ingreso que no surgen de ganancias, tales como Seguro Social, asistencia pública, o ingreso neto de intereses, dividendos y alquileres. Además, existen errores en la información debido a la falta de comprensión de las preguntas sobre ingreso. Un error de este tipo es el de informar cantidades monetarias brutas en vez de netas en las dos preguntas sobre ingreso neto de empleo propio, lo que resulta en una sobreestimación de estas dos categorías. Otro error común es el de informar cantidades en dólares idénticas para dos de las siete partidas sobre tipo de ingreso en las cuales un respondedor con una sola fuente de ingreso asumió que la segunda cantidad se debería anotar para representar el ingreso total. Estos tipos de sobreestimaciones tendrían un impacto sobre el nivel de ingreso promedio de empleo propio no-agrícola y agrícola y el ingreso total promedio que se publica para las varias subdivisiones geográficas de Puerto Rico.

Se instituyeron procedimientos extensivos de revisión en la operación de codificación para reducir algunos de estos tipos de errores y para mejorar la exactitud de los datos sobre ingreso. Además, muchos errores en la información se corrigieron mediante los procedimientos de codificación y de revisión por la computadora, con el resultado de que mejoró la consistencia entre las partidas sobre ingreso informadas y la información sobre experiencia de trabajo, ocupación y clase de trabajador. Por ejemplo, si la persona informó que estaba empleada por cuenta propia en su propia finca, no incorporada, pero sólo había informado ganancias de jornales y salario, la última cantidad se movió a ingreso neto de empleo propio agrícola. También, si una persona sólo informó ingreso total, la cantidad generalmente se asignó a una de las partidas sobre tipo de ingreso según las respuestas a las preguntas sobre experiencia de trabajo y clase de trabajador. Otro tipo de problema fue la falta de respuesta de los datos sobre ingreso. Cuando no se obtuvo información sobre ingreso, se desarrollaron procedimientos de asignación por computadora para imputar valores apropiados (ya sea ningún ingreso o cantidades positivas o negativas en términos de dólares) para las respuestas que faltaban. Estos procedimientos se describen en el apéndice D.

En las tablas sobre ingreso para hogares, familias, e individuos no emparentados, el grupo de ingreso más bajo (e.g., menos de $1,000) incluye unidades que se clasificaron como sin ingreso en 1979. Muchas de éstas vivían de ingresos “en especie,” ahorros, o regalos, o eran familias nuevas o familias en las cuales el único proveedor había muerto recientemente o se había ido del hogar. Sin embargo, muchas de las familias e individuos no emparentados que no informaron ingresos probablemente tuvieron algún ingreso monetario que no se informó en el censo.

Los datos sobre ingreso en este informe sólo cubren ingreso monetario. El hecho de que muchas familias en fincas reciben una parte importante de su ingreso en la forma de vivienda “gratuita” y bienes producidos y consumidos en la finca en vez de en ingresos monetarios se debe considerar al comparar los ingresos de residentes en fincas y de los que no residen en fincas. Algunos residentes no en fincas también reciben ingresos que no son monetarios. Tales ingresos a menudo toman la forma de cuentas de gastos reembolsables, el uso de transportación o facilidades del negocio, o compensación parcial por el negocio de gastos médicos y académicos. Muchas familias de ingresos bajos también reciben ingresos “en especie” de programas de asistencia pública. Al comparar los datos sobre ingresos en 1979 con años anteriores, se debe notar que un aumento o disminución en el ingreso monetario no necesariamente representa un cambio comparable en el ingreso real, a menos que se hagan ajustes para los cambios en los precios.

Comparabilidad

Datos de Censos Anteriores—Los datos sobre ingreso recopilados en los censos de 1960 y 1970 son básicamente similares a los datos del censo de 1980, pero hay variaciones en el detalle de las preguntas. En 1970, se obtuvo información sobre el ingreso de todos los miembros de cada quinta unidad de vivienda y alojamiento de grupo pequeño (menos de 15 personas) y de cada quinta persona en todos los demás alojamientos de grupo. Se requirió que cada persona informara (a) ingreso de jornal o salario, (b) ingreso neto de empleo propio no-agrícola, (c) ingreso neto de empleo propio agrícola, (d) Seguro Social o Retiro del Ferrocarril, (e) pagos de asistencia o de bienestar público, y (f) ingreso de todas las demás fuentes en 1969. Entre los censos de 1970 y 1980 también hubo cambios en la elaboración de los datos. En el censo de 1970, todos los valores que faltaban se imputaron como "Ninguno" o como una cantidad en dólares. Si una persona informó una cantidad en dólares para (a) ingreso de jornal o salario, (b) ingreso neto de empleo propio no-agrícola, o (c) ingreso neto de empleo propio agrícola, dicha persona se consideraba como no asignada sólo si no se imputaron otras cantidades en dólares para anotaciones adicionales que faltasen. En el censo de 1980, todas las personas con valores que faltaban en una o más de las siete partidas sobre tipo de ingreso y total de ingreso se designaron como asignadas. Si se informó el ingreso total y no se informó una o más de las categorías de tipo de ingreso, entonces la anotación en ingreso total se asignó generalmente a uno de los tipos de ingreso según las características socio-económicas del recipiente del ingreso. Esta persona se designó como no asignada. Además, había una diferencia en el método de derivación por la computadora del ingreso agregado de cantidades individuales que se codificaron en decenas, cientos y miles de dólares durante la operación de codificación. En la elaboración censal en 1970, la computadora añadió $50 y $5,000 respectivamente a cada cantidad codificada en cientos de dólares (menos de $100,000) y en decenas de miles de dólares ($100,000 o más). Anotaciones de $990,000 o más se trataron como $995,000, y pérdidas de $9,900 o más se trataron como menos $9,950. En el censo de 1980, las cantidades de ingreso menores de $100,000 se codificaron en decenas de dólares, y cantidades de $100,000 o más se codificaron en miles de dólares; se le añadió $5 a cada cantidad codificada en decenas de dólares y $500 a cada cantidad codificada en miles de dólares. Anotaciones de $999,000 o más se trataron como $999,500, y pérdidas de $9,990 o más se trataron como $9,995 en todas las derivaciones por computadora de agregados de ingreso. Las técnicas de codificación utilizadas tanto en el censo de 1970 como en el de 1980 se desarrollaron para acomodar las limitaciones de espacio en los cuestionarios.

Tanto en el censo de 1970 como en el de 1980, a todas las personas que no respondieron a las preguntas sobre ingreso (ya fueran jefes de familia u otras personas) se les asignó el ingreso informado por personas con características similares, según se describe en términos generales en el apéndice D.

En 1960, se obtuvieron datos sobre ingreso de todos los miembros en cada cuarta unidad de vivienda y de cada cuarta persona de 14 años de edad y mayor viviendo en un alojamiento de grupo. Se le pidió a cada persona que informara (a) ingreso de jornal o salario, (b) ingreso neto de empleo propio, y (c) ingreso que no fuera ganancias recibidas en 1959. En el procedimiento de revisión se asumió que una persona que informó haber recibido ingreso de jornales o salarios o de empleo propio pero que no informó haber recibido otro tipo de ingreso monetario, no recibió otro tipo de ingreso.

En 1950, la información sobre ingreso se obtuvo de cada persona de 14 años de edad y mayor. Si la persona era el jefe de la familia, se repitieron las preguntas sobre ingreso para los demás miembros de la familia como un grupo para obtener el ingreso de toda la familia. En las tabulaciones sobre ingreso familiar para el censo de 1950, si sólo se informó el ingreso del jefe, se asumió que no había ningún otro ingreso en la familia.

resúmes estadísticos de las planillas de contribuciones sobre ingresos. Ingreso, según se define para propósitos contributivos, difiere un poco del concepto utilizado por el Negociado del Censo. Por otra parte, la cobertura de las estadísticas de contribuciones sobre ingresos es diferente debido a las exenciones de personas con ingresos pequeños y la inclusión de ganancias capitales netas en las planillas de contribuciones. Además, los miembros de algunas familias someten planillas separadas y otros someten planillas conjuntas; como consecuencia de esto, la unidad que informa ingreso no es consistentemente una familia o una persona.

Datos de los Registros sobre Ganancias de la Administración del Seguro Social—Los datos sobre ganancias presentados en este informe no son directamente comparables con los registros sobre ganancias de la Administración del Seguro Social. Los datos de los registros sobre ganancias para 1979 excluyen las ganancias de la mayoría de los empleados del gobierno federal, algunos empleados de organizaciones con fines no pecuniarios, trabajadores cubiertos por la Ley de Retiro del Ferrocarril, y de las personas no cubiertas por el programa debido a ganancias insuficientes. Además, las ganancias recibidas de cualquier patrono en exceso de $22,900 en 1979 no se cubren en los registros sobre ganancias. Finalmente, debido a que los datos censales se obtienen de cuestionarios de hogares, pueden diferir de los datos en los registros sobre ganancias de la Administración del Seguro Social, que se basan en los informes de patronos y en las planillas de contribuciones sobre ingresos de personas empleadas por cuenta propia.

CONDICIÓN DE POBREZA EN 1979

Definiciones

Los datos sobre condición de pobreza se obtuvieron de las respuestas a las mismas preguntas de las cuales se obtuvieron los datos sobre ingresos (véase la sección sobre "Ingreso en 1979").

Las estadísticas sobre pobreza presentadas en este informe se basan en una definición que se originó en 1964 por la Administración del Seguro Social y que luego se modificó por comités intergenciales federales en 1969 y 1980. El núcleo de esta definición es el plan alimenticio económico de 1961, el menos costoso de cuatro planes de alimentación nutricionalmente adecuados diseñados por el Departamento de Agricultura. De la encuesta del Departamento de Agricultura de 1955 sobre el consumo de alimentos, se determinó que las familias de 3 personas o más gastaron aproximadamente un tercio de sus ingresos en alimentos; por lo tanto el nivel de pobreza para estas familias se estableció a tres veces el costo del plan de alimentación económica. Para familias más pequeñas y personas viviendo solas, el costo del plan de alimentación económica se multiplicó por factores un poco más altos para compensar por los gastos fijos relativamente más altos para estos hogares más pequeños.

Los límites de ingreso utilizados por el Negociado del Censo para determinar la condición de pobreza de familias e individuos no emparentados están compuestos de un grupo de 48 umbrales organizados en una matriz de dos dimensiones que consiste del tamaño de la familia (desde una persona hasta nueve personas o más) clasificada por presencia y número de miembros de la familia menores de 18 años de edad (desde ningún hijo presente hasta 8 o más hijos presentes). Los individuos no emparentados y las familias de dos personas se distinguen aún más por la edad del jefe de hogar (menos de 65 años y 65 años de edad y mayor). El ingreso total de cada familia o individuo no emparentado en la muestra se compara contra el umbral de pobreza apropiado para determinar la condición de pobreza de esa familia o individuo no emparentado. Si el ingreso total es menor que el límite correspondiente, la familia o individuo no emparentado se clasifica por debajo del nivel de pobreza. El número de personas por debajo del nivel de pobreza es la suma del número de personas en familias con ingresos por debajo del nivel de pobreza y el número de individuos no emparentados con ingresos por debajo del nivel de pobreza.

Los umbrales de pobreza se revisan todos los años para reflejar los cambios en el costo de vida según el Índice de Precios al Consumidor. En 1979, el umbral de pobreza promedio para una familia de cuatro personas era $7,412. (Véase la tabla al final de este apéndice.)

Los umbrales de pobreza sólo se computan a nivel nacional. No se ha intentado ajustar estos umbrales a variaciones regionales, estatales o locales en el costo de vida. Por lo tanto, los umbrales utilizados para Puerto Rico son iguales a aquellos utilizados para los Estados Unidos. Para una discusión detallada de la definición de pobreza, véase el informe del Negociado del Censo de los E.U., Current Population Reports, Serie P-60, Núm. 133, "Characteristics of the Population Below the Poverty Level: 1980."

Personas para las Cuales se ha Determinado Condición de Pobreza—La condición de pobreza se determina para todas las personas excepto las internas en instituciones, aquéllas en alojamientos de grupo militares y en dormitorios universitarios, e individuos no emparentados menores de 15 años de edad. Cuando la línea, "Personas para las cuales se ha determinado condición de pobreza," aparece debajo del encabezamiento, "Todos los Niveles de Ingreso en 1979," presenta la población total menos las personas en los cuatro grupos listados anteriormente. Cuando la misma línea aparece bajo el encabezamiento, "Ingreso en 1979 por Debajo del Nivel de Pobreza," presenta el número de tales personas que se clasifican por debajo del nivel de pobreza. En tablas que sólo contienen datos sobre pobreza, las exclusiones anteriores se presentan en la nota en el encabezamiento y la palabra "personas" se utiliza en lugar de "personas para las cuales se ha determinado condición de pobreza."

Condición de Pobreza Excluyendo Ingresos de Seguro Social y/o Asistencia Pública—La condición de pobreza normalmente se calcula a base del ingreso total de la familia o del individuo no emparentado. En la tabla 147, la condición de pobreza también se computa a base del ingreso total de la familia o del individuo no emparentado menos cualquier ingreso de asistencia pública o del Seguro Social. En estas tabulaciones las personas en familias están clasificadas como con ingreso del Seguro Social y/o asistencia pública si cualquier miembro de la familia recibió ese tipo de ingreso en 1979.

Niveles de Pobreza Especificados—Debido a que los niveles de pobreza actualmente utilizados por el gobierno federal no llenan todas las necesidades de los usuarios de los datos, algunos datos se presentan para niveles alternos que varían desde 75 por ciento hasta 200 por ciento del nivel de pobreza actual. Estos niveles de pobreza especificados se obtienen multiplicando los límites de ingreso al nivel de pobreza por el factor apropiado. Por ejemplo, el límite de ingreso promedio al 125 por ciento del nivel de pobreza era $9,265 ( $$7,412 \times 1.25$ ) en 1979 para una familia de cuatro personas.

Umbrales Promedios Ponderados al Nivel de Pobreza—Los umbrales promedios presentados en la primera columna de la tabla se ponderaron por la presencia y número de hijos. Por ejemplo, el umbral promedio ponderado para una familia de un tamaño dado se obtiene multiplicando el umbral para cada categoría de presencia y número de hijos dentro del tamaño de familia dado por el número de familias en esa categoría. Estos productos se suman a través de todas las categorías de presencia y número de hijos, y la suma se divide por el número total de familias en el grupo para obtener el umbral promedio ponderado al nivel de pobreza para ese tamaño familiar.

por debajo del nivel de pobreza y sus respectivos umbrales de pobreza. Al computar el déficit de ingreso, a las familias que informan una pérdida neta de ingreso se les asigna cero dólares y para tales casos el déficit es igual al umbral de pobreza. Esta medida proporciona una estimación de la cantidad que se requeriría para subir los ingresos de todas las familias pobres e individuos no emparentados a sus respectivos umbrales de pobreza. El déficit de ingreso es por lo tanto una medida del grado de empobrecimiento de una familia o individuo no emparentado. Sin embargo, se debe ejercer cautela al comparar los déficits promedios de familias con características diferentes. Hasta cierto punto, las diferencias aparentes en los déficits de ingreso promedios pueden ser una función de las diferencias en el tamaño de las familias.

Promedio del Déficit de Ingreso—El promedio del déficit de ingreso es la cantidad que se obtiene al dividir el déficit de ingreso total de un grupo por debajo del nivel de pobreza por el número de familias (o individuos no emparentados) en ese grupo.

Los déficits promedio que se presentan en la tabla 149 de este informe pueden ser un poco diferentes de los promedios publicados anteriormente en el informe PC80-1-C, Características Sociales y Económicas Generales. Estas diferencias se deben a que se utilizaron procedimientos diferentes para redondear las cifras cuando se tabularon los déficits de ingresos en las dos series de informes.

Mediana del Déficit de Ingreso—La mediana del déficit de ingreso es la cantidad que divide la distribución en dos partes iguales, una que tiene un déficit de ingreso por encima de la mediana y la otra que tiene un déficit de ingreso por debajo de la mediana.

Comparabilidad con Censos Anteriores

Comparabilidad con Censos Anteriores—La definición de pobreza utilizada en el censo de 1980 difiere un poco de aquella utilizada en el censo de 1970. Se le hicieron tres modificaciones técnicas a la definición utilizada en el censo de 1970, según se describen a continuación:

1. Se eliminaron los umbrales separados para familias con un jefe de hogar hembra sin esposo presente y para todas las demás familias. Para el censo de 1980, el promedio ponderado de los umbrales de pobreza para estos dos tipos de familias se le aplicó a todos los tipos de familias, no importa el sexo del jefe de hogar.
2. Las familias en fincas y los individuos no emparentados en fincas ya no tienen una serie de umbrales de pobreza más bajos que aquellos que se le aplican a familias e individuos no emparentados que no residen en fincas. En cambio, los umbrales para los que no residen en fincas se le aplicaron a todas las familias e individuos no emparentados no importa su residencia.
3. Los umbrales por tamaño de familia se extendieron de siete personas o más hasta nueve personas o más.

Estos cambios han resultado en un aumento mínimo en el número de personas pobres a nivel nacional. Para una discusión completa de estas modificaciones y su impacto, véase, Current Population Reports, Serie P-60, Núm. 133.

La población cubierta en las estadísticas sobre pobreza obtenidas del censo de 1980 es esencialmente la misma que para el censo de 1970. La única diferencia es que en 1980, individuos no emparentados menores de 15 años de edad se excluyeron del universo de pobreza, mientras que en 1970 sólo se excluyeron aquellos menores de 14 años de edad. Es poco probable que estas diferencias en la cobertura de la población tuvieran un impacto significativo al comparar los datos sobre pobreza para personas en los censos de 1980 y 1970.

Limitaciones

El término "pobreza" implica una serie compleja de condiciones económicas, sociales y sicológicas. Las estadísticas presentadas en este informe sólo proporcionan estimaciones de pobreza económica basadas en el recibo de ingreso monetario antes de impuestos. Los lectores también deben estar conscientes de que por muchas diferentes razones hay una tendencia en los respondedores a informar menos ingresos de los que tuvieron en realidad. En términos generales, el ingreso devengado de jornales o salarios se informa con más exactitud que otras fuentes de ingreso. (Para una discusión completa sobre las limitaciones de los datos sobre ingreso, véase la sección sobre "Ingreso en 1979.")

Se debe notar que el ingreso no-monetario no se consideró al determinar la condición de pobreza. Sin embargo, en años recientes los ingresos de transferencias no-monetarias tales como cupones de alimentos, subsidios de vivienda y beneficios de salud se han convertido en un elemento cada vez más importante en el ingreso de las personas pobres. Para más información sobre el tema de la valoración de beneficios no-monetarios, refiérase a la publicación del Negociado del Censo de los Estados Unidos, Documento Técnico 50, Alternative Methods for Valuing Selected In-Kind Transfer Benefits and Measuring Their Effect on Poverty. Para una discusión completa sobre las limitaciones del concepto de pobreza, véase Current Population Reports, Serie P-60, Núm. 133.

List A. CLASIFICACIONES INDUSTRIALES INTERMEDIAS (150 PARTIDAS) CON LAS CATEGORÍAS DETALLADAS QUE LAS COMPONEN

Esta lista presenta la relación entre la matriz de ocupaciones detalladas (e.g., tabla 117) y la matriz intermedia (e.g., tabla 118). Los grupos ocupacionales marcados con un asterisco (*) no se presentan en las tablas que utilizan la clasificación intermedia pero se pueden obtener mediante la resta. Los números en paréntesis después de las categorías de ocupaciones son las definiciones del SOC; n. c. o. l. significa no clasificado en otro lugar.

LUGAR HABITUAL DE RESIDENCIA

De acuerdo con los procedimientos censales que se originaron con el primer censo de los Estados Unidos en 1790, cada persona enumerada en el censo de 1980 se contó como habitante de su "lugar habitual de residencia," que generalmente significa aquel lugar en el cual la persona vive y duerme la mayor parte del tiempo. Este lugar no es necesariamente el mismo que la residencia legal de la persona ni su residencia para efectos electorales. Sin embargo, en la gran mayoría de los casos, el uso de estas diferentes bases de clasificación produciría substancialmente las mismas estadísticas, aunque podrían haber diferencias apreciables para algunas áreas.

La implementación de esta práctica ha resultado en el establecimiento de reglas de residencia para ciertas categorías de personas cuyo lugar habitual de residencia no es inmediatamente aparente. Además, esta práctica significa que las personas no siempre se contaron como residentes del lugar en el cual se estaban quedando el Día del Censo (1ro de abril). Las personas sin un lugar habitual de residencia, sin embargo, se contaron en el lugar donde se encontraban.

Fuerzas Armadas de los Estados Unidos

Los miembros de las Fuerzas Armadas de los E.U. que vivían en una instalación militar se contaron, al igual que en los censos anteriores, como residentes del área en la cual estaba localizada dicha instalación; los miembros de las Fuerzas Armadas de los E.U. que no vivían en una instalación militar se contaron como residentes de las áreas en las cuales vivían. Los miembros de las familias del personal de las Fuerzas Armadas de los Estados Unidos, se contaron donde estaban viviendo el Día del Censo (i.e., la instalación militar o "fuera de la base," según fuera el caso).

Cada barco de la Marina se atribuyó a la localización que el Departamento de la Marina de Guerra de los Estados Unidos designó como su puerto de origen, excepto aquellos barcos que estaban desplegados a la 6ta o 7ma Flota el Día del Censo. Como se hizo en el censo de 1970, el personal naval a bordo de barcos en altamar se definió como parte de la población de ultramar en el censo de 1980, ya que la designación a la 6ta o 7ma Flota implica una asignación en ultramar por un largo periodo.

En puertos de origen donde el personal naval asignado a barcos era menos de 1,000, la tripulación se contó a bordo del barco. En puertos de origen cuyo personal naval asignado a barcos era de 1,000 o más, el personal naval que indicó que tenía un lugar habitual de residencia dentro de 50 millas del puerto de origen del barco se atribuyó a esa residencia.

Cuando un puerto de origen designado por el Departamento de la Marina de Guerra de los Estados Unidos quedaba en más de una entidad geográfica, los barcos anclados allí el Día del Censo se asignaron por el Negociado del Censo a la entidad en la cual estaba localizado el terreno inmediatamente adyacente al muelle o desembarcadero. Otros barcos atribuidos por la Marina de Guerra a ese puerto de origen pero que no estaban físicamente presentes y no estaban desplegados a la 6ta o 7ma Flota el Día del Censo, se atribuyeron a la localidad que aparecía en la lista de puertos de origen de la Marina de Guerra.

Tripulaciones de Barcos de la Marina Mercante

Se enviaron informes del censo para personas a bordo (Shipboard Census Reports) a las tripulaciones de barcos de la Marina Mercante de los Estados Unidos a través de sus respectivos dueños u operadores, basándose en listas de barcos de la Marina Mercante de los Estados Unidos obtenidas de la Administración Marítima del Departamento de Comercio de los Estados Unidos.

Si un barco estaba anclado en un puerto de los Estados Unidos, incluyendo a Puerto Rico, el Día del Censo, la tripulación se enumeró como de ese puerto. Si el barco no estaba anclado en un puerto de los Estados Unidos pero estaba dentro de las aguas territoriales de los Estados Unidos, la tripulación se enumeró como de (a) el puerto de destino, si ese puerto quedaba dentro de los Estados Unidos, incluyendo a Puerto Rico, o (b) el puerto de origen del barco, si su puerto de destino quedaba fuera de los Estados Unidos, incluyendo a Puerto Rico. Tripulaciones de barcos de los Estados Unidos que se encontraban fuera de las aguas territoriales de los Estados Unidos el Día del Censo y tripulaciones de barcos con bandera extranjera no se enumeraron en el Censo de 1980.

Personas Fuera del Hogar en Escuelas

Los estudiantes universitarios se contaron como residentes del área en la cual estaban viviendo mientras asistían a la universidad, al igual que se ha hecho desde 1950. Niños en escuelas de internos por debajo del nivel universitario se contaron en el hogar de sus padres.

Personas en Instituciones

Personas internas en instituciones, quienes ordinariamente viven allí por períodos de tiempo considerables, se contaron como residentes del área en la cual la institución estaba localizada. Pacientes en salas (generales, de maternidad, etc.) de hospitales en las cuales éstos permanecen cortos períodos de tiempo, se contaron en su lugar habitual de residencia; si no tenían un lugar habitual de residencia, se contaron en el hospital.

Personas Fuera de su Residencia el Día del Censo

A las personas que se encontraban en hoteles, moteles, etc., durante la noche del 31 de marzo de 1980, se les pidió que llenaran un formulario censal para adjudicar su información censal a sus hogares si éstas indicaron que no había nadie en sus hogares que pudiera dar la información al censo. Un procedimiento similar se utilizó para personas que estaban de visita en residencias privadas, al igual que para personas que salieron de Puerto Rico durante marzo de 1980 mediante líneas aéreas o navieras intercontinentales para viajar temporalmente en el extranjero. Además, la información sobre personas que estaban fuera de su lugar habitual de residencia se obtuvo de otros miembros de sus familias, administradores de edificios, vecinos, etc. Si todos los miembros de una familia iban a estar fuera durante el periodo total de enumeración, la información sobre ese hogar se obtuvo de los vecinos. Se utilizó un procedimiento de pareo para eliminar informes duplicados de personas que habían dado información sobre ellos mismos mientras estaban fuera de su lugar habitual de residencia y sobre quienes otra persona en la residencia habitual dió información.

Durante la noche del 8 de abril de 1980, se llevó a cabo una enumeración especial en facilidades tales como misiones, cárceles, centros de detención, etc., y las personas allí enumeradas se contaron como residentes del área donde el establecimiento estaba localizado.

Residentes en el Extranjero

Residentes de Puerto Rico que se encontraban en el extranjero por un periodo de tiempo extenso (en las Fuerzas Armadas de los Estados Unidos, trabajando como empleados civiles, estudiando en universidades, etc.) no se incluyeron en la población de Puerto Rico. Por otro lado, residentes de Puerto Rico que se encontraban temporalmente en el extranjero de vacaciones, en viajes de negocios o por otras razones semejantes, se contaron en su lugar habitual de residencia en Puerto Rico.

Ciudadanos de Otros Países

Ciudadanos de otros países con residencia habitual (legal o ilegal) en Puerto Rico el Día del Censo, incluyendo aquellos que estaban trabajando aquí o asistiendo a la escuela (pero que no vivían en una cancillería o consulado) se incluyeron en la enumeración, al igual que miembros de sus familias viviendo con ellos. Ciudadanos de otros países visitando o viajando temporalmente en Puerto Rico o viviendo en los predios de una cancillería o consulado no se enumeraron en el Censo de 1980.

PROCEDIMIENTOS PARA LA RECOPILACIÓN DE DATOS

El Censo de Puerto Rico de 1980 se llevó a cabo mediante una combinación de autoenumeración y entrevistas personales. Varios días antes del Día del Censo, el 1ro de abril de 1980, en áreas con servicio de entrega postal, el cartero repartió a cada hogar en su ruta de entrega un formulario del censo que contenía información explicativa y las mismas preguntas que el cuestionario corto. Se solicitó que el jefe del hogar completara el cuestionario y se lo entregara al enumerador cuando él o ella visitara el hogar. Formularios incompletos, inconsistentes o sin llenar se completaron mediante entrevista durante la visita del enumerador. En áreas donde no había servicio de entrega postal, los cuestionarios estaban disponibles en aquellos lugares en que las personas recogían su correspondencia, y todas las unidades de vivienda se enumeraron mediante entrevista personal. Las unidades de vivienda desocupadas se enumeraron mediante visita personal y observación.

Cada unidad de vivienda en Puerto Rico se enumeró utilizando una de dos versiones del cuestionario censal: un cuestionario corto que contenía un número limitado de preguntas básicas de población y vivienda o un cuestionario largo que contenía estas preguntas básicas al igual que un número de preguntas adicionales. Se utilizó un procedimiento de muestreo para determinar aquellas unidades de vivienda que recibirían el cuestionario largo; una de cada seis unidades de vivienda (aproximadamente 17 por ciento) recibió el cuestionario largo o cuestionario de muestra. Los cuestionarios del censo estaban disponibles en inglés y en español.

Se utilizaron cuestionarios especiales para la enumeración de personas en alojamientos de grupo tales como colegios y universidades, hospitales, prisiones, instalaciones militares y barcos. Éstos contenían las mismas preguntas sobre población que aparecían en el cuestionario largo o el cuestionario corto, pero no contenían las preguntas sobre la vivienda.

PROCEDIMIENTOS PARA LA ELABORACIÓN DE LOS DATOS

Los cuestionarios del censo de 1980 se elaboraron de manera similar a la utilizada para el censo de 1970. Fueron diseñados para elaborarse electrónicamente por FOSDIC (Film Optical Sensing Device for Input to Computer). Para la mayoría de las preguntas en el cuestionario, la información proporcionada por la persona u obtenida por el enumerador se indicaba marcando las respuestas en las posiciones predesignadas del cuestionario. Estas marcas serían "leídas" por FOSDIC de una copia en microfilm del cuestionario y transferidas sin intervención manual a cintas de computadora. La cinta de computadora no incluyó información sobre nombres ni direcciones de individuos.

La elaboración se llevó a cabo en dos etapas. En la elaboración de los datos de 100 por ciento, todos los cuestionarios cortos, y las páginas 2 y 3 de los cuestionarios largos (que contienen las mismas preguntas que el cuestionario corto), fueron microfilmados, "leídos" por FOSDIC y transferidos a una cinta de computadora para tabulación. Para los datos de muestra, los cuestionarios largos (o de muestra) se elaboraron mediante operaciones de codificación manual debido a que algunas preguntas requerían que el respondedor proporcionara respuestas escritas que no podían leerse por FOSDIC. A las respuestas escritas en cada cuestionario, los codificadores del Censo le asignaron códigos alfabéticos o numéricos en encasillados de codificación legibles por FOSDIC. Después de completarse toda la codificación, los cues-tionarios largos fueron microfilmados, y el microfilm fue leído por FOSDIC y transferido a cintas de computadora.

La cinta que contenía la información de los cuestionarios se elaboró por las computadoras del Negociado del Censo mediante un número de pasos de revisión y tabulación. Entre los productos de esta operación se encuentran cintas de computadora de las cuales se prepararon las

Una descripción más detallada de los procedimientos de recopilación y elaboración de datos puede obtenerse del Users' Guide, PHC80-R-1, del Censo de Población y Vivienda de 1980.

INTRODUCCIÓN

Las cifras presentadas en esta publicación se basan en la muestra censal para 1980. Los datos son estimaciones de las cifras que hubiesen resultado de un recuento completo. Es de esperarse que las estimaciones varíen del resultado del recuento completo debido a que éstas están sujetas a dos tipos de errores—errores de muestreo y errores ajenos al muestreo. El error de muestreo en los datos surge de la selección de personas y unidades de vivienda a ser incluidas en la muestra. El error ajeno al muestreo, que afecta tanto los datos de la muestra como los del recuento completo, es el resultado de todos los demás errores que pueden ocurrir durante las fases de recopilación y elaboración de los datos del censo. Una discusión más detallada sobre los errores de muestreo y errores ajenos al muestreo, y una descripción del procedimiento de estimación se presentan en este apéndice.

DISEÑO DE LA MUESTRA

Mientras cada persona y unidad de vivienda en Puerto Rico fue enumerada en un cuestionario que solicitaba cierta información demográfica básica (e.g., edad, estado civil, parentesco), una muestra de personas y unidades de vivienda fue enumerada en un cuestionario que solicitaba información adicional. La unidad de muestreo básica para el censo de 1980 fue la unidad de vivienda, incluyendo a todos sus ocupantes. Para personas que vivían en alojamientos de grupo, la unidad de muestreo fue la persona. Una de cada seis unidades de vivienda o personas en alojamientos de grupo se incluyó en la muestra.

El censo de Puerto Rico se llevó a cabo mediante una combinación de auto-enumeración y entrevista personal. Varios días antes del Día del Censo, en áreas con servicio de entrega postal, el cartero repartió a cada hogar en su ruta de entrega, un cuestionario anticipado del censo que contenía información explicativa y las mismas preguntas que el cuestionario corto. En áreas donde no había servicio de entrega postal, los cuestionarios estaban disponibles en aquellos lugares en que las personas recogían su correspondencia. Para cada enumerador se preparó un libro de listado en blanco que identificaba las líneas designadas para la muestra (cada sexta línea). Comenzando el Día del Censo, los enumeradores recorrieron el área sistemáticamente y anotaron en el libro de listado todas las unidades de vivienda en el mismo orden en el cual las encontraron. Para cada hogar se obtuvieron cuestionarios llenos, incluyendo la información adicional requerida para las unidades de vivienda anotadas en las líneas designadas para la muestra.

Un enumerador era responsable de una pequeña área geográfica conocida como un distrito de enumeración, o D.E. Un distrito de enumeración usualmente representaba el área de trabajo promedio para un enumerador.

Para reducir el costo de elaborar los datos, se diseñó un sistema para seleccionar una muestra de los cuestionarios de muestra en los cuales se codificarían las respuestas a las preguntas sobre lugar de trabajo y migración. La submuestra incluyó uno de cada dos cuestionarios de muestra en cada D.E.

ERRORES EN LOS DATOS

Debido a que los datos en esta publicación se basan en una muestra, pueden diferir un poco de las cifras que se hubieran obtenido de un recuento completo donde todas las unidades de vivienda, personas en esas unidades de vivienda y personas viviendo en alojamientos de grupo se hubieran enumerado utilizando un solo tipo de cuestionario, las mismas instrucciones, los mismos enumeradores, etc. La desviación entre la estadística muestral y el promedio de las estadísticas de todas las muestras posibles se llama error de muestreo. El error estándar de una estadística muestral es una medida de la variación entre los estimados de todas las muestras posibles y por lo tanto es una medida de la precisión con la cual una estadística muestral particular se aproxima al resultado promedio de todas las muestras posibles. La estadística muestral y su respectivo error estándar estimado permiten la construcción de estimaciones de intervalos con cierto nivel de confianza prescrita de que el intervalo incluye el resultado promedio de todas las posibles muestras. El método para calcular los errores estándares e intervalos de confianza para los datos en este informe aparece a continuación.

Además de la variabilidad que surge de los procedimientos de muestreo, tanto los datos obtenidos de la muestra como los datos obtenidos en el recuento total están sujetos a errores ajenos al muestreo. El error ajeno al muestreo se puede introducir durante cada una de las muchas extensas y complejas operaciones utilizadas para recopilar y elaborar los datos censales. Por ejemplo, operaciones tales como la corrección, revisión, o manejo de los cuestionarios pueden introducir errores en los datos. Una discusión más detallada de las fuentes de errores ajenos al muestreo se presenta en la sección sobre "Control de Errores Ajenos al Muestreo" en este apéndice.

Los errores ajenos al muestreo pueden afectar los datos en dos formas. Los errores que se introducen al azar aumentan la variabilidad de los datos y por lo tanto se reflejan en el error estándar. Los errores que tienden a ser consistentes en una dirección sesgan los datos de la muestra y del recuento total en esa dirección. Por ejemplo, si los respondedores consistentemente subestiman sus ingresos, entonces las cifras que resultan para hogares o familias por categorías de ingreso estarán sesgadas hacia las categorías de ingreso más bajas. Estos tipos de sesgos no se reflejan en el error estándar.

Cómputo de Errores Estándares

Totales y Porcentajes—Las tablas A a la C de este apéndice contienen la información necesaria para computar los errores estándares de las estadísticas muestrales en este informe. Para hacer este cálculo es necesario conocer el error estándar no ajustado presentado en la tabla A o B para la característica, que resultaría de una muestra aleatoria simple (de personas, familias, o unidades de vivienda) y la técnica de estimación; y el factor de ajuste para la característica particular estimada, presentado en la tabla C. Los factores de ajuste reflejan los efectos del diseño muestral actual y del procedimiento complejo de estimación por proporciones utilizado en el censo de 1980.

Para computar el error estándar aproximado de una estadística para un área geográfica, siga los pasos que aparecen a continuación:

- Obtenga el error estándar no ajustado de la tabla A o B (o de la fórmula que aparece bajo la tabla) para el total o porcentaje estimado, respectivamente.
- Utilice la tabla C para obtener el factor para la característica (e.g., impedimento para el trabajo, matrícula escolar) con la cual está trabajando. Si la estadística es una tabulación cruzada de más de una característica, use el factor más grande. Multiplique el error estándar no ajustado por ese factor.

Como indica la fórmula que aparece debajo de las tablas A y B, los errores estándares no ajustados de las estimaciones de cero, o de totales o porcentajes estimados muy pequeños, se aproximan a cero. Este también es el caso para porcentajes o totales estimados muy grandes que se aproximan al tamaño de las áreas de tabulación a las cuales corresponden. Sin embargo, estas estimaciones de totales y porcentajes también están sujetas a variabilidades de muestreo y variabilidades ajenas al muestreo, y un error estándar estimado de cero (o un error estándar muy pequeño) no es apropiado.

Para porcientos estimados menores de 2 o mayores de 98, utilice los errores estándares no ajustados en la tabla B que aparecen en la línea "2 ó 98." Para un total estimado menor de 50 o que difiera del tamaño total del área de tabulación por 50 ó menos, utilice un error estándar no ajustado de 16.

Una ilustración del uso de las tablas se presenta en una sección subsiguiente de este apéndice.

Diferencias—Los errores estándares estimados en estas tablas no son directamente aplicables a diferencias entre dos estadísticas muestrales. Para poder estimar el error estándar de una diferencia, las tablas se utilizan de una manera un tanto diferente en las siguientes tres situaciones:

- Para la diferencia entre una estadística muestral y un valor obtenido de un recuento total, utilice el error estándar de la estadística muestral.
- Para la diferencia entre (o la suma de) dos estadísticas muestrales, el error estándar apropiado es aproximadamente la raíz cuadrada de la suma de los cuadrados de los dos errores estándares individuales; o sea, para los errores estándares,  $Ee_x$  y  $Ee_y$  de las estadísticas "x" y "y":

$$Ee_{(x+y)} = Ee_{(x-y)} \approx \sqrt{(Ee_x)^2 + (Ee_y)^2}$$

Este método, sin embargo, subestimar (sobreestimar) el error estándar si existe una alta correlación positiva (negativa) entre los dos términos en la suma o una alta correlación negativa (positiva) entre los dos términos en una diferencia. Este método también se puede utilizar para determinar la diferencia entre (o la suma de) estadísticas muestrales de dos censos o entre una muestra censal y otra encuesta. El error estándar para estadísticas no basadas en la muestra del censo de 1980 se debe obtener de una fuente apropiada fuera de esta publicación.

- Para la diferencia entre dos estadísticas muestrales, una de las cuales es una subclase de la otra, utilice las tablas directamente cuando la diferencia calculada es la estimación que interesa.

Se puede obtener una aproximación del error estándar de un promedio de la siguiente manera: compute la varianza de la distribución en la cual está basado el promedio; multiplique este valor por cinco y divida el producto por el recuento total de unidades en la distribución; obtenga la raíz cuadrada de este cociente y multiplique el resultado por el factor de ajuste de la tabla C que sea apropiado para la característica en la cual se basa el promedio.

Medianas—Para obtener el error estándar de la mediana de una característica, es necesario examinar la distribución de la cual se deriva la mediana ya que el tamaño de la base y la distribución misma afectan el error estándar. Aquí se presenta un método aproximado. Como primer paso, calcule la mitad del número en el cual se basa la mediana (refiérase a este resultado como N/2). Trate a N/2 como si fuera una estimación cualquiera y obtenga su error estándar según se indicó en la sección anterior utilizando las tablas A y C. Compute el intervalo de confianza deseado para  $N/2$ . Comenzando con el valor más bajo de la característica, acumule las frecuencias en cada categoría de la característica hasta que la suma sea igual o por primera vez exceda el límite inferior del intervalo de confianza para  $N/2$ . Mediante la interpolación lineal, obtenga un valor de la característica correspondiente a esta suma. Este es el valor inferior del intervalo de confianza de la mediana. De manera similar, acumule las frecuencias comenzando con el valor más alto de la característica hasta que la suma sea igual o exceda la cifra del límite superior del intervalo para  $N/2$ . Interpole como se hizo anteriormente para obtener el límite superior del intervalo de confianza de la mediana estimada.

Intervalos de Confianza

Una estadística muestral y su error estándar estimado se pueden utilizar para construir intervalos de confianza para la estadística. Estos intervalos son las amplitudes que contendrán el valor promedio de la característica estimada que resulta de todas las muestras posibles, con una probabilidad conocida. Por ejemplo, si todas las muestras posibles que puedan resultar del diseño muestral del censo de 1980 fueran seleccionadas y examinadas independientemente bajo las mismas condiciones, y si la estadística y su error estándar estimado fueran calculados para cada una de estas muestras, entonces:

- (1) Aproximadamente el 68 por ciento de los intervalos entre un error estándar estimado por debajo de la estimación y un error estándar estimado sobre la estimación contendrán el resultado promedio de todas las muestras posibles; y
- (2) Aproximadamente el 95 por ciento de los intervalos dentro de dos errores estándares estimados por debajo de la estimación y dos errores estándares estimados sobre la estimación contendrán el resultado promedio de todas las muestras posibles.

Estos intervalos se conocen como intervalos de confianza de 68 y 95 por ciento, respectivamente.

El valor promedio de la característica estimada que se puede derivar de todas las muestras posibles está o no contenido dentro de cualquier intervalo particular computado. Por lo tanto, no se puede aseverar que el valor promedio tiene cierta probabilidad de caer entre los límites del intervalo de confianza calculado. Sin embargo, se puede aseverar, con una probabilidad o confianza especificada, que el intervalo de confianza calculado incluye la estimación promedio de todas las muestras posibles (aproximadamente el valor del recuento total).

También se pueden construir intervalos de confianza para la diferencia entre dos cifras muestrales. Esto se hace calculando la diferencia entre estas cifras, obteniendo el error estándar de la diferencia (utilizando la fórmula presentada anteriormente), y luego formulando un intervalo de confianza para esa diferencia estimada como se hizo anteriormente. Se puede decir, con confianza especificada, que este intervalo incluye la diferencia que se hubiera obtenido al promediar los resultados de todas las muestras posibles.

Los errores estándares estimados presentados en este informe no incluyen todas las porciones de la variabilidad resultante de errores ajenos al muestreo que pueden estar presentes en los datos. Los errores estándares reflejan el efecto de variaciones simples en las respuestas, pero no el efecto de errores correlacionados introducidos por enumeradores, codificadores, u otros empleados de campo o de elaboración. Por lo tanto, los errores estándares calculados representan un límite inferior del error total. Como resultado de esto, los intervalos de confianza construidos utilizando estos errores estándares estimados pueden no alcanzar los niveles de confianza establecidos (i.e., 68 ó 95 por ciento). Por esto, se debe ejercer cautela en la interpretación de los datos en esta publicación basados en errores estándares estimados.

Uso de las Tablas para Computar Errores Estándares

Véase el apéndice D del informe PHC80-3, Resumen de las Características para Unidades Gubernamentales y Áreas Estadísticas Metropolitanas Estándares, o del informe PC80-1-C, Características Sociales y Económicas Generales, para ejemplos que presentan los cómputos de los errores estándares y la formación de intervalos de confianza.

PROCEDIMIENTO DE ESTIMACIÓN

Las estimaciones que se presentan en esta publicación se obtuvieron mediante el uso de un procedimiento repetitivo de estimaciones por proporciones que resultó en la asignación de una ponderación al record de cada persona o unidad de vivienda en la muestra. Para cualquier área de tabulación determinada, se estimó el total de una característica sumando las ponderaciones asignadas a las personas o unidades de vivienda que poseían la característica en el área de tabulación. Las estimaciones de las características de las familias se basaron en las ponderaciones que le fueron asignadas a los miembros de una familia designados como jefes de hogar. Al record de cada persona o unidad de vivienda en la muestra se le asignó exactamente una ponderación que se utilizó para producir las estimaciones de todas las características. Por ejemplo, si la ponderación dada al record de una persona o unidad de vivienda en la muestra tenía el valor de cinco, todas las características de esa persona o unidad de vivienda serían tabuladas con una ponderación de cinco. Sin embargo, el procedimiento de estimación asignó ponderaciones que varían de una persona a otra y de una unidad de vivienda a otra.

El procedimiento de estimación utilizado para asignar las ponderaciones se llevó a cabo en "áreas de ponderación" definidas geográficamente. Las áreas de ponderación se formaban generalmente de porciones geográficas adyacentes, las cuales coincidían estrechamente con áreas censales de tabulación que estaban localizadas dentro de los municipios. A las áreas de ponderación se les requería un mínimo de 400 personas en la muestra. Nunca se permitió que las áreas de ponderación cruzaran los límites municipales. En municipios pequeños con un recuento muestral menor de 400 personas, el requisito mínimo en la muestra se cambió para así permitir que el municipio completo se convirtiera en un área de ponderación.

Dentro de un área de ponderación, el procedimiento de estimación por proporciones para las personas en la muestra se llevó a cabo en tres etapas. Para personas, la primera etapa utilizó 17 grupos de tipo de hogar. La segunda etapa utilizó dos grupos: jefes de hogar y personas que no eran jefes de hogar. La tercera etapa potencialmente podría haber utilizado 16 grupos por edad y sexo. Las etapas fueron las siguientes:

PERSONAS

Etapa 1—Tipo de Hogar

Grupo Personas en Unidades de Vivienda con una Familia con Hijos Propios Menores de 18 Años

1	2 personas en la unidad de vivienda
2	3 personas en la unidad de vivienda
3	4 personas en la unidad de vivienda
4	5 a 7 personas en la unidad de vivienda
5	8 personas o más en la unidad de vivienda

Personas en Unidades de Vivienda con una Familia sin Hijos Propios Menores de 18 Años

6-10	2 personas en la unidad de vivienda hasta 8 personas o más en la unidad de vivienda
------	---

Personas en Todas las Demás Unidades de Vivienda

11	1 persona en la unidad de vivienda
12-16	2 personas en la unidad de vivienda hasta 8 personas o más en la unidad de vivienda

Etapa II—Jefe de Hogar/No es Jefe de Hogar

Grupo

1	Jefe de hogar
2	No es jefe de hogar (incluyendo a personas en alojamientos de grupo)

Etapa III—Edad/Sexo

Grupo Varones

1	0 a 4 años de edad
2	5 a 14 años de edad
3	15 a 19 años de edad
4	20 a 24 años de edad

7	45 a 64 años de edad
8	65 años de edad o más

Hembras

9-16	Las mismas categorías de edad que para los grupos 1 al 8

Dentro de un área de ponderación, el primer paso en el procedimiento de estimación fue el de asignar una ponderación inicial al record de cada persona en la muestra. Esta ponderación era aproximadamente equivalente al inverso de la probabilidad de seleccionar a una persona para la muestra censal.

El próximo paso en el procedimiento de estimación fue el de combinar, de ser necesario, los grupos en cada una de las tres etapas anteriores al procedimiento repetitivo de estimación por proporciones para así aumentar la confiabilidad de dicho procedimiento. Para cada etapa, cualquier grupo que no cumplía con ciertos criterios relacionados al recuento muestral no ponderado o a la proporción entre el recuento total y el recuento muestral ponderado inicialmente, fue combinado o agregado a otro grupo en la misma etapa según un patrón especificado.

Como paso final, las ponderaciones iniciales pasaron por tres etapas de ajuste por proporciones en las cuales se utilizaron los grupos presentados anteriormente. En la primera etapa, la proporción entre el recuento censal total y la suma de las ponderaciones iniciales para cada persona en la muestra se computó para cada grupo de la etapa I. La ponderación inicial asignada a cada persona en un grupo fue multiplicada por la proporción del grupo de la etapa I para así obtener una ponderación ajustada. En la segunda etapa, las ponderaciones ajustadas de la primera etapa fueron nuevamente ajustadas por la proporción del recuento censal total a la suma de las ponderaciones de la primera etapa para las personas en la muestra en cada grupo de la etapa II. Finalmente, las ponderaciones de la segunda etapa se ajustaron, en la tercera etapa, por la proporción del recuento censal total a la suma de las ponderaciones de la segunda etapa para las personas en la muestra en cada grupo de la etapa III. Las tres etapas de ajuste se llevaron a cabo dos veces (dos repeticiones) en el orden presentado anteriormente. Las ponderaciones, obtenidas de la segunda repetición de la tercera etapa fueron asignadas a los records de las personas en la muestra. Sin embargo, para evitar complicaciones al redondear los datos tabulados, solamente se asignaron ponderaciones en números enteros. Por ejemplo, si la ponderación final para las personas en un grupo particular era 7.2, entonces a una quinta parte de las personas en la muestra en este grupo se le asignó, al azar, la ponderación de 8 y las restantes cuatro quintas partes recibieron una ponderación de 7.

Se derivaron ponderaciones separadas para tabular los datos sobre lugar de empleo y migración. Las ponderaciones se obtuvieron ajustando la ponderación derivada anteriormente para las personas listadas en los cuestionarios seleccionados para codificación, por el recíproco de la tasa de codificación del distrito de enumeración y un ajuste por proporción para asegurar que la suma de las ponderaciones y la cifra del recuento total de la población estuvieran de acuerdo.

El procedimiento de estimación por proporciones para unidades de vivienda fue esencialmente el mismo que se utilizó para las personas. La diferencia principal fue que el procedimiento de estimación por proporciones de las unidades de vivienda ocupadas se hizo en dos etapas y el procedimiento de estimación por proporciones de las unidades de vivienda desocupadas se hizo en una etapa. La primera etapa, para unidades de vivienda ocupadas, utilizó 16 categorías de tipo de hogar y la segunda, potencialmente, podría haber utilizado 19 grupos de tenencia/valor o alquiler. Para unidades de vivienda desocupadas, se utilizaron tres grupos. Las etapas del procedimiento de estimación por proporciones para unidades de vivienda fueron las siguientes:

UNIDADES DE VIVIENDA OCUPADAS

Etapa I—Tipo de Hogar

Grupo Unidades de Vivienda con una Familia con Hijos Propios Menores de 18 Años

Las estimaciones producidas por este procedimiento logran algunos de los beneficios de eficiencia muestral que hubieran resultado si la población hubiera sido estratificada en los grupos de estimación por proporciones antes del muestreo, y la tasa de muestreo se hubiera aplicado a cada grupo independientemente. El efecto neto es una reducción tanto en el error estándar como en el posible sesgo de la mayoría de las características estimadas a niveles por debajo de los que hubieran resultado del simple uso de la ponderación inicial (no-ajustada). Un subproducto de este procedimiento de estimación es que las estimaciones de la muestra serán, en la mayoría de los casos, consistentes con las cifras del recuento total para los grupos de población y unidades de vivienda utilizados en el procedimiento de estimación.

vivienda que anotaron. Las tarjetas fueron entregadas a las oficinas postales donde los carteros las revisaron y anotaron aquellas direcciones para las cuales había entrega de correo pero no había tarjeta. Las direcciones que faltaban se añadieron al listado censal de unidades de vivienda y luego fueron enumeradas.

- Para reducir aún más la subcobertura de las personas, se hizo una segunda revisión de las unidades de vivienda que inicialmente fueron clasificadas como desocupadas o inexistentes.

Error del Respondedor y del Enumerador—La persona que llena el cuestionario o que contesta las preguntas hechas por el enumerador puede introducir errores al ofrecer información incorrecta o incompleta. Para reducir esta fuente de error, las preguntas se frasearon lo más claramente posible, a base de los resultados de las pruebas censales hechas con anterioridad al censo y se le proporcionó a cada unidad de vivienda instrucciones detalladas sobre cómo contestar el cuestionario corto. Además, las respuestas del respondedor fueron revisadas para asegurar que fueran completas y consistentes, y se llevó a cabo un seguimiento según fue necesario. Por ejemplo, si las respuestas sobre grupo trabajador para una persona de 15 años o más estaban incompletas, los procedimientos de revisión de campo de los cuestionarios largos reconocían la situación y se hacía un intento de obtener la información.

El enumerador pudo haber malinterpretado o anotado incorrectamente la información proporcionada por el respondedor, pudo no haber obtenido parte de la información para una persona o unidad de vivienda o haber recopilado información para unidades de vivienda que no habían sido designadas como parte de la muestra. Para controlar estos problemas, el trabajo de los enumeradores fue verificado cuidadosamente. El personal a cargo de las operaciones de campo fue adiestrado mediante el uso de un adiestramiento uniforme que incluyó ejercicios prácticos en el uso de materiales censales. Además, el procedimiento de estimación

CONTROL DE ERRORES AJENOS AL MUESTREO

Como se discutió anteriormente, el error ajeno al muestreo está presente tanto en los datos de la muestra como en los datos del recuento total. Si se deja sin controlar, este tipo de error podría introducir sesgo grave en los datos, cuya variabilidad podría aumentar dramáticamente sobre aquella que resultaría exclusivamente del muestreo. Mientras que es imposible eliminar completamente el error ajeno al muestreo de una operación tan grande y compleja como el censo de Puerto Rico de 1980, el Negociado del Censo intentó controlar las fuentes de los errores ajenos al muestreo durante las operaciones de recopilación y elaboración de datos. Las fuentes primarias del error ajeno al muestreo y los programas establecidos para controlar este tipo de error se describen a continuación. El éxito de estos programas, sin embargo, dependió del grado hasta el cual se siguieron las instrucciones durante la toma del censo. Hasta donde sea posible, tanto los efectos de estos programas como la cantidad de error que permaneció después de su aplicación serán evaluados.

Subcobertura—Es posible que algunas unidades de vivienda o personas hayan sido omitidas completamente por el censo. Esta subcobertura de personas y unidades de vivienda puede introducir sesgos en los datos. A continuación se explican dos programas que fueron desarrollados para enfocar este problema importante.

- Los enumeradores llenaron una tarjeta de dirección para cada unidad de se diseñó para controlar los sesgos que podrían resultar de la recopilación de datos de unidades de vivienda que no habían sido designadas como parte de la muestra.

Error de Elaboración—Las muchas fases en la elaboración del censo representan fuentes potenciales para la introducción de errores ajenos al muestreo. La elaboración de los cuestionarios censales incluye la revisión en el campo, el seguimiento y el envío de los cuestionarios completados; la codificación manual de las repuestas escritas y la elaboración electrónica de los datos. Las diversas operaciones de campo, codificación y de computadora pasan por una serie de revisiones de control de calidad para asegurar que fueron llevadas a cabo correctamente.

Falta de Respuesta—La falta de respuestas a preguntas en particular en el cuestionario censal permite la introducción de sesgo en los datos, ya que las características de las personas que no respondieron no se han observado y pueden diferir de aquellas informadas por las personas que respondieron. Como resultado de esto, cualquier procedimiento de asignación utilizando datos de los respondedores podría no reflejar esta diferencia completamente ya sea al nivel de elemento (la persona o unidad de vivienda particular) o en el promedio. El minimizar la falta de respuesta proporciona alguna protección contra la introducción de sesgos grandes. Durante el censo, la falta de respuesta se redujo substancialmente durante las operaciones de campo mediante las varias operaciones de revisión y seguimiento dirigidas a obtener una respuesta para cada pregunta. Las características para las faltas de respuesta restantes después de esta operación fueron asignadas por la computadora utilizando datos informados sobre una persona o unidad de vivienda con características similares. El procedimiento de asignación se describe más detalladamente a continuación.

REVISIÓN DE DATOS INACEPTABLES

El objetivo de la operación de elaboración es el de producir una serie de estadísticas que describan el inventario de vivienda y la población lo más correcta y claramente posible. Para lograr este objetivo, ciertas anotaciones inaceptables fueron revisadas.

En el campo, los cuestionarios se revisaron por un empleado de oficina o enumerador para corregir omisiones o inconsistencias y, de ser necesario, se llevó a cabo un seguimiento para obtener la información que faltaba. Además, se llevó a cabo una revisión similar de los cuestionarios en la oficina central de elaboración. Sin embargo, como regla general, la revisión se llevó a cabo manualmente sólo cuando no podía ser hecha eficazmente por máquina.

Como uno de los primeros pasos en la revisión por máquina, la configuración de las marcas en la columna del cuestionario fue examinada electrónicamente para determinar si contenía información para una persona o unidad de vivienda o meramente marcas espurias. Si la columna contenía respuestas para por lo menos dos de las características básicas (parentesco, sexo, edad, estado civil), se deducía que las marcas representaban a una persona. En casos en los cuales dos o más de las características básicas estaban disponibles sólo para una porción de las personas en la unidad, otra información proporcionada por el enumerador en el cuestionario se utilizó para determinar el número total de personas. No se utilizaron nombres como criterio para determinar la presencia de una persona ya que el examen electrónico no distinguió las anotaciones hechas en el espacio para el nombre.

Después de haberse completado las operaciones de campo, se encontró (como se esperaba) que algunos cuestionarios no se habían contestado completamente o que ciertas partidas de información para una persona o para una unidad de vivienda particular eran inconsistentes con otra información en el cuestionario. Al igual que en censos anteriores, se utilizó la asignación de anotaciones aceptables en lugar de respuestas en blanco o anotaciones inaceptables. El procedimiento de asignación se basó en el uso de información proporcionada para otra persona o unidad de vivienda con características similares a aquellas de la persona o unidad de vivienda para la cual la asignación fue necesaria.

Por lo tanto, a una persona que fue enumerada como el hijo de 20 años del jefe de hogar, sin haberse indicado su

estado civil, se le asignó el mismo estado civil del último hijo elaborado en ese mismo grupo de edad. La asignación de códigos aceptables en lugar de espacios en blanco o anotaciones inaceptables aumenta la utilidad de los datos.

Los datos del censo de 1980 sobre las preguntas económicas tales como industria, ocupación, clase de trabajador, experiencia de trabajo e ingreso se elaboraron utilizando un sistema de asignación que asignó valores a las respuestas que faltaban en estas preguntas, según fuera necesario, utilizando un respondedor con características socioeconómicas similares. En el censo de 1970, la asignación de cada una de las partidas económicas se llevó a cabo separadamente; por lo tanto, los valores asignados podían haberse obtenido de más de un respondedor.

Antes de la asignación de todas las variables económicas, los registros de la computadora se clasificaron según características tales como sexo, parentesco, años de escuela completados y área geográfica. La operación de asignación se implementó de la siguiente manera:

1. La computadora almacenó en una serie de matrices, información económica proporcionada para las personas según características tales como edad, clasificación de impedimento, presencia de hijos propios, clasificación de veterano, clasificación de empleo, ocupación, industria, clasificación de clase de trabajador, experiencia de trabajo en 1979, nivel de ganancias en 1979, y valor de la propiedad o alquiler mensual.
2. Las anotaciones almacenadas en las varias matrices se retuvieron en la computadora sólo hasta que una próxima persona con la misma serie de características fuera elaborada por la computadora. Entonces las respuestas a las preguntas económicas de la próxima persona se almacenaban en lugar de aquéllas almacenadas anteriormente.
3. Cuando no se había contestado una o más de las preguntas económicas, o la respuesta era inaceptable, las variables asignadas a esta persona eran aquellas almacenadas en la matriz apropiada correspondiente a la última persona que de otra manera tenía la misma serie de características.

Apéndice D.—Exactitud de los Datos

El uso de este sistema único de asignación aseguró que la distribución de la asignación de variables económicas corres-

Censo De Puerto Rico — 1980

Un mensaje del Director del
Negociado del Censo de los Estados Unidos . . .

Si nuestra Nación ha de hacer frente con éxito a los muchos retos nacionales y locales que afrontamos, debemos, de tiempo en tiempo, hacer un inventario de nosotros mismos como pueblo. Este es el propósito del censo de 1980.

La necesidad esencial de un censo poblacional se reconoció casi 200 años atrás cuando se redactó la Constitución de los Estados Unidos. Según estipula el artículo 1, se han efectuado censos de la población de los Estados Unidos cada 10 años. Dentro del programa del Censo de Población y Vivienda de 1980, y de acuerdo al título 13, Código de los Estados Unidos, el Negociado del Censo de los Estados Unidos está llevando a cabo el censo de la población de Puerto Rico al día 1 de abril de 1980.

La ley bajo la cual se toma el censo protege la confidencialidad de sus respuestas. Por los próximos 72 años, o hasta el 1 de abril del año 2052, únicamente empleados juramentados del censo tienen acceso a los informes individuales y ninguna otra persona puede verlos.

Sus respuestas, al ser combinadas con las de otras personas, proveerán las estadísticas que necesitan los sectores públicos y privados, las escuelas, el comercio y la industria, el Gobierno Federal, el Gobierno de Puerto Rico y el Gobierno Municipal. Estas cifras aumentarán el entendimiento de cómo está cambiando la población y la vivienda puertorriqueña. De esta forma, podemos enfrentar más eficientemente los problemas del presente.

El censo es una actividad de vital importancia para Puerto Rico. Por favor, coopere contestando el cuestionario del censo correcta y completamente. Un enumerador del censo visitará su hogar dentro de varios días para recoger el cuestionario completado. Haga el favor de retener el cuestionario en un sitio seguro y conveniente hasta que el enumerador lo visite.

Pregunta 1:

Añote en la Pregunta 1

- Miembros de la familia que viven aquí, incluyendo bebés que aún están en el hospital
- Parientes que viven aquí.
- Pupilos o huéspedes que viven aquí
- Sirvientes o empleados que viven aquí
- Otras personas que viven aquí
- Estudiantes universitarios que viven aquí mientras asisten a la universidad, aunque sus padres vivan en otro lugar.
- Personas que regularmente viven aquí pero que están fuera de casa temporalmente (incluyendo niños que están en escuelas de internos de un nivel académico inferior al de universidad).
- Personas que tienen residencia en otro lugar pero que por razones de empleo se quedan aquí la mayor parte de la semana

No Añote en la Pregunta 1

- Cualquier persona ausente del hogar sirviendo en las Fuerzas Armadas.
- Cualquier estudiante universitario que se hospeda en otro lugar mientras asiste a la universidad
- Cualquier persona que generalmente se queda en otro lugar la mayor parte de la semana por razón de su empleo
- Cualquier persona que está recluida en una institución como un asilo de ancianos o un hospital para dementes.
- Cualquier persona que se queda aquí o que está visitando aquí pero que tiene su residencia habitual en otro lugar.

NOTA

Si todas las personas están aquí temporalmente y tienen residencia habitual en otro lugar, favor de marcar esta casilla .

Luego, por favor:

- conteste las preguntas en las páginas 2 a la 5, y
